KEEN COMPETITION OVER NOMINATION SET THIS FRIDAY

East York Residents Watching Contest For Liberal Honors With Much Interest

As the date for the East York Liberal Convention draws near speculation grows more keen as to the chances of various aspirants, and all East York Riding is keenly watching the contest for the honor of carrying the Liberal banner in the next Federal election.

There are five candidates definitely in the field, and others have been mentioned as surprises for May 3rd. But it is generally conceded that the candidate will be selected from among those who have already announced themselves and have been addressing meetings through the Riding for several months.

At least four of the candidates express optimism, and each of the four are willing to name a second, third, fourth and fifth choice but with the rank and file of Liberal members, few will do more than bet on their favorite.

All candidates are by this time very well known, and some have been in the limelight for many years. Dennis McCarthy, a former Deputy Reeve of the Township, and Alexander McGregor K.C., have both previously carried the Liberal banner in East York, Goldy Fleming, F. W. Rayfield and James Coughlin, K.C., are newcomers in the East York election circles, but Mr. Coughlin was a candidate on several occasions in other constituencies.

Respective Candidate Claims

Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Rayfield claim residency in the Riding and although Mr. McGregor does not live in East York, he is probably one of the largest property owners in the Township, and has devoted much time in the interests of the taxpayers of the Township. Besides his personal ability, his strong card is that he carried the load for the Liberal party on two successive occasions over heavy roads, when none other was in sight to do it. Reward for past favors is a just and strong card of Mr. McGregor's.

Mr. Fleming, for many years resided in the northern sections of the Riding. Mr. Coughlin has been associated with East York affairs for many years as a builder, and has been a strong advocate of development along residential lines. On several occasions he has taken a hand in the East York Municipal Election campaigns.

Dennis McCarthy has been in the tin-smithing business for many years. Alex McGregor is recognized as having attained a high standing in the legal profession. Goldy Fleming is a progressive business man with considerable interest in several manufacturing concerns. Mr. Rayfield is a teacher, lecturer and writer. Mr. Coughlin in addition to being a lawyer, carries on a considerable real estate development business.

All the candidates are strong in their advocacy of the Liberal principles and hopeful for the return of the Liberal party at the next election. Such popular planks as the equalization of the good things of life, senate reform, freer trade, lower tariffs and all pin their faith on Mackenzie King as Canada's hope, and all express confidence that in the event of their selection as standard bearer the Liberals will be victorious in East York on election day.

The Convention will be held in Danforth Park School on Friday, May 3rd, with some 600 delegates on hand.

86-YEAR-OLD CITIZEN IS DEAD

Veteran Farmer of Ontario County near Uxbridge. Experiences Beautiful Passing From Mortal Life.

Like a clock slowly running down, ticking off the moments with but tardy precision, our Church street resident, George Cox, breathed his last early Saturday evening. He was in his 86th year, and was not ill, but three weeks ago, and remained there most of the time, growing weaker and weaker, but without pain or discomfort until Saturday he passed over the Great Divide from whence no man ever returned.

George Cox was a successful and outstanding farmer in the community where he tilled the soil. Born in Manvers Township, a son of one Ralph Cox who came from Belfast, Ireland, early in the century. George as a young man united in marriage with Elizabeth McKee, and the couple started farming in the Township of Reach. In 1907 they located on a fine place at Leaskdale in Scott Township where they remained until they retired to Stouffville seven years ago.

Mr. Cox was an admirer of good stock, and would raise no other. He drove only good horses, and altogether was a high class farmer.

Besides his devoted life partner who is now in her 83rd year, deceased is survived by an only daughter, Miss Mildred at home, and by three sons, Eli Cox, C.N.R. agent at Coldwater, Nathan on the 8th concession of Pickering, and Elmer on the 6th concession of Scott. The family revered and held their aged father in great respect. Mr. Cox, although of retiring nature, was a keen thinker, and student of world and local political events. He was an ardent Conservative, and in religion a Presbyterian.

The funeral on Tuesday afternoon proceeded to the Foster cemetery in Scott Twp. for interment in charge of L. E. O'Neill's Undertaking parlors. The service at the late home was conducted by Rev. Erven McDonald, of Toronto, and family pastor at Leaskdale for long years. Mr. McDonald is the husband of the well known authoress, L. M. Montgomery who wrote the Ann books.

REMEMBER

The Oratoria "The Prodigal Son" to be presented in the auditorium of the United Church, on the evening of Friday, May 3rd at 8:15. Those taking the solo parts are: Miss Luella Gayman, soprano, Mrs. C. E. Dillstone, of Guelph, contralto, Mr. Carl Bowdway, tenor, Mr. Ward Hallman, baritone. These artists are all favorites in our community, and well fitted to do full justice to the exacting solo work. Mrs. Dillstone has been heard here on several previous occasions, and her charming personality and lovely voice has made her a very welcome visitor. Silver collection.

TENDERS INVITED ON HALL EXTENSION

Following a special meeting of Whitchurch Township Council, to consider plans for a proposed extension to the Community Hall at Vandorf, for use as a clerk's office and vault, tenders are being invited.

The plans call for a one story addition to the east end of the building to be made into two rooms, one of which will be fire proof for storing the valuable papers and documents of the municipality.

That there is real need for a safer place or method of housing these papers and books is apparent to all who know the situation. Increased work of municipal clerks also necessitates office accommodation so the both matters are to be considered carefully when the tenders close on May 5th.

JACOB YAKE WAS A SON OF PIONEER STOCK

The ranks of the early pioneers and the sons of pioneers are fast dwindling, and on Saturday evening last another was added to the ever lessening role, when Jacob Yake died at the Brierbush Hospital, aged 78 years. He had been in failing health for a number of years, and although three or four days before he died he managed to totter down town, he was nearing his end when he had to be assisted to his boarding house at the Brillinger home. Later he was taken to the local hospital.

Jake, as he was so familiarly known by, was the second youngest son of eight born to John and Susan Kester, his wife. The father died in 1900, and the mother in 1920, and in fact all the sons are dead now with the exception of Abram who is bedfast at his home almost opposite the Presbyterian church. He is 94 years old, and was the second son born of the eight mentioned.

Jacob learned the Jewelry trade and later entered into business here, which for a time was prosperous. He was twice married, his first wife being Nancy Russell, a cousin of the late David Russell. Two children were born to them, both of whom are dead. His second wife was a Collingwood woman, and she two is dead. The death of his daughter, and of his son Adam, both suddenly, were a heavy blow to the father, who noticeably failed from that time.

The late Mr. Yake was buried on Tuesday morning from L. E. O'Neill's parlors to Stouffville cemetery, the nearest relative, a granddaughter Mrs. Brownscombe of Hamilton being present, along with other relatives and friends.

SOUGHT FIRST HAND KNOWLEDGE

Visit Paid to Homes of Unemployed Convicts Premier That Relief Allowance is too Small

Hail Hepburn, we who have criticized you salute you!

The action of Premier Hepburn and his two aide-de-camps, Croll and Roebuck, in paying a personal visit to homes of unemployed citizens of nearby municipalities marks a forward step in the history of Cabinet ministers.

The announcement that Hon. Mitchell Hepburn is of the opinion that more food should be provided on relief vouchers is in itself an answer to the many "holter than thou" critics of our unfortunate unemployed. Whilst we must admit that there are chisellers calling themselves unemployed, we hope sincerely that the Ontario Premier's studied opinion may result in badly needed augmentation of the scant rations dealt out to thousands of deserving citizens, and we hope still further that he and his conferees may realize the urgent need of making some way for the willing bread winner to get an opportunity to be just that.

However that may be, we write, with hats in hand, to give to "Mitch" the honor due to one holding high office, who has had the courage and common sense to leave the softness of the official stuff over, and go see for himself.

Many smaller fry in the legislative field might well follow the example set, for verily neither second hand knowledge, nor cold statistics, can ever paint the picture of the agony in a good man's home where poverty holds sway.

In an age when we almost despair of common sense in politics, we thank Premier Hepburn for this little ray of hope.

CLARK REIMBURSED ON WITHDRAWAL OF PADGET CASE

Mr. W. L. Clark who unsuccessfully contested the reeveship of Markham last January, and later brought suit to unseat Reeve Geo. Padgett, his opponent, requests us give the detail of the settlement of this case, now withdrawn from court.

"I consented to a withdrawal owing to the lateness in the year, and because settlement could be made without any costs to the township, said Mr. Clark. I'm not saying where the money came from, but my solicitors received it from Mr. Lucas who with Aubrey Bond acted for Mr. Padgett."

Mr. Clark says the offer of settlement came from the other side and the cheque for $140 which he holds proves it. The public may draw their own conclusions, declared Mr. Clark who exhibited a cheque attached to a letter written him by his solicitors Denton & Denton as follows:—

Dear Mr. Clark: We are enclosing to you herewith our cheque for $137.70 being $140 received by us from Mr. Lucas, less our disbursements of $2.30.

Mr. Padgett had been reported as denying having paid anything to settle the case, and Mr. Clark proves he was paid $140 to consent to settlement, thus the dispute.

RINGWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoover were Oshawa visitors on Saturday.

Louis Brownsberger who spent the winter with his son Earl in Winnipeg has returned to his home

Most of the fall wheat in this section is being ploughed up, not enough surviving the severe winter to warrant leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson, of Lisle and Mr. and Mrs. Fraser of Cregmore were recent visitors at D. V. Wilsons.

Mrs. Ira Grove and Master Carl spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hare, ninth line, Markham.

Dixon Hill's house of knowledge is crowded to capacity, there being over fifty on the roll. This we hear is one of the largest attendance of pupils in a rural one roomed school in this district.

It is rumored that our Mr. W. Jacobs sr. is moving to Toronto, where one of his married daughters resides. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs every good thing wherever their abode may be.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sinclair also Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barrett attended the Mendelssohn Choir and Symphony Orchestra Concert in Maple Leaf Gardens on Tuesday evening last.

The first spring rain of any duration was received in Monday when an all day downpour watered the dry land and washed the winter dirt and grime off grass and trees, making nature take on a more brilliant costume.

O. Hancock should have an extra early crop of peas this year, as he reports having one and half acre of garden peas up through the ground. We hope Jack Frost does not put in an appearance any more this spring.

A big crowd will be looked for at the Ringwood Church, on Friday night, May 10th, to hear the programme rendered by the Kinsmen Quartette and some special talent from Toronto. Their services are always much appreciated.

Mr. Rhodanz of Toronto who purchased the Hoover and Timbers farms west of our village is making extensive improvements to barns and stables on both farms, having received a car load of cement one day last week to be used in bringing the two farm properties right up to date.

Mrs. Hulda Raymer who is very seriously ill at Mechanisburg, Ohio, we understand is slightly improved. We hope that her health will soon warrant her removal back to her home here. Mrs. Raymer has made her home here with Miss Ada Barkey when not in U.S.A.

N. W. Byer of Stouffville has recently completed construction contracts for Hydro on various farms in the district. Those now enjoying the convenience of this service over the oil lamp are Sept. H. Foote, Jno. McCennochie and Win Timbers. The day will come when the oil lamp will be regarded as crude as the old tallow candle. No one needs the hydro more than the farmer.

SEDAN FOR SALE—1928 Chev. Sedan in good order. A bargain for quick sale, only $140 cash. Apply Tribune Office.

MRS. GEO. DOWSWELL BURIED AT NATIVE VILLAGE

The death of Mrs. George Dowswell at her late home on Main street east, about 10 o'clock on Sunday evening, came as a great shock both to the immediate family and the wide circle of life-long acquaintances. Although in delicate health for some time, Mrs. Dowswell appeared to have made some improvement, was considerably better in health, and on Sunday partook of her meals as usual. She had retired for the evening, and had been in conversation with her husband just a few moments before she passed away.

Born at Goodwood 74 years ago, a daughter of the late William Watson, her girlhood days were spent in Uxbridge Township, and following her marriage to George Dowswell, the couple settled just west of Goodwood, where they enjoyed a long and successful life on the farm. Besides the bereaved husband, there survives the faithful mother two daughters, Miss Lillian, member of the Stouffville public school staff, and Miss Jean, also two sons Arthur of Stouffville, and Russel of Uxbridge Township. Mrs. Dowswell is the last of her family, two brothers, David of Goodwood, and William of Stouffville, having died within recent years.

A devoted wife, mother, and friend, she stood steadfast in the faith of the saints, and for long years was an ardent worker, and member of the old Methodist church—First at Goodwood, and later in Stouffville, she gave much time to the work of the church organizations.

The funeral on Wednesday afternoon of this week was to Goodwood cemetery for interment, following a solemn and impressive service at the late home, conducted by the family pastor Rev. Thos. Laidlaw.
