DR. MITCHELL PAYS TRIBUTE TO AGED SCHOOL TEACHER

A life-long resident of Bloomington district passed away at Markham on Sunday, Nov. 8, when Miss Frances Burnett, aged 76, died at the home of her sister Mrs. Phillip Jones. Miss Burnett was educated at Bloomington public school and graduated from the Model School, Newmarket, as a public school teacher. She taught at Dickson's Hill where one of her entrance pupils was Dr. Thos. Mitchell, who paid a wonderful tribute to the life of the deceased when speaking at the funeral service, declaring that she had much to do with moulding his life at that time.

Deceased was a daughter of one Daniel Burnett, and of late years had lived with her sister Mrs. Wm. Storey who died at Bloomington about three months ago, when she went to live with a half-sister at Markham. Until recent years she was organist of the church at Bloomington, and a valued Sunday school worker.

The funeral on Tuesday was at Bloomington Cemetery. Service in the United Church there was taken by Rev. C. B. Jeffery, assisted by Dr. Mitchell. The pall bearers were three nephews, Messrs. Herbert, Robt. and Wilbert Burnett, also Don Storey, John Whetter and J. Heels.

HONORED THEIR PRESIDENT

The belief that women cannot keep a secret has been disproved since the visit of the lady bowlers on Tuesday evening to the home of their president Mrs. James Ratcliff. The visit was most informal and was kept so quiet that even the husbands must have been dumb as to the whereabouts of their wives on that evening. Somehow the ladies of the green learned that their president had a birthday, and this accounted for the particular time of year in which they took their first officer by surprise. Stepping into the Ratcliff house without the slightest warning they took possession quietly and set about having a good time. Mrs. George Storey and Mrs. T. B. Rae, acting for the Club spoke words of commendation about the efficient work of Mrs. Ratcliff who had filled the office for three years now, and presented her with a piece of cut glass in the form of a vase with reflector stand.

LOCAL MARKET IS FAR REACHING

Stouffville Shippers Send Their Products Thousands of Miles By Land and Sea.

CORN FROM THE ARGENTINE

There is not a town or village on this line of the C.N.R. between Toronto and Lindsay that will show an export trade as great or as varied as Stouffville. Twenty-five years ago when the business of any area could be accurately judged by the extent of business done at the depot of any town, Stouffville stood on top, but of course that kind of indicator is no use now days, when places 25 miles from Toronto get practically all their supplies by truck, and so it is not used any more as a fair measuring stick.

The other day the scribe happened in at the local depot when Agent Preston gave us some information that we considered outstanding in the matter of export data for a small community. Within ten days we found that the Stouffville Gold Fish Supply Co. had made shipments of fish to points in Alberta, and earlier in the season to British Columbia. The Goodall Seed Co. Limited, shipped carloads of seed grain to the Port of London, England for the British and European market. Stiver Bros. had just shipped a carload of clover seed to Buffalo, and R. E. Brown consigned several carloads of turnips to points as far south as Georgia, Brillinger Bros. were loading a carload of vegetables for Timmins, Northern Ontario.

"These shipments were not extraordinary," said the agent, "they are being made at intervals all through the season when these particular products are marketable." As we said before, the imports, come largely by truck, although Mr. Preston pointed to bills of lading for five carloads of corn arriving at Stouffville from the Argentine. The corn comes in by boat, to Montreal and from there rail to Stouffville. The freight alone from Montreal runs $300 per car, but when this is spread over the number of bushels in the shipment it does not seem high.

Those who imagine the day of the railroad is over, have but to ponder over the business transacted by a village like Stouffville, and they will realize that there is much for these roads yet especially in the matter of long haulage.

LEMONVILLE PRIZE PLOWMAN ONLY 10 YEARS

Allen Wells, ten year old son of Elmer Wells of Lemonville won 2nd prize in the York County Home Ploughing Competition. There were fourteen entries in his class, of boys sixteen and under. Allen also received the prize for being one of the youngest boys ploughing.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Farrow, Stouffville, wish to announce the engagement of their second daughter, Florence Edna, to Herman Bruce Beach, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beach, of Siloam. The marriage to take place quietly early in December.

LIBRARY MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Public Library Board, of Stouffville, will meet in the Library on Thursday, Nov. 12th, at 7:30.

The prompt attendance of all the members will be much appreciated. By order of the Publicity Committee of the Board.

SALARY INCREASE

At a meeting of the Stouffville School Board on Monday evening, Miss K. Houston was granted an increase in salary of $100 per annum, effective January 1st next. Miss Houston joined the Continuation staff after her graduation five years ago, at a salary of $1400, but when the general cuts were imposed all over the province her salary was reduced to $1200, and the increase granted Miss Houston is the first upward turn since the lower salaries were effective.

About 30 members of the Stouffville Horticultural Society visited Unionville on Tuesday evening as guests of the flower-lovers there. Mr. Clark addressed the gathering on "Home Beautification," and Mr. J. B. Spencer, Ottawa, president of the Ontario Horticultural Society was present, and proved an interesting guest.

Defrauded Farmers in Barley Purchases—Get Three Year Jail Term

Farmers of Brooklyn, Blackwater, Sunderland and Stouffville waited Vainly for Promised Cheques.

FARMERS BE MORE CAREFUL

"This is a most astonishing case," stated Crown Attorney Conant in Whitby Police Court Tuesday, "the most contemptible I have ever heard. This man, in my opinion, is a villain, a rogue, a cheat. This man steals things that others have earned by the sweat of their brow. Under another administration this man would be tarred and feathered and I would hate to prosecute those who tarred and feathered him. He should be given the maximum penalty."

Defrauded Farmers

The Crown Attorney's declaration came after six witnesses, farmers from Brooklyn, Blackwater, Sunderland and intermediate points testified that the accused, Maxwell D. Sidey, alias Kerr, alias Rogers, alias Fettery, had between the 24th of September and the 28th travelled through the district and purchased barley from the farmers, stating that he was a representative of the Maple Leaf Milling Co. of Toronto. Numerous farmers in the Stouffville district were victimized.

Witnesses claimed that, after arrangements had been completed the accused had a transport from Lindsay pick up the purchases, amounting to some 856 bushels and told the farmers that a cheque would follow in the course of a few days.

Directed to Oshawa

Roy Junkin, owner and driver of the transport, stated that they hauled four loads and that when each time they came to Whitby, Sidey would telephone and say that he was instructed to take the loads to Oshawa, where they were sold to Hogg and Lytle. The fourth load, testified Junkin, was taken to Toronto purportedly to be turned into the Maple Leaf elevators there. As it was evening the accused instructed him to visit his sister in Toronto overnight and he would dispose of the load in the morning. In the morning the accused instructed him to take it to Oshawa, where it was sold. On the way to Oshawa Sidey told Junkin that he was to go to Cambury and pick up a load of wheat.

Didn't Get Cheques

At Cambury, Junkin stated, he was unable to locate the farmers, whereupon he telephoned the Maple Leaf Co. at Toronto, and they informed him that they did not know of any such person as Sidey, and further, that the elevators into which Junkin was to dump the wheat were lettered and not numbered as Sidey had informed him. Junkin immediately interviewed the farmers and learned that they had not received their cheques. The provincial police were called in, and Provincial Constable H. Clark and Provincial Constable Fred Jarvis, after investigating, notified all police. The accused was picked up in Toronto last Thursday a month after he had disappeared and was brought to Whitby to stand trial.

GOOD WORK COMPLETED COST OF WATER MAINS EXTENSION IS $1,450

The cost of the water works extension just completed at the west end of the village is found to be $1,450, it was disclosed this week when all accounts in connection with the undertaking were finally in. Councillor A. E. Weldon, chairman of the Water and Light Committee under whose direction the work was initiated and carried out, estimates that a direct benefit will be felt by some 16 householders. Those on Main street who were constantly menaced with frozen pipes, and those on the back street where the pressure was inadequate. In addition a reliable main passes about 16 vacant lots which may be built on at any time.

The general benefit to the rate-payers comes from the fact that every water pipe is now removed from under the Main street pavement from the extreme west end at Alex. Scott's to C.N.R. tracks. These pipes were liable to burst and cause serious damage to our fine pavement, and their removal has been urged ever since the road was built in 1930.

In the light of all this there is little doubt but that every taxpayer will readily sanction the expenditure made by the Chairman of the Committee who largely directed the work, and to the council in general for backing the scheme. "A nice feature of it all," said

Jack McGill, bookkeeper for Hogg & Lytle, Oshawa, testified that they had bought the barley from the accused and had paid him $658.76 for the four loads. Sidey had told them that he purchased the grain in the Muskoka district. On the last load they had told Sidey that they could not take his barley at the quoted price and Sidey had taken about four cents less, saying that he would be about breaking even.

Clarence Fairman, F. Gray, William Heron, A. G. Duff, G. Saunders and M. Burrows identified the accused but each told the Court that Sidey had given a different name. So many fictitious names were supplied that Crown Attorney Conant asked if his vocabulary was not exhausted.

With the hearing of each witness the accused declined to question, except to inform the Court that some of the stated losses were out a few bushels here and there. "There is always a different between the purchaser and the other," said the Crown, "but you got all the proceeds."

Had Bad Record

The Crown read Sidey's criminal record which included seven charges of theft, one of forgery, two of fraud and one of attempted fraud. The accused said that he had just got out in February.

Given Three Years

Sidey pleaded guilty to the charge of fraud and when asked by Magistrate Ebbs if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, declined. The Bench asked Sidey what he had done with the money and he said he had spent it and invested some.

"You have a very bad record," said Magistrate Ebbs. "It is a mean offence that you have committed. There is no reason why you should not receive the maximum, three years."

Wanted in Toronto

At the close of the case the accused was taken back to Toronto to stand trial on other charges and Magistrate Ebbs asked that the press "warn farmers to be more careful in dealing with strangers whom they have never seen before, particularly in trusting such large amounts of grain to strangers without proper identification."

Charge Dismissed

Arising out of this same case Roy Junkin was arraigned before Magistrate Ebbs on a charge of conspiracy to defraud and the charge was dismissed.

"This charge was laid when Sidey was at large," stated Crown Attorney Conant. "The complainants in this case felt very much aggrieved and as Sidey had not been apprehended it was felt that Junkin could help materially. I don't think there is any criminality—he bears a respected name in his community. I would say that the Crown has no evidence to offer. I would ask that this case be dismissed."

Magistrate Ebbs concurred with the Crown's plea and dismissed the accused.

Councillor Weldon to The Tribune

"is the fact that the entire expenditure is paid for out of surplus funds in the water works account, and thus local taxes will not be affected in any way whatever."

INTERESTING FERGUS WEDDING

A very happy event took place in Fergus, on the evening of October 30, 1936, when Miss Vera Marian Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Willis, of Fergus, became the bride of Mr. J. Barton Lymburner, youngest son of Mrs. Jas. H. Ratcliff of Stouffville.

The ceremony was performed at the United Church Parsonage, by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Bishop. The bride, who wore her travelling costume of navy-blue trimmed with rust, was attended by Miss Jean McDonald of Fergus, while the groom was supported by Mr. Wm. Deacon, also of Fergus.

After a dainty wedding supper at the home of Mr. Kenneth Lymburner, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon trip in Southern Ontario, followed by showers of confetti and good wishes.

On their return they will reside in Fergus.

The Veterans wish to thank the citizens of Stouffville and Ringwood for their generous response to the appeal for funds on Poppy Day. The amount collected totalled $49.00. R. Burkholder, Prest. O. Lehman, Vice President.

JOHN LEHMAN WAS BOOKKEEPER WITH PIONEER FIRM HERE

Later Became Accountant with Maple Leaf Milling Co.—Died at Family Home Here

Following a number of years of rather poor health, John A. Lehman passed away at his home in the west end of Stouffville on Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, about 7 o'clock, in his 65th year. A largely attended service at the late home on Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. T. Laidlaw of Toronto, was followed by interment at St. John's cemetery, Norway. Mr. Lehman was a member of Stouffville United Church.

The late Mr. Lehman was a native of Stouffville, born in the east end at a time when that part of the village gave promise of becoming an important business centre—His parents, Joseph Lehman and his wife Sarah Boadway, lived in the vicinity of Montreal street, the father being a millwright with a business connection extending far beyond his home village. Joseph was the son of a pioneer farmer to the Altona district, and his wife was a sister to our Mr. Isaac Boadway.

When a young man the subject of this sketch, John A. Lehman, became bookkeeper with Edw. Wheeler & Sons and left Stouffville with that firm when they moved to Cataract, near Orangeville. Later he was identified with the Maple Leaf Milling Co. at Montreal and then Toronto, in the capacity of accountant. He retired with broken health in 1929, and came back to Stouffville to live in the brick cottage he had erected for the comfort of his aged mother during her declining years and which she occupied until the time of her death.

John Lehman is survived by his wife who was a Montreal resident, and by three sons, Ross and Glen of Toronto, and Charles of Detroit. An only daughter, Miss Myrtle Lehman lives in Toronto. Two brothers of the deceased Jacob and Wilmot, both live in North Bay. Two sisters (Florence) Mrs. F. L. Gardiner is a resident of Springfield, Ohio, and (Rachael) Mrs. Chas. Hockaday, lives at Littleton, near Denver, Col.

Those who attended the funeral from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lehman and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Lehman and daughter Jean, all of North Bay; Mrs. F. J. Robertson, Montreal; Mrs. M. A. Lennox, Miss Verlie Lennox, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lennox, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. W. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lehman, all of Detroit.
