

TOWN TOPICS

The Stouffville Ladies Lawn Bowling Club will hold their first mixed tournament of the season on Friday evening this week. Draw 6:30 sharp.

Mr. Eli Maires who farmed for some time on the 8th concession just south of Mr. Morgan Baker, M.P., was in town on Friday. Eli is now located on Seugog Island and his post office is View Lake.

The Warren Bituminous Paving Co. had a gang of men out here last week cementing any cracks in our fine pavement, and repairing broken curbing. The road has stood up well because it had been well put down, and after five years is just as good today as when constructed. The repairs put on last week were only such as must be made to all roads of this type, for a certain number of cracks are inevitable on a concrete base. The Warren people are highly thought of in Stouffville, where their excellent service seems never to be forgotten.

One of our local painters came in for due credit for the manner in which he saved an accident and perhaps a life, when driving his car through the village of Markham one day recently. The Economist reports the incident thus: "A near accident occurred on Main Street, near the Post Office on Tuesday morning when two small children ran out in front of an approaching car. Eye witnesses of the affair state that much credit is due the driver, Mr. Dan Cook of Stouffville, who applied his brakes so forcibly as to prevent hitting them although the escape was very narrow."

REVIVAL SHOWING

ALL QUIET On The WESTERN FRONT

Miss Francis Rateliff of Brantford was home this week.

Mr. W. E. Morden is attending the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows in Toronto this week, as delegate from Stouffville Lodge.

Prospective used car buyers should not overlook Mr. Delbert Holden's announcement on Page 6. A guarantee with every car is worth something to you.

Miss Myrtle Crossen underwent a surgical operation in a Toronto Hospital on Monday, and is reported as making favorable recovery, a fact her friends will all be thankful for.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooper of Hamilton also Mrs. H. R. McCay and daughter Kathleen of Burlington were weekend guests with Mrs. Ira Badgero.

Dr. Fred Brillinger made a brief visit to his father and brothers in town last week. Dr. Brillinger flew from New York to Buffalo to attend a meeting, and rushed up to Stouffville by train on a side trip of a day or so.

The Kinsmen Quartette of Toronto will be at the Stouffville Christian Church on Sunday next when they will render us several musical numbers. The message of the evening will be brought by Mr. O. L. Raymer.

Mr. T. D. Stoddard, host of the House of Refuge on Yonge street, has tendered his resignation to the York County Council after 18 years of successful service. He was a genial and kindly man, and retires owing to the ill health of Mrs. Stoddard.

The remains of the late Levina Fitzgerald who died in Toronto on June 12, were laid to rest at Dickson Hill cemetery on Friday afternoon last, followed by a number of old friends along with the mourners from Toronto. The late Mrs. Wilson was a daughter of John Wilson and the late Margaret Wilson of Ringwood. She is survived by her husband and two daughters Margaret and Vera, as well as by her father and two sisters, Mrs. Ovar and Mrs. Goodyear, all of Toronto. She left Ringwood as a maiden.

William Pyles, the veteran Ontario County farmer of 93 years, has been spending a week in town with his daughter Mrs. Richard Ward. Mr. Pyles is perhaps the most remarkable man in these parts for he has few equals for his keenness of mind and agility of body at so great an age. Mr. Pyles has rented his farm in Pickering, on the advice of his doctors who informed him that he should take a rest. Mr. Pyles ranched his lands up to last year, and generally took charge of things, but is now really living retired, and spending most of his time at the home of his granddaughter in Brooklyn.

Lorne Wideman, teacher at Concord, has secured a school at Birchcliff. Charles Rateliff will be the new teacher at Concord, it is reported.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Broadway, Church street on Thursday June 20th, at 3 o'clock. Let us make an effort to be present.

Visitors with Mr. H. C. Penneck last weekend were Mr. William H. Cockburn, Mr. Kenneth H. Kernaghan, and Miss Edna Button, all of Toronto.

Miss Agnes Kilneck is on a week's holiday at the summer cottage of Miss Marion Meach, Lake Scugog. Miss Meach is a member of Markham High school staff.

Orval Burkholder has taken a position as baker in Stover's Bakery, filling the vacancy open since Mr. Archie Stover left for Milverton.

The heaviest rain of the 1935 season came down on Monday, when fields were flooded and water courses swollen beyond their normal size. No damage is reported, but a great deal of good is anticipated for the ground has not been well soaked all spring.

Mrs. J. Borinsky is not sure whether June is just her lucky month, or whether it was pure skill, but last week she won no less than three prizes. On two occasions in Toronto she was in on a prize at both a bridge and a bowling tournament, and on the third day she was on a winning team at a mixed lawn tournament at Newmarket.

Mr. L. Thompson who has been employed in this neighborhood for some time, has decided to make a visit to his native England, and has authorized A.S. Farmer, auctioneer, to sell his entire household goods by public auction, on the Market Square next Saturday at 2 p.m. In addition to kitchen, dining room living room and bedroom furniture an electric radio (Sonora) and Beatty electric washer will be sold. No reserve. Terms cash. See bills for list.

Mr. Walter D. Atkinson, Imperial Oil Agent of Markham, has taken over the route at Stouffville, recently in charge of Mr. W. P. Burnett, and will run it together with the Markham branch, and expects to spend a half of each day at each station, says the Markham Economist. Mr. Burnett has been transferred to the Oshawa plant, after serving the patrons of Stouffville district for past fifteen years, and that town will be the worse without his presence. However it may be wise not to leave a good man in one place too long, so maybe the Imperial Oil Co. is justified in making the change. We are sure Walter Atkinson will give the same unstinted service that has been rendered by his predecessor in past years.

The Almira Church

Brief History From L. J. Burkholder's Book Now on Sale at Drug Stores.

Rev. L.J. Burkholder, is author of "A Brief History of the Mennonites in Ontario," in the two local drug stores where they may be purchased.

The book contains a comprehensive chronicle of the church fathers, and the charges throughout Ontario, and a brief history of each. Of particular local interest in the well printed volume of 350 pages is a fine history of the early Mennonites in York County. Speaking of the Almira Church the writer says:—

"This place of worship is located on lot 32, concession 5, Markham. The area of the Markham settlement was formerly served by two regular appointments, Mr. Huber and Stecklin. The former was probably at Gormley and the latter near the Steckley residences. These two names appear as regular appointments in 1858 Calendar, but do not appear after the Almira Church was built. The brick building at Almira was built in 1860, and the property was—deduced to the Mennonite Church by Jacob Wideman, John Christian and Jacob Wideman were the first trustees. At the present time meetings are held on every alternate Sunday.

The ministers who resided near the church and served are, Adam Wideman, Jacob Wideman, Samuel Wideman, Lewis S. Weber, and Aaron D. Grove. L. S. Weber was ordained at the Waterloo church for this place, and labored here for a time. On Sept. 2, 1931, A. D. Grove, a member of this congregation, was ordained to the ministry at the Wideman church, Bishop Hallman and Derstine presiding.

Daniel Hoover, sr., Christian L. Hoover, Manasseh R. Fretz and Jacob H. Wideman are the deacons who have served this place and Wideman's jointly.

The membership at Almira is about 30. A Sunday school is conducted."

Miss Ruth Barker is assisting on the post office staff during the absence of Postmaster Leavens on holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rennie and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wideman have returned from Spring Bay, Manitoulin Island, where they visited the former's daughter and travelled over the finest motor roads they had ever enjoyed.

A Reward—is offered for return of brooch and chain lost on May 21, or any information leading to its recovery, valued as a keepsake, no questions will be asked. The property of Mrs. Howard J. Malloy, Phone 1002, Stouffville.

Mrs. Christian Raymer who suffered a fractured hip a week ago Sunday when she took a weak spell, is not making much progress, and her condition has been so weak the break has not been put in a cast.

Miss Jean Collard of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff, is on holidays visiting her two aunts, Mrs. J. Ernest Dougherty and Mrs. Alton H. Perkins, in Denver, Colorado. Jean was aboard the first train which was allowed to cross the flooded area where ruin and desolation was rampant following the Colorado floods. Her position on the bank staff here is being filled by her sister Miss Isobel Collard.

Colored student at the Toronto Baptist Seminary, Samuel Black, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. S. Knight just south of town. Mr. Black is a member of the Clarksonville Baptist Church in Jamaica, and is therefore visiting his pastor's parents. Mr. Black is an intelligent young man and looks forward to his return to his native land to minister among the brethren of his own race and color.

CLAREMONT LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE COOPER SHOW

Mrs. W. McFarlane, of Peace River, is visiting Mrs. M. Rawson.

Mrs. McMureby of Seaman, Sask., is spending a month with her mother, Mrs. Powell.

Donald Bacon has been engaged as teacher of the 4th line Uxbridge Public School for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCullough moved from their farm to their village residence on Thursday last.

Anniversary services will be held in the United Church on Sunday, next, with Rev. Archer Wallace as speaker.

The W.M.S. of the United Church was entertained by the Locust Hill Society, at the home of Mrs. Topper on Thursday afternoon last.

Magnus E. Morgan, and family moved to Guelph, on Monday. Mr. Morgan has been promoted to Road Boss of the C.P.R. from Guelph to London.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCullough were honored by their many friends on Wednesday evening last, where they were given a shower of useful and pretty gifts. The shower was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ham.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Caskey will deeply regret their departure from our village at the end of the month. Mr. Caskey has been a successful principal of the Continuation School during the past five years and during that time both he and Mrs. Caskey have willingly assisted in many community affairs.

Mrs. J. H. Caskey, A.T.C.M. held a piano recital for her pupils, at her home, on Friday evening last. After the recital her pupils presented Mrs. Caskey with a beautiful glass basket of cut flowers and a pair of candle holders. Little Miss Mabel Tucker was also presented with a pretty hand bag by her teacher. This award was given by Mrs. Caskey to the pupil who had made the best progress in her piano instruction since the beginning of the year.

At Chas. Cooper's big demonstration a wonderful time was enjoyed by the large crowds assembled at this enterprising store. Prizes were awarded for the day to purchasers, who took advantage of the many unusual offers. Lyman Pilkey and Bert Jones, were the lucky
