QUICKEST METHOD TO RELIEVE A COLD

1. Take 2 Aspirin Tablets.

your and gargle. This eases the sorchess in

Follow Directions to Ease Pain and Discomfort Almost Instantly

When you have a cold, remember the simple treatment pictured here . . . prescribed by doctors everywhere today as the quick, safe way.

Because of Aspirin's quick-disintegrating property. Aspirin "takes hold"-almost instantly.

Just take Aspirin and drink plenty of water . . . every 2 to 4 hours the first day-less often afterward . . . If throat is sore, use the Aspirin gargle.

But be sure you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin Tablet. Aspirin is the trade mark of the Bayer Company, Limited.

THE HEART

WINGSOF FORTUNE

LESLIE BERESFORD

"What do you mean by saying 1. nothing should be done about it?" she demanded of John Christopher. "It's my uncle's last will and testament, and it's in your favour. I tell you that Florrie has it. She must be made to give it up so that you can come into the money."

"Supposing I don't want to come into it?" John Christopher laughed. "There's been far too much trouble caused over that will already, and I'm not having any more made, Sylvia. I don't care a hang who has the wretched thing, I never want to hear of it again, anyhow."

Just then, through the open windows, came th roar and splutter of approaching motors, warting blasts from klaxons. Brilliant headlights, as the cars swung in at the Villa gates, flung dazzling shafts athwart the velvet blackness of the night. Two large, shining shapes drew up outside, uniformed police emerging from them.

At the same moment the d'Abbat. tos and the other detectives returned to the room, obtiously ready to leave. It seemed to Sylvia that, all of a sudden, the room became full of uniformed men, completely surrounding the pale and downcast faces of their four prisoners, commencing to hustle them out to the waiting cars.

While she was watching this, the touch of a cold hand on hers made stay with me, come to England with her start and turn, to find Florrie standing by her side tears shining in | and you'd soon get one. You must her large, black eyes.

"I'll say good bye to you, .. Miss 'Sylvia!" she was saying, in a voice which she tried to keep calm.

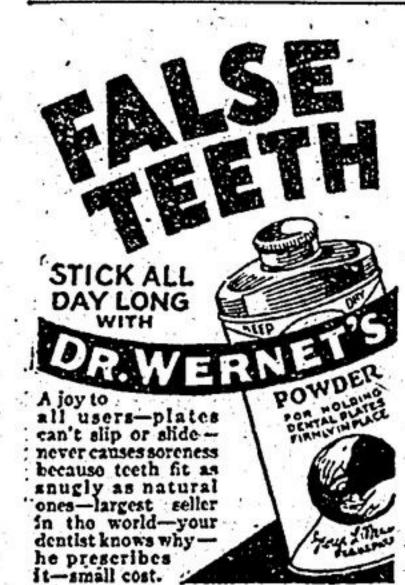

at her, wandering. "Whatever you mean? Where do you think you're going then?"

"With them of course, Miss!" sho motioned over her shoulder towards the departing Paula and Tony, "With him, anyhow. Where he goes, I go too, stands to reason."

"But-he's going to Shanghai and -to prison!" Sylvia reminded her, startled.

Florrie nodded her sleek head, shrugged her shoulders.

"I'll go to Shanghai, too!" she said. "Go there and bide near where he's in prison, waiting for him. And when he comes out-maybe, Miss, he'll have had, enough then and be ready to go straight. Ill be there to help him, if that's his mind," "And if it isn't?"

Issue No. 3—'35

DOES NOT HARM

"Then I'll go crook with him, So long as I'm with him, it doesn't matter. I told you that back in Monte

Miss Sylvia, Good or bad, I love him so much as that!" "And yet-" Sylvia stared at her, marvelling "-it isn't an hour since that-out on that road-he' was threatening to kill you-"

"Would have done, too, Miss, it hadn't been for you caling out. when you did and coming to my help Which rominds me-"

She had suddenly thrust searching fingers in at the neck of her frock, bringing out a folded paper, which she pushed hurriedly into Sylvia's

"It may seem a queer way of being grateful to you for saving me from being killed," she went on under her breath, "by giving you what's going to take your fortune from you. But there it is. And I just couldn't do less."

"Thank you, Florrie!" Sylvia leaned forward and kissed that scarlet tragic mouth. "As Mr. Fellowes said just now, here's been more than enough trouble about that piece of paper. It's been no good to me, the fortune I thought was mine, and I'll gladly get rid of it.

"But I'm not letting you go at all gladly, Florrie!" she added, clinging to the girl's hand. "I don't like it a bit. Surely-surely you could me. I shall be looking for a job there, little lady!"

"Not if I owned all the money in the world, Miss Sylvia dear," the other shook her head. "Where my "Good-bye, Florie?" Sylvia stared man goes, I go too. I've arranged that with Mr. Weston, the detective"

Next moment she had followed Paula and Tony with their escort out into the night. Sylvia was left, that fateful will in her hand, the Ky., made an offer to marry any wings of-fortune which belonged to John Christopher, whether he want a week and is going begging. ed them or not.

Less of them was Sylvia thinking at this moment, as Florrie followed the man she loved. In that she felt, Florrie and she were on common ground, both loving without hope of being loved in return.

CHAPTER XXI

"And now," she heard John Christopher saying, when, some few minutes later, the whole bustle of departure was over, and the villa had resumed again its usual unbroken quiet, "we must fix you up elsewhere for the night. You can't possibly stay on here alone, now the others have gone."

"Oh, why not?" Sylvia turned to him, "I shan't quite be alone, There are servants."

"Maybe, but that's not enough. Vanderduyl's coming to stay over at Spiza, when we've fetched his things from the inn. You'd better collect your belongings and come too."

But that did not suit Sylvia's ideas at all. For one thing, she couldn't stay a single hour at that Hydro hotel, while Stella Darlingford was there too. She had no wish to see any more of John Christopher now, either, if it could be avoided. And it could. It could be avoided by the plan which already she had begun to form a plan made necessary because of the will which Florrie had returned to her, at this moment held behind her back out of John Christopher's [ sight. She knew, from what he had earlier said so definitely, that it would be sheer waste of time to expect him. 43 to do anything about that will. That would all have to be done by her. behind his back, and without his knowledge. And that could only hoppen by refusing this embarrassing offer of his.

"Thanks all the same!" she shook her head, "But I much prefer to stay where I am. I Sall be quite all right here, John, You and Mr. Vanderduyl don't need to worry a single moment about me."

And no argument John Christo-Still less would she have them stay intercollegiate debating. at the inn, as was then proposed, her own purposes. John Christopher.

will be safer company than the company I've had here till tonight. please leave me to know my own mind."

"Right. I'll be along in the morn. ing and make sure you're allright, find out what your going to do!" John Christopher grudgingly agreed in the end.

Exactly what Sylvia did not propose he should discover till it was too late? She watched him go presently, with wistful eyes and a terrible heartache, realising that it must be her last sight of him, for her sake at least.

And then when he and Vanderduyl had vanished into the night, wasted not a moment over her arrangements. In less than an hour, all her belongings had been packed. placed in Tony's car, which had been brought from the garage, and-with Sylvia at its wheel-it- was making its way down the mountain which earlier in the evening she had taken afoot.

She had to take her risks as to the road and its dangers, but somehow she overcame them. The night. if very dark was at least fine, and the road-after some time - grew broader and less difficult. Nor did she experience, as she had been inclined to fear, any trouble at the frontler, travelling alone and at such an unusual hour

Morning found her, refreshed by a bath and an hour's sleep, sitting down to breakfast on the sunlit terrace of the Villa Savini. To the surprised servants she offered no explanation concerning Paula and Tony merely telling them that she had come back alone on urgent busi-

Which was true enough, anyhow, and it took her in the car directly after breakfast, telling herself that, by now. John Christopher would probably be with Stella Darlingford over at Spiza, having forgotten all his overnight anxiety about herself. And she headed the car for the English bank, where John Christopher had broken to Tony and herself the misleading news that old Luke Massingham's money had disappeared,

This time it really was to disappear, so far as Sylvia was concerned. That was her intention when she drew up the car outside the bank and went in, asking to see the

"So our good friend, Mr. Fellowes proved a false prophet, after a

(To Be Continued)

Ima Bear Says She's Willing And Ready To Wed

Jack Louis Brown of Louisville, woman who could earn at least $18

Publication of the offer so far has brought only two replies. One, which Jack regarded as a burlesque, from "Ima Bear," describing herself as an elderly female willing and ready to wed; the other from fatherly person advising him not to "surrender," because women "still physically and intellectually inferior to men."

College Students Prefer Ingenues

Don't Encourage Co-Eds To Acquire General Knowledge

An editorial in Varsity. Toronto University Magazine, headed, "Are pher or the other could produce the Women to Blame?" scores femcould make her alter her decision, inine students for lack of interest in

"Women from other colleges come "Why should you disturb your here, no more intelligent, no better selves about me?" she laughed a informed than our own, but buoyed little impatiently, weary of being by the knowledge that it means pressed, anxious as well that they something to their University should go and leave her free for whether they win or not. It is one of the events of the year. Here, out "Because you ought not to be left of a possible 6.000, perhaps 100 unhere without company!" _ frowned | dergraduates are even aware that an intercollegiate debate is taking "At any rate," she shrugged, "lit place. When our women come to speak, they represent the interest Do felt by the University and the result is inevitable. "What we need is more complete realization of the value of debating for women, more work put into it, greater co-operation from the men. Then we may get somewhere. Try to talk to the average University girl of questions of national or international importance, and she will turn in a bored manner to discuss her new party dress. Why? Because she has found that she can make a it. far greater hit with friends of the sounds at them than by displaying her knowledge of the situation

Europe. "And if men are possessed greater oratorical accomplishments they are in no way disposed to b generous with them. The other day one of the men's debating clubs discussed the question of admitting women to their debates. The motion was defeated. They were afraid the presence of women would turn their meeting into 'pink teas.' 'Gentlemen prefer' ingenues."

Traces Alphabet Back To 1400 B.C

Two new theories regarding ancestry of the alphabet held attention of Bible research students at a meet ing of the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis in New York.

mines in the Sinai Desert some years ago have been hailed as an important early link in the alphabet's family tree. The age of this alphabet has been estimated at 1800 or 2000 B.C. It has been speculated that the Phoenician alphabet, wellknown grandfather of modern let-I ters, may trace its ancestry back to these Sinai tablets.

Taking issue with this view, T. W. alphabet was descended, not from Sinai, but directly from the alphabet of Ras Shamra and is estimated | The successful person is he who to date from 1400 B.C.

The Ras Shamra alphabet, said Mr. Rosmarin, developed from characters of Babylonian cuneiform writing. His theory would have our al-Ontario Accidents phabet stem from Babylonia, rather than from Egypt where the Sinai miners got their picture signs for their alphabet.

A new Viennese theory regarding the language of the Sinai inscriptions was explained by Prof. Romain Butin, of the Catholic University of America. This Viennese, Dr. J. Lei bovitch; declares the Sinai alphabet was devised, not by people speaking a Semitic language as is generally believed, but by Hamitic people, like the Egyptians.

Brunette, Blue-eyed "Cave Men' Co-eds' Choice

Murray, Ky. - Co-eds prefer "men who are men." Big broad shouldered "cave men" who would "be the boss." A poll of women students at Murray State Teachers' College revealed. Blonde men ran second to the black haired, blue eyed type, and red heads were out of the ## Salada Orange Pekoc Blend will prove a sheer delight to lovers of fine tea.

SALADA TEA

What Does Your Handwriting Show? By GEOFFREY ST. CLAIR

(Graphologist) All Rights Reserved.

Anything and everything that you what your strong points are so that you can develop them; you weak

ARE, not as you would like to be, or as you THINK you are. Then you can get to work, and make the most all those who are in a single group?

The answer to this is simple. Even all doctors are not built alike-they vary in mood, temper, characteristics

-one doctor may be a quiet, bashful type, whilst another is an aggressive abrupt type. So these differing characteristics express themselves in the writing of these people.

It is very true that certain essential similarities may be found in the writing of most doctors-to take this group alone-but their general handwriting differs just as their natures

Would YOU like to have YOUR handwriting analysed? And would you like to know what your friends are really like? Send specimens of the writing you wish to be analysed, stating birthdate in each case. Send 10c coin for each specimen, and enclose with a 3c stamped, addressed envelope, to. Geoffrey St. Clair,

Graphologist, Room 421, 73 Adelaide

Street West, Toronto, Ont. All letters are confidential, and replies will be forwarded as soon as possible.

ologist.

(Editor's Note: More and more, who leaves no stone unturned to inpeople are learning the hidden truths crease his knowledge and power. about themselves-their characters and potentialities-through Character do, or wish to do depends on your Analysis from Handwriting. Have character. So it is essential that you know just what you CAN do: YOU? - Read the author's invitation in the following article.)

Several letters have reached me traits so that you may either elimsomething of the background that acteristics, or cultivate and streng- people wanted something to occupy makes Graphology so useful and ex- then them, if they are potentially their leisure time. act a science, and in this article I valuable. will deal with one or two angles of male persuasion by making cooing Times Magazine said: "The nerves a picture of the real YOU, as you Leaf Clover," which has since been at the extreme finger-tips are extraordinarily sensitive, and traces grey matter, similar to that in the brain, may be found," And Robert of yourself, Saudek, a prominent European cryptologist, declared that "Handrwriting is really a misnomer; it should be called BRAINWRITING." This is because the impulse and motive power come from the brain. Handwriting is no mere muscular act. If you think it is, try to write a letter whilst reading a book!

It often appears to the ordinary person, when a graphologict gives an accurate character delineation from handwriting, that he is a regular magician. Nothing would be further from the truth. As I have said before, it is simply a scientific evaluation of the indications revealed to the practiced graphological eye, by the handwriting specimen.

I have often been asked of wha practical value is it to, anyone to Inscriptions found at turquoise have their character analyzed from their handwriting. It is just as practical to ask anyone of what use is it to learn more about his business or profession. Your character - is the foundation on which any progress you make is based. If you are successful, either in achieving wealth or gaining happiness, then your inner nature is re sponsible. The person with a sluggish mentality-who is too inert or indolent to go to the trouble of mak-Rosmarin declared the Phoenician ing real use of the powers and capabilities within him-rarely gets any makes the fullest use of the capa cities that have been given to him;

Found

Increased

"I have never thought that Anglo-American co-operation must depend on the existence of any treaty be-

Toronto-A summary of figures for the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario-for 1934, released recently shows a total of 54,730 accidents during the year as compar ed with 38,042 reported for 1933. Fatal accidents totaled 276, as compared with 226 the year previous.

The total benefits awarded during the year amounted to $4,499,707.25 in comparison with $3,699,088.95 in

-Are You Rundown, Tired?

said: "About five years ago I was terribly runcouldn't sleep or eat, lost strength, and my weight first bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I felt much better, had more strength and better digestion."

New size, tablets 50 cents, liquid $1.00.

Large size, tablets or liquid, $1.35.

tween our Governments."-Sir Ronald Lindsay. ROUGH HANDS FROM

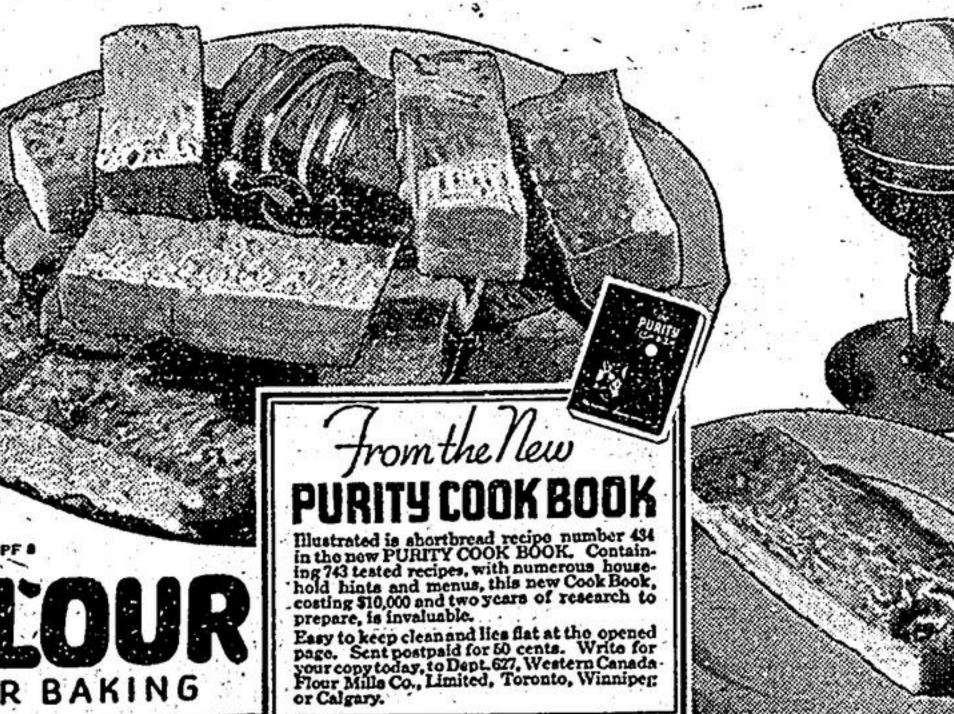

· During the season of the year when friends delight to drop in unexpectedly is a time you'll appreciate the great all-purpose value of PURITY FLOUR. Not only does it make delicious shortbread-always a favorite with the unexpected guest-but it is truly the flour which is best for all your baking. Whether you are making light, tasty cakes, delicious flaky pastries, or more staple baking, such as bread or rolls, you'll find the uniformly high quality of PURITY an asset in your kitchen. Each bag maintained at the same high level, through careful selection of hard spring. wheat in Western Canada by our representatives. Buy a bag of PURITY FLOUR at your grocer's. You'll find one brandand that PURITY-all you need to keep in your kitchen for all kinds of baking.

BEST FOR ALL YOUR BAKING

Young People . Needed Guidance

Little Girl's Question Started Jessie Beattie on New Line Of Public Service

Toronto.—As a result of a spark ignited by a 10-year-old girl one year ago, Miss Jessie L. Beattie today is director of rural recreation for the Community Welfare Council of Ontario,

The trail that led Miss Beattie to the position began in the village of Blair while she was teaching three girls privately.

"You don't live here, do you?" one of the children asked her one

"Why, Mary?" Miss Beattle ask-"Of course, I know you eat and sleep here but you don't really live here," the child answered, Miss Beattie looked at her'for a moment and then replied, "I don't believe I do." She realized she wasn't taking any part in community activities and decided to enquire from readers who desire to know inate them, if they are negative char- about them. She found the young A firm believer in the amateur Graphology helps you to KNOW play as one of the best means of de-YOURSELF. It tells the truth, with- velopment and entertainment com-Sometime ago, the Physicians' out any frills or favor. It will paint bined, Miss Beattie wrote the "Four produced by innumerable rural communnity dramatic groups. She called the young people together and rehearsals soon began.

This is a very essentia and practi-The play was a success, A library cal science—and large numbers of was started with the proceeds and a people are daily realizing the value dramatic club was formed. Organof finding out the truth about themizations in other communities where selves, through the eye of a graphleisure time programs were not realized asked for help and sugges-I have been asked if handwriting tions. An editor suggested the Comshows character and abilities, how is munity Welfare Council might be init that all doctors do not write the same, and all artists, and, similarly,

Miss Beattie went to council officials who told her they had been looking for almost two years for someone of rural extraction and with a keen interest in promoting cultural recreation. She was appointed almost immediately.

Since taking the position, Miss Beattie, author of two books of verse and a novel, has been swamped with requests from rural clubs for assistance, some coming from as far west as Saskatchewan, others from Quebec and Northern Ontario, and hasn't an open date until the end of March.

The Community Welfare Council, which is financed by subscriptions, will send Miss Beattie to any community in Ontario that desires her services for organization or development of leisure time of young

Liquid Diet

The "cold" season is upon us. And please forget that old "feed a cold and starve a fever" adage before it does harm to your small sufferers.

The moment your child begins to sniffle, take his temperature. This definitely informs you juts how "hard" his cold is and you can choose his diet with all the facts in hand. If the thermometer registers above normal keep the child in bed and give a liquid diet. It might be better to call the doctor, for the first symptoms of many children's diseases seem to be "just a cold."

VARY LIQUID DIET A liquid diet may be fun if' you take a little pains with the broths and soups, cereal gruels; raw eggs combined with-milk and fruit inices, and cocoa.

If there is no temperature try a light, easily digested diet. Children of school age need nourishing food, but no meat when in bed and little sugar. Vegetables, fruits, eggs and milk will do for a day or two.

When there is a cough, avoid dry foods. In this case, all the semisolid foods that "slip down" easily are suitable.

Finally, when the cold is broken, diet of higher-than-ordinary caloric value should be supplied to help the body repair the ravages. This means easily digested fats-butter, cream. bacon and olive oil-with generous use of eggs, milk and fruit. Keep them on building-up diet until all traces of the cold are gone.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

The following light menu for a day may help you in planning others. Breakfast: Orange juice or tomato juice, well cooked cereal, cream, crisp toast, milk.

Supper: Lamb broth with barley, shredded lettuce with French dressing, whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, baked apple with cream

Items: Be sure the bread is cut thin and toasted slowly for the breakfast toast; the French dressing for the lettuce salad should be made with lemon juice and olive oil; fruit sherbets, ice cream, custards, gelatines and whips belong on the easily digested diet.

Some districts of England and Wales have not been officially surveyed for mapping purposes for forty