TWO APPEALS, BOTH DISMISSED

The Court of Revision for the village of Stouffville dismissed the only two appeals filed against the work of Assessor George Storey on the 1935 roll, when they convened on Friday evening. Arthur Dowdwell appealed against an assessment of 1950 on his residence on Church street. He sold a lot to Rev. Mr. Young, but the assessment had been held up to the old figure. The assessor said the property had been too low heretofore, and no reduction could be made without lowering some neighboring properties.

The Imperial Oil Co. assessed for business on a sum totalling $2400, held that the assessment on this figure should be on a 60 per cent basis and not 75 as they had been billed. The big Oil Company was represented by outside counsel, but failed to convince the council on their interpretation of the law, and thus no change. Reeve Sanders and all members of the council composed the assessment court.

TO OPEN TENDERS SATURDAY

Tenders close tomorrow for the proposed new Township Hall in Whitchurch, and the council will meet on Saturday. Owing to mixed opinion as to whether a separate building or an addition to the Community Hall should be constructed, and that only a vault should be built in the basement of the present hall, action on the tenders may be deferred.

However, before the summer is over it is almost certain that something will be done to ensure more safety for the valuable papers, books and documents belonging to the municipality. Now that the situation has become public, the condemnation that would be heaped on any council which neglected the matter until disaster overtakes them, would be severe.

The council meetings on Saturday at 2 p.m. as a Court of Revision on the assessment rolls, while the remaining portions of the day will be given over to transacting general business.

NOW STARTS FOR HIS 100TH YEAR

How many of our citizens recall the old spring manufacturing shop conducted at the corner of Main and Church streets on the Fred Wilson property? The proprietor of this shop was one John Hagerman, who last month celebrated his 99th birthday, and is therefore looking forward to his 100th year, with confidence.

John Hagerman lives in Cannington with his son Arthur Hagerman, enjoys remarkable health and activity, and is keenly interested in current events.

He was born at Hagerman's Corners, which is believed to have been named after his father. His wife was a sister of Mrs. Wilmot Brown, and the late Mrs. John Sanders, Mrs. Truman and Mrs. John Storry. The Revis sisters and were well known and remembered in Stouffville, and Mrs. Brown still visits the old town.

Mr. Hagerman left Stouffville with his wife and family about 45 years ago. Speaking of old times, Mr. Hagerman relates: School was held six days a week for the whole 12 months of the year. It was customary for the schoolmaster to travel around from house to house, never having a permanent lodging place. The teacher generally received various commodities such as grain, flour, eggs, in remuneration for his services.

Banks and banking were virtually unheard of relates Mr. Hagerman. Money was scarce and business was mostly conducted on the barter basis. Numerous conveniences of present-day living were unknown in his boyhood days, recalls Mr. Hagerman. Telegraph and telephones were as yet not invented and tallow candles were the accepted means of lighting.

This centenarian can clearly recall the building of the Great Western and the Great Northern Railways; the Confederation; the Northwest Rebellion, and the American Civil War. He believes that the struggling pioneers of his day found more contentment in life than present-day folks.

He regularly attends the United Church and was brought up a Methodist. His longevity, he attributes to temperate habits and hard work. He is still looking forward to a few more birthdays.

UNDER CREDITORS' ACT

Mr. J. A. Cattenach, official receiver for the County of York under the Farmer's Creditors' Relief Act, informed the Tribune on Monday that not more than half a dozen cases had been brought to him from the immediate vicinity of Stouffville. "In fact," said Mr. Cattenach, "I have only two cases from Musselman's Lake or Cedar Valley, in the whole of Whitchurch, and three from Markham in the south part. All cases have originated in the Woodbridge and Yonge street area."

Interrogated as to what action he would take if the mortgage holder or other creditors reject his suggested offer of settlement which he had sent out, Mr. Cattenach explained that if the person who holds the mortgage or other creditor does not accept the official receiver's offer, he has the privilege of going before the board of three in Toronto, of which Justice Hope is the chairman, and there the case is reviewed.

While the case is pending and for 60 days no action can be taken against the farmer for arrears of payments of his debts. The board may set aside the receiver's proposed settlement, and render anything they see fit. Then the receiver may even cut the principal to a smaller amount than is owing in the original mortgage. In one case from Musselman's Lake, the creditors are asked to take 60 per cent of their debt and the holder of the mortgage is asked to reduce the rate of interest from 6 to 4 per cent and cut the principal sum to a lesser amount.

31 HOGS FOR $605

The highest price paid in some years for hogs was realized at Aurora stock yards last week. $9 for bacon and $9.50 for select were the ruling quotations. Edgar Rose, Ballantrae, contributed 31 hogs to the shipment at Aurora, for which he received $605. Is this not something like good times again?

BIRTHS

Patsley—At the Brierbush Hospital, Stouffville, on May 30, 1935 to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Patsley, a daughter.

ROW OVER MARKHAM POSTMASTER

"War in the local camp," over the manner in which the Liberal candidate was chosen may only be a tempest in a teapot, but such things just have to be it seems. Now the Conservatives are holding the stage in much the same manner, and Bob McGregor, M.P., is being put on the spot, as it were, to explain why a man from Richmond Hill should be appointed postmaster at Markham village. As the Tories of Markham say, "Surely we have a man here in our midst big enough for the job."

It seems that an outsider pulled the wires, and obtained the appointment right over the heads of the Markham executive of the Conservative Association, who were asked to "name their man," and this they did. The recommendation was ignored, the Tribune is informed, and Mr. McGregor is looked to for an explanation. Now how about it?

MRS. COLEMAN WAGG

Native of Goodwood Section
Laid to Rest there Saturday

Forty-eight years a widow, the remains of the late Mrs. Coleman Wagg who died in Midland were laid to rest here on Saturday beside her late husband who was taken in early life leaving his wife and three children, the youngest just a baby of two years. Many were the old friends of the family who spent long years in Uxbridge town, at the beautiful Goodwood cemetery for the last sad rites. Mrs. Wagg died in Midland surrounded by her three children, Newton, who conducted the steam laundry there, Miss Ethel, principal of the public school and Roy also of Midland. The family left Uxbridge about 25 years ago for the northern town. Mrs. Wagg was born near Goodwood, and at least one of its eldest citizens, Mr. Isaac Wagg wended his way to school with her as children. "I didn't know at that time of course, that she was to be my sister-in-law for she married my brother," said Mr. Wagg to the Tribune.

Among the mourners (besides the family from Midland) were Peter and Frank Kirby and Mrs. Ada Hunter Winters of Uxbridge, and numerous cousins, and aunts from Uxbridge, Stouffville, Toronto, and other places. A beautiful type of devoted motherhood, has been laid away in the passing of Mrs. Wagg, a fact widely recognized beyond the confines of her own immediate family. Rev. W. R. Auld of Midland and formerly of Markham conducted the service at the late home and graveside.

AN EDITOR PASSES

On Tuesday morning we attended the funeral of the late W. H. Keller, for many years publisher and proprietor of the Uxbridge Journal. Mr. Keller passed away suddenly on Monday morning before a doctor could be summoned, at his late home 9 Fulton Avenue, Toronto. He was born and raised in Uxbridge, and is survived by his wife whose maiden name was Hermine Dollard, and by four daughters.

This former citizen of our neighboring town also leaves behind a long line of bosom friends who loved and admired him for what he was—the kindly, virtuous man, slow to anger, and with always a touch of sympathy for others.

To the editor of this paper, he was our first employer and later became our business contemporary, then we bought the Journal from Mr. Keller, but in every sphere of life, to us he was the near perfect man, the gentleman under all conditions, and his passing leaves us bereft of a kind friend and one whose memory will always linger.

The late W. H. Keller took over the Uxbridge Journal from his father over 40 years ago, and operated successfully the business for long years. He finally retired in 1922 and later moved to Markham, then to Toronto. He was a Liberal in politics, and a member of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church, Uxbridge, where Mass was celebrated Tuesday morning preceding the interment at Uxbridge cemetery.

FARMER DROPS DEAD

Unlownville, May 28th—John Lunau, retired farmer and resident of this village for the past 40 years, dropped dead suddenly at his home this morning. He was in his 77th year. Mr. Lunau was a well known resident, and two years ago he and his wife, formerly Elizabeth Ann Cranswick, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Besides his widow, Mr. Lunau is survived by three children, Cora, William J. and Percy R., all of Toronto; two sisters, Mrs. Louisa Helmke, and Mrs. Charlotte Helmke, Stouffville, and four brothers, Lewis and James Unlownville, Archie, Toronto, and Robert Oakville. Mr. Lunau was a member of the United Church.

W. M. S. GATHER AT AGINCOURT

The Women's Missionary Society of the Toronto East Presbytery of the United Church convened in the ninth annual rural sectional meeting at Knox United Church, Agincourt.

The morning session was presided over by Mrs. Thomas Little, the afternoon by Mrs. Stanley Hastings, vice-presidents of the rural sections. Devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. Bick and Mrs. M. R. Hoover, while business resolutions were introduced by Mrs. Macklin and Mrs. Hoover.

The address of welcome was made by the president of the local society, Mrs. W. D. MacDonald, and Mrs. Thomas Laidlaw contributed a solo. Mrs. Trickey conducted an open forum, when Christian stewardship, finance, supply, literature and temperance were discussed—She was assisted in the temperance discussion by Mrs. Ferguson.

The quiet hour was led by Mrs. Mellow, of Uxbridge. At the afternoon session, the typical auxiliary meeting was discussed, led by Mrs. Hastings, and the roll call of officers was made by Mrs. McBeth. Mrs. T. W. Neal presented the treasurer's report, and worship was conducted by Mrs. Duncan, Mount Albert, Mrs. Armstrong, Zephyr, and Mrs. R. T. Shiel, Toronto. Mrs. Harvey Doner (Jean Haig) sang a solo before the address of the day was given by Mrs. Homer Brown for twenty years as missionary teacher in the school of Dr. Choo, in "China." She gave an interesting and impressive picture of conditions in the eastern empire, and quoted from the Chinese correspondent of the New York Times, a Jew, who advocates Christianity as the only influence that can save China, from the spread of communism.

It is only fitting that at this time those engaged in W.M.S. work should be congratulated upon their splendid efforts and what they have accomplished. We are informed through those in charge of distribution of the various articles of clothing, etc. sent out in bales from the various societies, that every article has been gratefully received by some one in dire need.

LOCAL TEAM WIN PRIZE AT BEETON

The local club have yet to taste defeat as they took their second league game of the season from Uxbridge on Wednesday last by the score of 16-2. Hodgins for Stouffville pitched a fine game throughout and allowed only a few scattered hits.

The Club added still further to their laurels on Monday when they entered the tournament at Beeton and carried home a handsome cash award as the first prize. In their opening game they defeated Bond Head by a score of 9-0. Alliston who were the second opponents proved a little tougher, the game going to 13 innings when the locals finally squeezed out a 2-1 win. In the final chapter they came up against Palgrave and were again the winners. Jack Pennock proved the hero of the hour pitching masterful ball throughout the first two games. In the game against Alliston only nine men faced him in the 4th, 5th, and 6th innings. Bill Clark took the mound in the last game and proved quite effective.

Next O.B.A. game Beaverton at Stouffville, Wednesday, June 12.

200th ANNIVERSARY

On Monday afternoon this paper had a call from Mr. Lloyd Raymer of the Eventide Hour, and he is most enthusiastic about the coming anniversary celebration of the Raymer families who will gather at his summer home on Saturday, June 22 for an all-day celebration. Mr. Raymer resides during the summer time on the shores of Lake Ontario, 12 miles east of Toronto, between Highland Creek and the Rouge.

Mr. Raymer promises fun for grandpa, grandma, father and mother and all the kiddies, motor boats, candies, cones and fun, fun, fun.

There will be a program, the Eventide Hour group will sing, the Markham Quartette, and other features with possibly band music in the evening. This paper will carry further announcement next issue about this family gathering.

LIVED LONG LIFE IN THIS DISTRICT

The death of Charles Cooper at the home of his daughter in North Gwillimbury Township on June 2, removed a woman who had spent all his long life of 86 years within a radius of 30 miles of Stouffville. Born in the Altona district, Mr. Cooper was a son of the late George Wilburn Cooper. He was the eldest of the family and is the last surviving of his four brothers. As a young man he married Eleanor Slack who predeceased him ten years. A wood worker by trade he was a busy man, and widely known. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Fred Longhurst at whose home the father died, Mrs. M. Roberts, Toronto, and Mrs. Edw. Baker, Stouffville. One son James of Myrtle also survives. The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was from the home of his daughter Mrs. Baker, Main street, to Claremont cemetery for interment. Presiding Elder Bricker of the M.B.C. church preached the service. The pall bearers were: Jas. Albert, Willard, and Freeman Slack, David Nighswander and Frank Baker.

Additional Locals

Miss Anna Tienkamp of Kettleby spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hare.

Messrs. Ernest Ratcliff and Harvey Wideman of Toronto recently left on their annual trip north calling at Calendar and other points.

The splendid appearance of our school building and grounds, is calling forth much favorable comment on the part of visitors and passing motorists to Stouffville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rowbotham, Helen and Bruce had an enjoyable motor trip through Western Ontario last week. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis at Merlin, while Helen attended a Young People's Convention at West Lorne.

For the second year in succession Stan and Don Hall, Lemonville, won second prize in the horse shoe pitching contest, at the Third of June celebration in Mount Albert. A Toronto team won first on Monday.

JUST ANOTHER "RACKET"

A little newspaper published on the outskirts of Toronto, in one of the latest to conduct a subscription campaign. The idea is to enlist the services of young folks in the community, by promising them a free trip or a free something else. The young folk are then expected to go out into the highways and byways and coax, conjoal, persuade, or by any other method exact a subscription from friends who have no interest in the community or newspaper being sold.

The whole thing is a colossal humbug to force an unwanted newspaper on friends of the contesting boys and girls. Fortunately many young people will not lend themselves to the stunt, but still there are always those ready to do such things.

The subscription list of the Stouffville Tribune has been built up on the merits of the paper as a home town weekly, and those who resort to other means to get subscription more or less admit the weakness of their publication. But

HIGH COW PRICES

Milk cows soared to great prices at the public auction sale on David Graham's farm, Locust Hill, last Saturday. The best Holstein sold for $105; while the average for the herd was $92.50. Calves went at $25 to $34, and a seven-months bull for $77.50. A. S. Farmer the auctioneer, is convinced that high prices for cows is here for some

GREAT CONFERENCE FOREGATHERS AT GORMLEY

Today, Thursday, is the opening day of the big Conference of the Brethren in Christ Church to be held in Gormley, which will draw together hundreds of delegates from Canada and the United States. Provision is being made for the visitors in the homes of the people, so far as sleeping quarters are concerned, while others will find rest in specially prepared quarters for which farmers will clear their hay mows, to make room for cots. The multitude will be fed from the improvised kitchen with the spacious sheds at the church as a dining hall.

This is the 65th annual general conference of the order and it is twelve years since the sessions were held in Gormley. Heise church was founded in 1808 and is one of the most important centres of the Brethren in Canada.

The sect originated among the Pennsylvania Dutch and closely resembles the Mennonite order. It was brought to Canada by the pioneer settlers and has persisted as a family religion, its members being known for their sincerity and integrity in all things.

In Gormley the church was maintained largely by the devotion of three families and ten years ago it was recorded that one-third of the church membership carried the three family surnames of Cober, Steckley or Heise.

The conference will open this evening (Thursday) with a program prepared by the Educational Board and Eld. Earl Sider will speak on the "Dawn of a New Day." Eld. Hostetter and Eld. Brugaber will also participate in this opening service.

The conference proper opens Friday morning at 9:30 when Eld. Jess Sider brings the opening message. Services continue all day and every day until Sunday when big special programs are announced. There will be tent meetings and church gatherings held at the same time, so the crowds may be accommodated at one or other.

The Sunday tent services will be addressed by Bishop O.B. Urvy, at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon Mrs. Nellie Dick, Eld. Martin, Mrs. Abbie Winger, Eld. G. Wolgemuth will all address the gathering on interesting mission subjects.

At the church afternoon service an array of outstanding speakers are announced in Eld. W. O. Winger, Eld. J. R. Eyster, and Miss Anna Steckley, also Bishop Whittier. Those who will lead the evening church service on Sunday include Eld. Climenhaga, Eld. Dick, Eld. Myers, and Bishop Engle. There will be special singing by male voices, and a closing appeal.

In addition to the services mentioned, side services will be in force, and the General Sunday School conference will open on June 6. The public will be welcome at all these services and are expected to come in large numbers. The delegates alone will total several hundred.
