Avoid Scab in Potatoes

There is more than fertility of soil to be considered in crop production. Potato growers can increase their yields by the application of fertilizer, this crop being one that responds readily to the right formulas. Markets demand more than volume, however, and a scab-covered lot of tubers are likely to be rejected by dealers. The germs of this disease are usually present in soils on which potatoes have been grown for some years, the continuous planting adding to the trouble. The seed may be treated with formaldehyde or corrosive sublimate, but if placed in infected ground the scab will promptly appear. If lime has been applied within the previous year or two the conditions are even more favorable for the development of the disease.

The application of lime is recommended in order to stimulate the growth of clover and Alfalfa, the two crops that are well fitted to improve the soil when turned under. The problem of that grower is to decide whether to continue to grow potatoes without this green manuring and avoid scab or to lime the ground and take chances. Where potatoes are not a main crop it is possible to plan a rotation in which liming is done for other crops and potatoes included after a five year period. Another plan is to choose scab resistant varieties of which there are a few offered. Unfortunately these are not such high yielders though in course of time strains may be developed that combine productiveness with disease resistance, as already accomplished in wheat.

BETTER NOT

There came to me a thought quite rank, that I might go and rob a bank, 'twould be an easy thing; then I'd have duccs in my jeans, and eat cream puffs and pork and beans, and loaf until the spring.

I thought I'd get a book of rules, and buy myself some robbers' tools, and likewise hire a gun; the thing seemed simple as I thought, and I pursued my wicked plot, 'twould be so easy done.

But I read in the news today of robbers who went on their way, they tried to rob a bank; of sawed-off guns they had a load as they drove out the country road, 'twas like an armored tank.

The village folk all saw them there, said how it was a bad affair they grabbed their shoguns too; they looked upon this wicket gang, the lead flew with a noisy bang, one thug was shot clean through.

The constable was in the group. He locked them in the village coop, they fed them bread and tea; next day in court were three tame men, the bench turned up and sentenced them, they're in till forty-three.

The foolish thought's gone from my tank that I might go and rob a bank, and from hard times be free; I fear the village folk might come and some man with a monster gun—might shoot a hole in me.

Send the Tribune to absent friends.

GORMLEY

On Sunday Miss J. E. Fear, City Mission Worker, delivered the messages in the Mennonite Church Sunday morning and evening, and at Bethesda in the afternoon. Miss Fear made a plea for the Stratford Mission for which $25 was raised.

On Sunday, February 2 the students of Gormley Bible School will have charge of the service in the Mennonite Church, which will be looked forward to with big interest.

We are glad to report that our William Wilson, is recovering from his recent motor accident. Returning from Toronto in company with his son and Mrs. Joseph Cherry they collided with a York County truck loaded with gravel. Mr. Wilson's son who was driving, escaped uninjured. Mrs. Cherry received a cut over the eye, but Mr. Wilson was thrown right out of the cab, and shaken up severely. Coming closely on the loss of his wife the shock was hard on his nervous system. We understand the County Truck accepted liability and repaired. Mr. Wilson's car costing over $100. The heavily loaded truck turned right in front of the Wilson truck without any warning.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall—it's a girl. Garnet Mitchell is not afraid of the cold nights ahead, no sir, he was the holder of the luck ticket which won for him a pair of blankets given in connection with the Girls' Hockey game, Friday evening.

Our Jr. Hockey Team made a splendid showing in Stouffville, rink last Friday night when they trimmed the Stouffville lads 4-3. They certainly deserve great credit as it was their first game of the season and some of their regular players were absent.

Bruce Boyd visited John Lewis on Sunday.

Mr. Herb. Thomas has been serving on jury for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reesor and family had supper with the Burkholder family on Wednesday.

Mrs. James McCreight and two daughters visited in Toronto last week.

Mr. Thos. Bunker spent a few days in Toronto last week. Is the fair haired girl the attraction Tom?

Wednesday night of last week Miss Anna Housser and Mr. M. Baker dined at Eli Hoovers.

Carl Boyd is spending a few weeks with his brother at Tottenham.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Batt, H. Batt, and R. Boyd spent a day in Toronto last week.

Albert Walton and Bruce Boyd walked to Stouffville to see the fair sex play hockey on Friday night.

125,000 RETAIL STORES

There are approximately 125,000 retail stores in Canada or one to every 83 persons in the country. This includes every type of merchandising outlet, from the huge department store employing thousands of workers of the little one-man shop. The proportion of stores to population is highest in British Columbia, where there is a retail shop to every 73 persons, and lowest in Manitoba, where there are more than one hundred people to every store. It might be thought that retail stores would be relatively the most numerous in the larger cities and yet the figures show that there are more stores in relation to population in places of 1,000 to 10,000 population than in cities of over 100,000. Compared with the average of 83 persons per store for the country as a whole, there are only 53 people to each shop in places of 1,000 to 10,000, and 72 persons per store in cities of over 100,000. Of course, in the rural sections there is relatively the least number of stores and the average for places under 1,000 is 112 persons per store—This information is contained in a report issued by the Internal Trade Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

HOCKEY NOTES

Markham intermediate "B" O.H.A. team won its sixth straight game of the season at Uxbridge on Friday night, defeating Uxbridge 7-3 in a scintillating display.

Stewart McCarty and Hare scored for Markham in the first period while Cawker got two for Uxbridge. McCarty and Robinson added goals for the visitors in the second and Milroy and Hare built the total to seven in the third. York scored for Uxbridge in the third.

Stouffville juniors were again in the limelight when on Friday evening they played the Toronto Dukes in an O.H.A. Junior "B" contest down in the big Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto. The Dukes were too good for our local lads who suffered a defeat of 7-0.

The Mail and Empire correspondent said, "Stouffville was outplayed for the most part by the Dukes, who scored two goals in the first period, one in the second and four in the final. The sixth goal of the Dukes was scored when they had two men in the penalty box, Stouffville being unable to profit by such an advantage in man power.

Houle, Dukes' centre, was the chief point getter. He scored one goal and assisted on three others. Swindle also played well for the winners, netting two goals. Other scorers were Drummond, Perry and Taylor, the first named getting two in addition to an assist.

Most of the penalties were inflicted in the third period, when the teams roughed it considerably.

Perry's rushing and fence play also featured for Dukes, while Spenceley, Nerlich and Redshaw were the pick of the Stouffville team.

Dukes—Goal, Mortimer; defence Greenberg, Perry; centre, Houle; wings, Hotrum, Swindle; subs, Taylor, Dann Bradley, Drummond. Stouffville—Goal, Paxton; defence, Spenceley, Morden; centre Nerlich, wings, Holden, Redshaw; subs, Baker, Anderson Ashenhurst, Lawson. Referee—Bert Hedges.

BETHESDA

On Monday night the whole world was plunged into deep sorrow and mourning on the occasion of the death of His late Majesty, King George V. From now on as we sing "God Save the King," it will have a deeper meaning than ever before to us. May King Edward VIII prove to be such a ruler as his father was.

Thursday was the eventful day of last week as you will notice in the following items.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Sheffer also Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brillinger, visited at Mr. and Mrs. Will March's in Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Foote and Mr. and Mrs. George Leary had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Logan at Ringwood, on Thursday.

Also on Thursday, Frank Curtis made a left hand turn at Mill Corner which is decidedly against the law and as a result of getting excited in the congested traffic, he gave Mr. George Leary a very decided bump. The law is law, and we're either in or out. And in is in and out is out as each one of us usually discovers at some time along our trip of life.

On January 25th, Saturday afternoon the Jr. Institute meeting will be held at Blanche Atkinson's home. Visitors are always welcome. Come and join us in our interesting meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. John Spence entertained Rev. and Mrs. McEwen at supper last Wednesday evening.

And, last Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brillinger were with Mr. and Mrs. Will Morley for dinner.

Miss Isobel Ham spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sproxtion and family.

HOW THE QUINTS MAKE EASY LIVING

An Inside Story

It costs the Dionne quintuplets nearly $1,000 a month to live, but, young as they are, the famous five not only earn that sum but a great deal more. This statement is made by Claire Wallace in an article entitled "What's Ahead for the Quints?" in the November 15 number of Maclean's Magazine, in which she tells not only the present huge earnings of the Famous Five but also points out what they are likely to earn in the near future. The article states in part:

"If the famed daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dionne had been born as two, three or even four, their lives would have gone on very much as other children. Being five, that is impossible. Being five, they are worth a great deal of money, and will be worth more every day they can remain five. As their health is so important to their money-producing possibilities—if one died or was discovered to be not quite normal, their pictures would not be in such demand and their earning power would be cut considerably—they cannot be brought up as other girls, allowed the freedom of mixing with other children and taking chances on getting ordinary colds or childish diseases.

"Money-making and upbringing, the rocks upon which the relatives and guardians have split. Here they have not yet been able to reach an agreement, and only time will solve the difficulties. Oliva Dionne believes he should have control of the babies' accumulated funds. While the first board of guardians was in existence—consisting of Oliva, his father Oliver, who has dropped out of the battle and is living quietly in Callander, W. H. Alderson, G. K. Morrison and Dr. Dafoe—the quintuplets' bank account amounted to $23,000, which Oliva thinks, was pretty good.

When the Government stepped in last spring to take charge and appoint its own board of guardians, the latter accepted contracts for the quintuplets that would bring them $200,000 in the course of a few months or a year. Thus the Government is satisfied with the present situation financially, and looks forward to doubling and trebling the babies' wealth within a short time.

"The present financial position of the 12-month-old babies is that, by the spring of 1936, they will have taken in $200,000 in cash on contracts signed since the Government made them its legal wards. Most of the money has already been turned in; and within a few months all will be placed to their credit. By that time, it is probable that another $100,000 will be added to the sum, particularly if the children enter the motion picture business.

"Their money has been made by endorsing foods they use, and by allowing their names and pictures to be used for advertising purposes. Early in the life of the quintuplets, the Newspaper Enterprise Association stepped in to capture all photograph rights. It is said they will pay the quintuplets $50,000 for this privilege, and a royalty on all photographs published. From the N.E.A. the Toronto Daily Star acquired rights to handle all pictures published in Canada, settling with the N.E.A. but also adding many thousands to the quintuplets' bank roll.

"Syrup, milk and cereal firms add now to the income; and as the needs in food and clothing grow greater, it will be possible for the five to endorse more articles and make more and more money.

"Many offers deemed unfair financially or unwise from a health standpoint, are turned down by the Government and board of guardians. Sometimes several a week are refused, for always the health and safety of the babies are weighed before any contracts are undertaken.

"Early in May of this year, the quintuplets' estate was valued at $150,000, gathered from such sources as the following:

"Pathe Pictures, for making two two-reel films, $7,974 paid and a balance of over $82,000 to come.

"N.E.A. for photograph rights, $3,650 paid, with more to follow.

"Toronto Daily Star, for Canadian photos, $1,598, more to follow.

"George S. Dine, for quintuplet tea service, $15,000.

"Alexander Doll Company, for dolls, $2,500.

"G. V. Thompson, music published for quintuplet lullaby, $500.

"Carnation Milk, for testimonial, $2,000.

"Lehn and Fink, for Lysol testimonial, $1,000.

"Merrill Publishing Company, $100.

"Since then Pathe have made another film of the very young ladies, adding several thousands more to the swelling fund.

"Until the quintuplets were nearly a year old, their expenses were a small matter. Nurses were furnished free of charge by the Red Cross; doctors all over the world offered to assist Dr. Dafoe without fee; clothes and jewellery poured in from sympathetic and interested members of the public. (There are several hundred dollars worth of gold and silver bracelets, rings and necklaces in the guardians' safe-keeping, all donated by the generous public.)

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband Oliver C. Flewell, who passed away January 21, 1936. I miss him and mourn him in silence unseen. And dwell on the memories of our life that has been. Although forgotten by some he may be. The grave that contains him is sacred to me. You don't know the sorrow to be left alone. Until God sends a message. Into your home. Sadly missed by. Lonely Wife.

SHORT COURSE ATTENDANCE AND INTEREST HIGH

The third week of the classes in Home Economics and Agriculture being held in Stouffville is now underway, and the attendance and interest continues to increase. Agriculture Representative, R. E. White, believes this is a record class for York County, and it is one of the largest being held anywhere in the Province of Ontario this winter.

During the past week, various subjects have been discussed, which have included a special study of sheep and swine productions and marketing in the boys' class. The boys have also taken a special trip over to the farms of Don Alda, Senator T. P. O'Connor, J. Patterson, Hon. George S. Henry, and Roselawn Dairy.

On Friday afternoon, a joint literary program was presented in the basement of the Presbyterian Church. Several musical numbers and readings were capably given by members of the classes and the program also included demonstrations on the "Styles of Other Days," and a debate. The subject of the debate was "Resolved, that installment buying is Damaging to the Prosperity of the Country at Large". The affirmative side was upheld by Harry Spang and Sadie Evans, while the negative side was supported by Harley Wideman and Helen Abell. Mrs. Ball acted as critic and judge, and in a capable manner reviewed the arguments brought forth by the speakers. She gave the decision in favour of the negative side. Arrangements are now being made for a banquet at the close of the course, January 31st. It is expected Miss Bessie McDermid, Director of Ontario Women's Institutes Branch, Toronto will be the guest speaker, and the local Institute will have charge of the tables.
