

QUALITY FEED and GRAIN NEWS

Mr. H. ...'s HOGS

Produced a pound of pork for every 2.7 pounds of feed consumed. They were started on Master Pig Starter and followed with 1936 grown grains plus 10 per cent Dixie-Super Hog Concentrate. They encountered no feeding difficulties of any description and they are showing him a nice profit.

Modern feeding methods as above outlined will solve your problem of what to produce profitably. Ten to twelve per cent protein feeds have their place in hog rations but positively will not show you a profit on to-days hog prices when fed separately. Balance your feeds for economy.

We also advise the use of Alfalfa meal in moderation in the growing period. Good Alfalfa contains 18 per cent protein and we are prepared to quote you special prices on this product.

WHAT CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES ARE

It is a mistake to conclude that any potatoes of good appearance will make good seed tubers, states John Tucker, Division of Botany, Experimental Farms Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture. Apparent soundness of the tubers constitutes no guaranty of freedom from diseases for they may carry virus diseases which are not recognizable in the tuber but which nevertheless seriously affect the yield and quality of the crop. The only way to be sure of seed that is practically free of these troubles is to buy certified seed.

Certified potatoes are tubers that have been grown expressly for seed purposes from vigorous plants, and are of good type, true to variety. These potatoes have been inspected during the growing season for diseases, and must conform to definite seed standards, both in the field and after harvest. Official tags are issued for such seed stock exclusively and no other type of label carries official recognition of seed potatoes, whatever. If the official tag is not on every container, the potatoes should not be accepted as certified seed.

There are no regulations in effect which prevent anyone from using any kind of potatoes for seed purposes, and some of the stores are selling table potatoes in their seed departments, but it is the buyers' privilege if he pays more than regular table stock prices, to demand the official tag, otherwise he may get only table potatoes with no reliable assurance whatever that they are free of virus diseases.

Well over a million bushels of certified seed have been sold annually for the past ten years, and a million bushels have already been sold from the 1936 crop, the bulk which have been exported to discriminating foreign markets. The best potato growers in other countries appear to appreciate the value of good seed and in spite of plentiful local supplies will pay the additional freight and tariff charges to secure Canadian certified seed potatoes.

FACTS ABOUT YORK COUNTY

And its Improved Financial Standing

The following is a partial statement by Dr. L. W. Dales, Reeve of Newmarket, Chairman of the 1937 Finance Committee of the York County Council in presenting the financial statement of operations of York County Council for the year ending 31st December, 1936, to the members of the York County Council.

"So that all our members and particularly the new members of County Council (there are 15 new members this year out of a total of 49) may get a broader picture of the County of York and a background of its recent financial history I submit a brief word picture.

The County of York is composed of 26 local Municipalities made up of 12 Townships, 8 Towns and 6 Villages. It extends in length some 120 miles with an equalized assessment of approximately $132,000,000 and a population of 236,000. Our County is partly rural and partly urban, the latter sprinkled with industrial centres. Within the County in the area skirting on the City of Toronto, we have 12 Municipalities with a total population of 174,000 people. Further within the County we have 5 Municipalities each with populations greater than that required to become a City—one of these Municipalities having a population of 73,000 people.

"From this you will see that on a basis of population the County of York is not only the largest County but the second largest Municipal Corporation in the Province of Ontario—yielding first place only to the City of Toronto.

On the 20th December, 1932, it was found that many municipalities (due to heavy relief and welfare requirements and an inability to collect the same amount of their taxes) were unable to pay their County levy and the year finished with certain Municipalities in arrears of levy to the County. York naturally had a corresponding Bank loan.

At that time it was publicly stated by certain members of County Council, as well as others in financial circles that many of these outstanding levies would never, or could never, be collected. Considerable publicity was given at the time to this condition and as a result the price of our bonds went down—below 80, reaching a low I believe, of around 78.

Our Bank at that time found it necessary to decline to increase loans, until such time as they could be assured that they had proper security and that the outstanding levies would be collected. For a time the County of York was unable to issue any cheques until the approval of the Bank was first secured, for each one. Many prophesied that it would be necessary for the County of York to apply for supervision under part 6 of the Ontario Municipal Board Act.

During the year 1933 aggressive leadership was given by the Warden and Commissioners, Finance Committee, along with the Members of County Council actively fighting from day to day to ward off this condition. In order to be brief, may I say that by the end of 1933, every dollar owing to the County of York by way of levy for the preceding year had been collected, in addition to interest penalties incurred thereon, and the spectre of "supervision" had retired partially, at least, in the background.

In the past, and in each succeeding year the County of York has had aggressive and prudent leadership, and finances since 1933 have been on a "pay as you go" basis—issuing no new debentures. We have had four consecutive balanced budgets with substantial surpluses each year and during the same time we have reduced our debenture debt by approximately $300,000.00.

At the end of 1936 we again have a Balanced Budget with a cumulative surplus of $28,102.29 and a Bank loan of approximately $190,000.00 less than 31st December 1935.
