BETHESDA

The Women's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Wm. Burkholder, on Friday, February 14th.

This is a new scribe substituting for the regular correspondent, who will be absent for a few weeks.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved wife and family of the late Wm. Bruce, who passed away at his home here, last week.

We are sorry to report Miss Edith Allin again under the doctor's care. We hope for a complete recovery soon.

Mr. S. P. Foote, is suffering from a very badly cut ear, which was the result of a fall he had last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Louis Brillinger has returned home after spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Russel Sproxtion of Pine Orchard.

Owing to the severe weather and bad roads, the attendance at both church and Young People's Society has been rather small, the last few weeks.

Well! how cupid's arrow hit some one around here, before St. Valentine's Day? We wonder, when we see Fred ploughing his way with a brand new automobile. This is leap year, so you better watch your step. You know, the fairer sex, fall for the man with the car.

The Junior Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. C. Burkholder on Saturday afternoon. The attendance was somewhat lessened by the snowstorm, but we hope for a larger number at the next meeting. This will be held on Thursday, February 20th, at the home of Miss Alma Burkholder, at 2 o'clock. Please remember the time as the Supper Club lesson will be longer than usual, and unless we get there on time the lesson cannot be covered. "There is nothing so important as punctuality."

What nice young couple would like to start up housekeeping, and operate our village store which is now vacant? The store was real handy when Uncle John and Aunt Mary called unexpectedly and you were just out of butter or soda biscuits. We will sure miss the open door where we could run in and warm our feet and meet the neighbours, to say nothing of the numerous hockey-games and wrestling matches, the boys used to listen to there. After all, the conversations over the old counter are always very picturesque and interesting.

What that big golden moon didn't see on Friday night would probably be hard to explain. But we know one scene he did witness. This was the big party held on Clarence Atkinson's hills. What a night! The crust was hard and slippery, the air keen, and the moon made silver paths across the surface of the earth. Everyone was out on the peaks to have some fun with the toboggans. In spite of the many upsets, which resulted in skinned knuckles, twisted feet, and not to forget the broken toboggan, everybody enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Although the morning hours came round, well, that moon was just too tempting.

RAISING GESE.

The essentials to success in goose raising, are free range and an abundance of tender grass or clover. The geese should start to lay about the middle of March, and the eggs should be set as soon as possible. It is advisable to springle the eggs with lukewarm water once daily when set under the mother goose or under hens, and twice daily when set in an incubator. Goslings require warmth after hatching and should be left under the goose or in the incubator for about two days.

When the goslings are ready for feeding, place a green sod near the brooder in order that they may pull the tender shoots. For the first few days they should be fed bread crumbs moistened with milk. When they are about a week old give them a moist mash composed of equal weights of corn meal, barley meal, bran and shorts, feeding three or four times a day for about two weeks.

Give the goslings a good start, then turn them out on good pasture, and discontinue the feeding of mash. They should be protected from cold rains, confined at night until the weather gets warm, and always have plenty of shade and fresh water.

ASK PROVINCE TO SHARE INCOME TAX WITH COUNTIES

Reeve W. H. Edwards Puts Resolution to York Council—Urges Increase for Gardhouse

A resolution requesting the Provincial Government to grant to counties a portion of the proposed provincial income tax acquired from county ratepayers was advocated by Reeve W. H. Edwards in York County Council.

"Prior to 1931 income assessment was liable for county purposes," declared Mr. Edwards, in moving his resolution. "At this period, however, certain municipalities applied to the Government to be exempted from income tax for county purposes and the Government, after much discussion, granted this request."

"During the past two years many representatives of municipalities have felt that the principle of this legislation was wrong, inasmuch as real estate, already overtaxed, had to bear the additional taxation."

"Now that the Government has promised to levy for income assessment it will be more efficiently accomplished and I feel this privilege of levying on income for county purposes should be returned," he declared.

County Council approved of an increase in salary for W. W. Gardhouse, county treasurer, from $3,000 to $4,000 a year.

A warning that unless an increase was given, Mr. Gardhouse's services may be lost to the county was given by Reeve W. Marsh Magwood of York Township, who declared that an outside concern had just offered the treasurer a position calling for a $5,000 per year salary.

"When Mr. Gardhouse took office three years ago he was given the minimum salary of $3,000 with a condition that as county finances bettered his salary would increase. We all know just how efficiently he has carried out his work. For three successive years he has balanced the budget and has succeeded in collecting from municipalities their levies on time. His duties this year have increased, for he has now taken over the work of three county commissions that were abolished."

Reeve Gus. Edwards, of Mimico, opposed the resolution. He declared a 25 per cent increase was far too great for any man in these trying times.

"I am sick and tired of having people receive credit for the financial condition of this county when the municipalities themselves carry out most of the work in collecting revenue," he declared.

STORING HONEY

Research experiments have shown that the original quality, flavour and colour of honey in storage can best be maintained at a temperature of 40-degrees Fahrenheit, or lower, and that rapid deterioration takes place at 60 degrees Fahrenheit. If the temperature is low and constant extracted honey can be stored indefinitely without change of colour or flavour and without fermentation.

VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE

Completes ITS VALUE

TESTS bring facts to light . . . and every test of Chevrolet performance adds further confirmation to the fact that the Valve-in-Head engine is the very best kind for a low-priced car. Two reasons tell why. First, the inherent design of this type of engine (used on racing cars, airplanes, speedboats) produces extra power. Second, the shaping of the cylinder head forces fuel to burn evenly and completely, saving you money on gas. Conventional engines can't do both these things at the same time; engineers agree you must have a Valve-in-Head engine to get this matchless power-economy combination. But let your own driving test furnish the proof. Drop in and drive a Chevrolet today. Easy 7% GMAC time payments.
