A tapestry couch for sale, also child's crib. Apply Mrs. B. Tait.

The power barons of Quebec are learning that the power consumers of Ontario demand honor too!

I am anxious to secure orders for washing automobiles. Work done on quick notice. A. Maskell, Stouffville.

Holden's spring sale of used cars should be interesting. Its on now and every day, so, read the conditions of sale on page 8.

Laid up for several weeks with a bad ankle, Mrs. Tidy got permission from the doctor to attend her mother's funeral, in the city, this week.

Mr. Jos. Borinsky's brother Norman who is a partner in a busy law practise in Toronto, has been honored with an appointment by Hon. A. W. Robuck, as one of the assistant crown attorneys acting in the women's court.

The tulips are springing up along the south wall, and bulbs for spring planting are on the move. It is said that the quality of bulbs purchased by local flower lovers has been larger than ever, and mostly of a quality superior to the common run. This augurs well for the fall show.

Consult the label on your paper and see that your subscription is paid.

Farmers and others will find the classified adv. column a cheap and convenient way to sell stock, or grain. Try an adv. in The Tribune.

Jimmie Young, former Stouffville boy, and one-time newspaperman in Uxbridge, was in town last week for the funeral of his brother Almer.

Mr. Gordon Stephens, who is attending McMaster University, at Hamilton, was in town over the weekend visiting old friends.

Electric range for sale in excellent condition, 3 elements and oven, and 30 feet of cable. Snap for quick sale. Noah Baker.

Dr. D. C. Smith and Mr. E. M. Still were among the seventeen thousand fans at Arena Gardens, Toronto, on Saturday evening, for the Stanley Cup game. Of course there were others from here of the younger fry, but the professional man and the bank manager were examples of how varied and representative those arena crowds are:

The Business Men's bible Class of the town has closed down for the summer season, that is the regular Sunday afternoon service in Oddfellows' Hall is cancelled until fall. The members held a social evening in their rooms on Wednesday as a farewell party for the season.

Mr. Wm. Ratcliff, the timber King of Whitchurch has taken out more than 800 cords of wood from his timber limits in north Whitchurch this past winter. Employment was given to no less than 30 men in the winter season when work was very scarce, thus this Ringwood farmer was a man to be appreciated in the community.

Rev. W. A. Cameron, Presbyterian minister of Weyburn, Sask., and Dr. Gordon Cameron of Toronto University, visited their uncle Dr. D. C. Smith on Saturday last. Rev. W. A. Cameron came East last week, to have the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred on him by Knox College. Rev. Mr. Cameron will be remembered by a number who heard him preach in the Presbyterian church here, on two occasions, a number of years ago.

Those city folk enjoy poking fun at the farmer for his unpolished ways when he is in the city, but its not without a return compliment; as it were when the "Belle of the City" comes to the country. One of the best we have heard comes from west of town, and its not only funny, but true. A city lady gazing at the sap buckets on the trees, declared that never before had she been privileged to see the maple syrup coming right from the trees, and now she had her wish gratified.

Our neighboring village of Markham paid a relief account for the month of March of $317, of which $100 was for the care of transient people, of those "Knights of the Road" who wander over the land aimlessly. By the tone of the Markham press the visitors in March were not entirely welcome but the council kept them just the same. No doubt Markham being near No. 7 highway, are better patronized by the wayfarers than such villages as Stouffville which is off the main thoroughfare.

Mr. Mel. Yake of Deckerville, Mich., was in town last week looking up old friends, and visiting his uncle Abram who is over 90 years old and the oldest man in the village, and uncle Jacob the youngest of the family, and one time Jeweler, but who is now in very poor health living near the 10th concession on Main street. Mel. came out with John Yake of Toronto who is a son of Ab. He went to school here with Frank Rae who is the only school chum still in the old town in business.

Almer C. Young, whose body was brought here for burial last week, he being an old Stouffville boy, was accorded a funeral under Loyal Orange Lodge auspices. In addition to his own Toronto lodge, the ladies of the True Blue Association also attended and participated in the obsequies. Numerous old friends and acquaintances of the family from about town assembled at the cemetery to await the arrival of the funeral from Toronto, which was carried out as announced in this paper last issue.

Rev. Robt. Young, former pastor of the Presbyterian and United churches in Stouffville, was in town last week, and closed a contract with G. W. Baker of Gormley for the erection of a new residence which Mr. and Mrs. Young hope to occupy when he completes his active ministry. Mr. Young has procured a lot on north Church street from Mr. Arthur Downswell, and will build something along the style of the new house recently erected by Mr. Frank Rowbotham at the entrance to the park. The new structure will be of cement block and stucco. Work is to be rushed, and the house ready for occupancy in the summer.

popular event at this season. Mr.

houses was again acting as one of the judges on roses, while his own plant carried off one first and four second prizes in the sweet pea classes. The fashion parade was witnessed by two thousand spectators on one evening of the show.

The Vancouver Daily Province, refers to the death of Dr. Harry P.
Millard, an old Newmarket boy, who died on March 14, as announced in this paper, as one of the most noted and respected figures in the Comox district when he was actively engaged in professional work. Born in Newmarket a son of Robert Millard, he died at age of 76. He went direct to the coast (Vancouver Island) from college as a young man, and practised medicine in the mining district for years. Since his retirement a few years ago he resided in Vancouver. He was a member of the Masonic order, and is survived by his wife, a son Geo. and a daughter Christine, as well as a brother George at Newmarket. His daughter is a recent graduate of the B.C. University. Mrs. George Robinson of Stouffville was an aunt to the deceased.

"The first time the editor of this paper met L. M. Montgomery, author of the famous Anne books, that lady was in a bad predicament.
She was driving a black pony hitched to a buggy, when the snappy creature shook off its bridle and came plunging down Main street. Ye editor was able to bring the animal to a halt, when we were to meet the new-comer to Uxbridge where we were then located. She had only recently been married to Rev. E. McDonald a Presbyterian minister at Leaskdale, and was at the time a stranger in the town.
Many of her splendid books have been written since that day, and it is with pleasure that we note the Stanley Theatre has secured for the screen showing of Thursday to Saturday, April 18, 19 and 20, "Anne of Green Gables." If you have read the book you'll want to see the picture. Its, clean wholesome and refreshing entertainment.

Monday evening the Woman's Study Club entertained the husbands of the members to a supper.
Mrs. Herbert Freel president, presided over the program. The toast to the club was proposed by the Rev. Thos. Laidlaw, and responded to by Mrs. S. S. Ball. Mrs.
Stanley Hastings proposed the toast to the guests which was responded to by Dr. Herbert Freel.
Mrs. Thos. Laidlaw, Mrs. Robt Leslie and Miss Anna Lehman favored the guests with musical selections. Later in the evening, a jolly time was spent in playing games.

In aid of crippled children, charity and benevolence, Mrs.
Barker, wife of Dr. E. S.
Barker organized the sale of seal books in town for the Shriners.
You tear off the seal and pay the amount called for which may be nothing or 50c. There is also a name under the seal, and if you draw the lucky name a valuable prize is yours. Murray Holden was fortunate in drawing the name "Pansey" for it won for him a handsome wrist watch, while Sam Armstrong drew a nice military brush.
Miss Helen Todd sold the lucky draw to Murray. For her interest in selling the book Mrs. Barker was presented with a beautiful blanket.
