

TOWN TOPICS

Mrs. S. W. Lee of Toronto is visiting with her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Lee, Church Street.

Ninety carloads of celery were shipped from Holland marsh lands last week, comprising thousands of crates.

Stewart Rae is slowly progressing from a serious attack of blood-poisoning in the hand, and is now believed to be out of danger.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson, Church street, attended the funeral of an old friend and neighbor the late John Gowland, at Markham on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Howard Long, Mrs. Broeflie and Mrs. Iva Lee all of Lockport, N.Y., were in town spending a few days with the former's aunt Mrs. S. Shankel, Church street.

The Misses Grice have rented the Christian Raymer property on Main street across from the Presbyterian church. Not having secured a buyer for her well kept property, Miss B. Raymer decided to rent the place which has all conveniences.

The big annual mix up in time came to an end for this season when the cities and larger towns reverted to standard time on Sunday at midnight. We never could understand why those who want fast time cannot start and finish an hour earlier without kidding themselves that it is seven o'clock in the morning when it actually is but six.

At Cooksville fair last week Laetic Patch, owned by R. S. Chambers of Stouffville, and driven by his brother A. C. Chambers of Milton, cut the track record for harness horses in the classified race, down to 2:13 1/4. Joe Cooney's Roy C. Todd won the 2:20 trot at Oro last week, so that Stouffville racers are turning in good account of their speed this season.

House to rent Nov. 1st. 6 rooms, electric and water. Miss G. Todd.

One week from next Monday, October 14, is election day. Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Heavy frosts the past week have depleted the garden flowers until only a few survive in the local beauty-spots.

Mrs. Totten was in town for a day or two last week, having come up from her home near Hamilton with her husband Rev. Mr. Totten who was attending an alumni conference in Toronto. Their son Harold is attending the University of Toronto.

Harry Ratcliff motored to North Bay with a five ton load of vegetables for a local grower last week. Returning he brought back a load of lumber. The northward journey occupied nine hours leaving Stouffville at 6 in the evening and reaching the Bay at three in the morning.

The end of the season bowling tournament leave Stouffville players in good form. At Markham last week J. Borinsky, F. E. Rae, Cliff Pipher and Blake Sanders skip, carried off first prize for two wins and brought home smoker sets. At Whitby mixed tournament a local rink came second for three wins, composed of Miss Holden, P. Spoford, Mrs. Watts and M. E. Watts.

Rev. George Dix, Presbyterian pastor at Aurora, has accepted the candidature for the Stevens party in North York, and commenced a whirlwind campaign last week. Despite the entrance at this late hour of a Reconstructionist, and a C.C.F. candidate in the field, the real fight is between Col. Mulock and the sitting member and Harold Breuls, Conservative. Col. Mulock was an easy winner in the by-election a year ago, and is still carrying big odds as a winner.

House to Rent—6 Rooms—Water and Electric. Miss Valentine, Victoria street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Quantz were at their summer cottage on Lake Simcoe last week closing the place for the winter season.

Billy Still, son of our bank manager Mr. E. M. Still, is attending Central Technical school, making use of the bus service daily from Stouffville.

The condition of Mr. John Forsyth, Main street, has been giving his family and friends great concern. He is suffering from a heart trouble which left his condition grave indeed for periods last week.

Farmers are digging the late potato crop, and while the yield is poor, the price has slumped, offerings being taken at Goodwood, last week at 85c we are informed. It is a speculation as to what price a farmer should hold his crop for.

The Sixth Line Baptist Church west of Stouffville is being redecorated by Edward Baker, in readiness for the reopening services on October 20 when Rev. S. Whitcombe, former pastor will be here for the occasion.

Ross Winterstein has sold his milk route back to Walter Talbot of Stouffville, who is again on the big truck after an absence of some time. This route circulates mainly in Whitechurch, and in Markham Townships.

The regular monthly meeting of the J. W. I. will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Smith, on Oct. 9, at 2:30. Roll call is to be answered by "The thing I most dislike in house-keeping"—Miss J. Brodie will give an address on "Giving of Thanks" and music by Mrs. G. Kellington. We are always pleased to have visitors.

Recent guests with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Roadway were Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Cleaver and Mr. James Cleaver brothers of Mr. John Cleaver Mrs. Samuel Hoover, and Mrs. Isaac Roadway; also Mr. Kenneth Cleaver and Mrs. C. Nicholson niece and nephew and daughter from Tara, Ontario, near Owen Sound.

During alterations to the Hydro System over on Yonge street, the local system was out of business from one o'clock until five o'clock on Monday afternoon, thereby causing considerable inconvenience to the users. It is fortunate that only the most urgent work necessitates the power being off in the work hours of the day, or early evening.

Writing from Mather, Manitoba, Mrs. O. Yake, a former resident of the local district says that crops in their district did look wonderful for a time this summer, but the rust came up from the States, and now there are thousands of acres not worth the cutting. Many farmers are on direct relief, and she concludes, "between being dried out, grass hoppers and rust many have not seen money in a long time, five years."

With the advent of October the beer parlors in Markham village enter upon the last month of their existence as dispensers of the foamy suds under government regulation. According to the vote of the rate-payers in the southern municipality they are not favorable to beer parlors and thus under the Act they will be closed at the conclusion of business on the last day of October, the date on which the license granted before the vote was recorded was issued to.

An engagement announcement appearing in this paper during the latter part of July has caused considerable inconvenience and explanation to be made by Miss Mary Galloway of Mimico, daughter of a former well known family of Stouffville. Mary authorizes us to say that she is not giving any thought to marriage at the present time, so that the intimation was a hoax, but too far back to be traced, to its author. This former Stouffville girl therefore has the great pleasure still to look forward to of some day declaring her matrimonial intentions, and when that time comes we hope to be among the first to offer our congratulations. In the meantime we apologize for the erroneous report circulated.

When Dr. W. A. Sangster was called to the home of Mrs. Macklem Cook at Lemonville on Sunday afternoon for some minor ailment affecting Mrs. Cook who is in her 87th year, it was recalled that this was the first time in twenty years that she had needed the services of a professional man. It was Dr. Sangster who was last called and when he made the visit in or about the year 1915, his mother who was a friend of Mrs. Cook went out to Lemonville for a visit while the doctor made his call. Mrs. Cook is troubled with bad eyesight and is practically blind, but her mind is clear, and she indicates a keen interest in her many friends. Mrs. Cook is of sturdy old Devon stock that remain so to the end, and may her's be a long way off.

Ratcliff & Co. sold about 400 baskets of fruit on Saturday, peaches and grapes, all of which are being offered this fall at exceptionally attractive low prices.

Among the names of those mentioned last week as attending the University of Toronto this fall, we omitted that of Gordon Marchison. He is taking a course in forestry.

Mrs. R. J. Gardiner, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, who was the guest of her aunt Mrs. Leaney, returned to the West last week accompanied by her mother Mrs. S. Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Vanzant, 10th concession, have been engaged to operate Clearview Farm, Goodwood, for Mr. George Maye, beginning April 1st, when Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tate will vacate the premises. Mr. Vanzant and his young wife, the former Olive Baker, are among the young-couples starting on the matrimonial course, which their friends will wish to ever run true. They will be a good acquisition to Clearview Farm.

The fact that Tax Collector Ross E. Ratcliff has had about 20 teeth removed by a Stouffville dentist the past week, does not signify that the law has lost any of its teeth and that it will be easy to escape paying the tax demand in Whitechurch Township, which will be made within a few days or weeks. Shortly the collector hopes to be equipped with a set of molars that will meet all ordinary demands, and at the same time be rid of the menace that permanent sets often become.

The Stouffville Women's Liberal Club will hold their regular monthly meeting in the form of a tea on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 10th, at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Borinsky, O'Brien Avenue. Mrs. Peter Heenan, Toronto, is to be the guest speaker. All ladies and friends are kindly asked to accept this invitation to be present and enjoy a social time, and meet Mr. and Mrs. Goldie Fleming.

Rev. W. E. Smalley, pastor of Baker Hill and 2nd Markham Baptist Churches received word on Monday of the death of his uncle J. M. Smalley, who died in Ohio, Sept. 28. He was the last member of the family. Rev. Mr. Smalley visited him and his children while on his vacation in August. His wife predeceased him 8 years ago.

From what we read in our exchanges and from what we gather from local conditions, none of its popularity has yet been lost by the little country political meeting, and public gathering where the candidate himself is always the chief speaker and is accompanied by some local supporter desirous of testing out his platform ability. Political party leaders may be heard at length over the radio and their views may be read in full in the newspapers, but a few posters stating that a meeting is to be held in the interest of this or that party, at which the candidate and others will speak, still draws a crowd large enough to fill the old school house or community hall, and a good time is had by all. We don't know whether any votes are ever really made at these gatherings or the opinion of anyone materially changed, but they are a rural feature of general elections that other campaign attractions cannot displace. They cost the candidate considerable effort and money but they furnish his supporters and opponents alike with an evening's entertainment with some little instruction thrown in and that is worth while; as much worth while, we imagine, as are the results from the great rallies at which the big men in the country's affairs are heard. We have attended a few of these in years past and present and we never yet heard one of those in attendance declare that he had gone to the meeting intending to vote a certain way and had come away with his decision reversed and his mind made up to cast his ballot in the opposite direction.

Constable H. Quibell and Funeral Director L. E. O'Neill with their wives spent a few days with the former's parents at Wilberforce, Haliburton, last week. Despite glowing reports about the good fishing, the "funnie backs" just smiled at the bate offered by the local men who tried their luck in the Haliburton streams, and consequently they met with poor success.

A quiet wedding took place last Saturday afternoon, at the home of Rev. E. Morton, when Marjorie Evelyn Jakeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Jakeman, Whitechurch Township, became the wife of Herbert Floyd Coppins, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Coppins, Ballantrae. After returning from their honeymoon the young couple will settle in Whitechurch Twp.

Mr. W. E. Tidy has gone to White River in charge of bridge construction gang between White River and Scriver on the new Trans-Canada highway. Being the coldest place in Canada during the winter season our townsman will have an experience of which our readers would be glad to read about later in the season.

A former resident of Stouffville 40 years ago died in Toronto on Thursday, Sept. 20, in the person of Aseath Pockler, widow of the late N. J. Armstrong, in her 94th year. The funeral on Saturday was to Bloomington cemetery, where the remains were placed beside those of her late husband. Mrs. Armstrong and her late husband kept the east end store nearly half a century ago. He was the local auctioneer, and was quite widely known. She is the last of her family, three sisters having predeceased her, namely Mrs. Sam. Burkholder, Mrs. Philip Davis and Mrs. George Brown. Two daughters survive the late Mrs. Armstrong, one with whom the aged mother lived at 53 Riverdale Avenue.

It looks as though the only way to protect freshly laid cement sidewalks in Stouffville from being mutilated or defaced by youngsters, is to police the area over the first night on which the walk is laid. After that it would be hard enough to withstand any attempt on the part of these amateur carvers to cut their initials on. So often new cement is defaced in this manner, as in the case of a new block laid last week in front of Porter's store, where no less than half a dozen boys carved initials, so that the block was poorly finished next morning. It takes us back to the days when we secretary carved our initials on the school desk or bench, or fence or perhaps on the old maple or chestnut tree. Frequently we were taken to task too, and so it should be today—if the gilty lads can be located.

the Findlay OVAL

—heats while it cooks and cooks while it heats—performing its double duty efficiently and economically. It's the true oval firepot—not an ordinary firebox with rounded corners—that makes this extra service possible. The Oval is designed for either wood or coal—or both—and is easily adapted for deep or shallow fire which makes it a quick baker and efficient heater. Its modern appearance and attractive lines and finish make it a perfect piece of furniture for any home. Three sizes to fit varying requirements. Two finishes—standard, as illustrated, and full porcelain. Note these features:

Oval firebox, with cast iron lining in upper section and fire brick below. Firebox for wood long and roomy with large end door.
Triple roller coal grate—easily removed through ashpan door.
Special wood grate with slide to retain fire overnight.

With grate in lower position large chunks of rough wood can be burned.
Perfectly controlled oven, with ample room for all baking needs.
Large reservoir with top and lid finished in black porcelain to prevent rust. Fine controlled heat in the two larger sizes.

We shall gladly send you without obligation descriptive literature, or give you a demonstration.
