LOCAL PEOPLE MADE "SUCKERS" AGAIN

Right on the heels of the warning issued in this paper last week against trusting strangers who are canvassing the farming areas, comes to light a rather unfortunate case of what looks like a wholesale swindle right here in Stouffville.

A gentleman who spent several weeks in town representing himself as an agent for automobile insurance, sold a dozen or two policies at $5 each, getting the cash in each case, and on Tuesday it came to light that he was not the company's agent at all.

One purchaser told The Tribune that he wrote the company asking for the shield which the agent promised to send for the front of his car. Information to hand Tuesday morning indicated that the agent in question was not acting for them, and the company advised that would-be purchaser of insurance to see the police and have the salesman apprehended.

Every season similar circumstances of local people being swindled come to light, and the wonder is that strangers continue to get cash from the pockets of farmers or townspeople so easily. This agent, the insurance agent, used the name of a local garage and had a local man accompanying him most of the time which gave his transactions an air of security.

Again we say it is better not to trust your money with strangers for what you can buy at home just as well. The presence of a go-between may be no guarantee, and the local person is getting a rake-off or he or she would not be on hand. Anyway the go-between may be taken in too! Last year a subscription agent swindled local folk on magazine orders. This year it was insurance. Next!

HIGHER CLASS BALL SEEN HERE

With the reorganization of the Stouffville Baseball Club the other evening it was announced that the local this season would step into Intermediate A, series, which is a grade higher than they have been seen in the past year or two. Entering the faster series will broaden the scope of territory from which Stouffville may draw players, as material from Uxbridge, Sutton and even Port Perry may be available to us, these centres not having a team. Stouffville, naturally may need to draw on the resources of these places in view of the fast company in which they will travel.

The league consists of Orono, Oakville, Brampton, Woodbridge, Sunderland and Stouffville. With such baseball as should be exhibited in this league, decidedly better patronage should be accorded the games in the various towns.

Reeve A. E. Weldon is again president of the club and L. E. O'Neill team manager.

DEATH EASES LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. A. R. Skinner of Newmarket Dead—Sister of Mrs. John Windsor.

Following a lengthy illness, Mrs. Blanche Hanna Skinner died at her home in Newmarket on Tuesday evening. Her husband, Abe Skinner, died eight years ago.

Mrs. Skinner lived most of her life in Newmarket, and before her marriage she worked for the Office Specialty. Mr. Skinner was a carpenter working there and in Toronto. Mrs. Skinner was operated on a year ago and since that time she has not been well.

Two children, Helen, who will be three in May, and Betty eight, survive. Three sisters, Mrs. Ed. Willis of Newmarket, Mrs. John Windsor of Musselman's Lake, and Miss Nellie Hanna of London, and a brother, James Hanna of Niagara Falls, N.Y., are still living.

COUNCILLORS SIT UNTIL MIDNIGHT

The Stouffville councillors established a record on Monday evening for holding long sessions, when the members sat from 7.30 right through until a few minutes of 12 midnight. There was an avalanche of knotty questions to be solved, and the demand of Constable Quibell for more pay proved a hard one to get around. Mr. Quibell told the council that $300 per year was no good, and he lost money by accepting it last year. He had to maintain a car and pay telephone rental, answer everybody's beck and call 24 hours a day. Markham village shell out to the extent of $480 and Stouffville, he thought should be as good as Markham. In fact he asserted that we have more cars here in a week than the sister village sees in a month. Mr. Quibell asked to be increased from $300 per year to $480.

Councillor Swift said it would be too bad to loose such a good constable, and he wasn't adverse to raising the pay. Councillor Brown said he too would like to pay more money but he could not see where it was to come from unless taxes were increased. Councillor Brillinger thought that with the extra mill coming back from the legislature, the cop could be taken care of and at the same time increased taxes avoided. He didn't favor $180 increase however.

Councillor Russell said he would not favor any such increase as was asked for. Reeve Weldon reminded the council that they had no spare cash, and he felt the citizens would censure council for making another jump in the police pay after the substantial increase granted last year. He said that village business did not require a car on the road very much. He thought Mr. Quibell should be satisfied with the jobs provided for him. He estimated them to total around $60 per month.

Councillors Brown and Brillinger finally introduced a motion to advance the salary to $400, with Councillor Russell hedging to set it at $350, but the $400 amount prevailed and carried.

Thos. Birkett, insurance, offered council a coverage for public liability and property damage at a little less rate than was paid the past year. He was given the business and will be instructed to issue a policy. Council thought a local agent should have precedence over others.

George Storry said that the number attempting to evade the dog tax is growing and something should be done. Council thereupon took a definite step when they set a dead line for registering dogs—April 17. Failure to do so will bring a court summons, as officially announced in this issue.

Marvyn Lemon submitted a plan to provide more water at the reservoir property to eliminate the annual summer shortage. Briefly the plan calls for the construction of a wall west of the present reservoirs across the south end of the swampy section designed to raise the water in the swamp and provide a six inch stream running into the present reservoirs. Estimated cost around $4500. Mr. Lemon said he felt sure the scheme would work, but no action was taken at this meeting. A special session may be held to give the problem full consideration.

Bert Licorish and Ralph Burkholder for the Veterans asked council what they intended to do about a Coronation Ceremony. Council refused to sponsor the idea, but offered to help the veterans to which end a committee was appointed to act in conjunction with the veterans should they hold a ceremony. The committee is Councillors Russell, Swift, and Reeve Weldon. The committee met the veterans' committee after midnight and they sat until one o'clock.

J. R. Hodgins sent a letter urging council to give attention to planting maple trees on Main street along the barren stretches. Letter referred to the streets committee.

Reeve Weldon reported an interview with H. F. Irwin, director of the Dominion wide Home Improvement Plan. The merchants will be asked to meet this gentleman sent out by the Dominion Gov't on Tuesday evening, April 13. There is nothing to pay and nothing to buy, and every merchant, builder, carpenter and painter is expected to show up at this gathering.

Councillors Russell and Swift moved a resolution prohibiting parking in front of the feed store next the library for a distance of 30 feet. Signs will be posted setting out the area.

A number of accounts were passed for payment, and adjournment made at ten to twelve ending a four and half hour session.

"EARLY BIRD" IS TO GET THE WORM

On Saturday Mr. H. B. Preston relinquished his duties as Canadian National Agent at Stouffville, after being here for nearly three years, and after 43 years in the service of the company. Mr. and Mrs. Preston are likely to return to Belleville. No employee is allowed to serve after he reaches the age of 65, and for this reason Mr. Preston has been looking forward to his retirement at this time.

It is unofficially reported that the delay in naming a permanent agent to succeed Mr. Preston is caused from two agents who applied both having been in the service of the railway exactly the same number of years, weeks, and even days. It is now being ascertained who started earliest in the morning.

Of the two agents involved one is none other than our own Magnus Mowat, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mowat, and naturally all will wish that our Stouffville old boy will have started to work on the very first morning before the dew was off the ground. The decision on the matter, however, may be reached and announced any day, even before this article reaches the press.

VILLAGE TAX SALE PLAINTIFF LOSES HIS OWN CASE

Arrearages Liable Estimated $2,000

According to information revealed in the auditor's report submitted to the village council tax payers in Stouffville are in arrears to the extent of $7,500 in round figures. One third of this or $2500 is owing on the 1936 tax collection, while the remainder of the arrears string back as far as 1930 for which year $25 is still outstanding.

The council has intimated to the treasurer that they want a tax sale staged this summer, and proceedings will be commenced almost immediately. Even then three months must elapse ere sufficient advertising is done to permit the village to hold a legal sale.

It is interesting to note that tax arrears from 1930 to 1935, (six years) total $4095.98 to which penalties have been added of $949.76. We the tax sale is revealed it will total over $2,000.

David Kirby of Markham and an old Ballantrae lad is critically ill in a Toronto hospital. David, whose mother lives in Markham, is a former Stouffville school student

PLAINTIFF LOSES HIS OWN CASE

And is Himself Assessed for $35 Full Counterclaim

Only one case was listed for trial at the Division Court sittings here on Monday before His Honour Judge Macdonald.

As a result of an automobile accident on the night of November 26th last year on the Frank O'Conner Drive in York Township, George Lukan of Scarborough Junction sued John White of the 6th Concession Markham for $74.00 for damages to his car and injuries to his wife. White denied liability and counter-claimed for $35.00 for damages to his car.

The plaintiff stated in his evidence that he was travelling in the north traffic lane leading into Toronto. The defendant contended that the plaintiff was travelling in the centre lane and he was travelling in a northerly direction in the south traffic lane and just as the plaintiff was passing him, he turned his car into that of the defendant. Marks on the south painted line convinced the Court that the accident happened as described by the defendant and gave the plaintiff's claim and dismissed the defendant judgment on his counterclaim with costs, and witness fees.

Mr. Deroche of Toronto for Plaintiff. F. L. Button, K.C., for defendant.

The April meeting of the Junior Institute will be held at Mrs. J. Silverthorn's on Wednesday afternoon the 14th, at 2.30 o'clock. Roll call for the day is to be answered by an interesting feature of Denmark. Consumers Co-operative is to be the subject of an address by Mr. Frank Sangster. Each member wear a house dress made by herself. Parade of dresses and prizes awarded. Everyone welcome. Social half hour concludes the afternoon.

MAY BAN SALE OF UNPASTEURIZED MILK

At a meeting of the Stouffville Board of Health last week it was decided to ask the village council to pass a bylaw forbidding the sale of raw or unpasteurized milk to the householders for daily consumption. Dr. Sangster pointed out that the Ontario Department of Health has this village in the category of those which had adopted this advanced legislation, but while there is no such bylaw in existence, only pasteurized milk was being sold by the two local dairies. He recommended to the Board that this be made absolute. It is likely that the municipal council will approve of the suggestion and take steps to enact such a bylaw. The Board of Health consists of the M.O.H. Dr. Sangster, the reeve A. E. Weldon, and A. V. Nolan.

WARNING!

To Owners or Harbors of Dogs

Take notice that all persons owning or harboring a dog is required to apply for registration to the assessor of the village of Stouffville for a dog tag ($2 for a male and $4 for a female), and further those failing to comply with this warning on or before Saturday, April 17, will be served with a summons without further notice.

Also take notice that the by-law requiring dogs to be on leash or under control will also be enforced as of April 12, 1937.

Passed in open council this 5th day of April, 1937.

Winter on Gulf of Mexico

It's nice to get away, but it is still nicer to get back home, is, we gather something of the thought Dr. Ira Freil had in mind when he told us that he had motored 500 miles in a single day on the last leg of their journey from Mississippi district where the Doctor and Mrs. Freil spent the winter. They were accompanied by Miss Ada Robinson. The travellers reached home tired of course, but feeling better for the change of climate during the past few months. Mrs. Freil stood the journey home in grand style although she is looked on as the invalid of the household since she met with the accident three years ago in which she suffered a fractured limb.

"Coming up through southern Alabama we noted that our colored brethren had solved the transportation problem, by hitching a cow to a democrat," said the Doctor in settling down to talk of the holiday in the South. Owing to flood damages we were detoured in Kentucky, and unexpectedly landed in Indiana. It was noticeable around Lawrenceburg, near Cincinnati that the Ohio is only protected here by a very high bank, and naturally should be done. Council thereupon took a definite step when they set a dead line for registering dogs—April 17. Failure to do so will bring a court summons, as officially announced in this issue.

Marvyn Lemon submitted a plan to provide more water at the reservoir property to eliminate the annual summer shortage. Briefly the plan calls for the construction of a wall west of the present reservoirs across the south end of the swampy section designed to raise the water in the swamp and provide a six inch stream running into the present reservoirs. are maintained and one is painfully aware of their proximity by the aroma. Women workers receive a nickle a bucket for shucking out the oysters with their deft fingers and a sharp knife. They are paid on the spot as they hand their bucket of oysters. Gumbo soup is a popular dish on the Gulf coast. Throw in a few oysters, a few shrimp, fish buttressed with rice and some Okra, not too difficult to swallow, and some times you get away with it, but one is not safe until the third day.

Mosquitoes! And then some. The pests have learned not to sing, so they can swoop down on one and get in their deadly work ere their presence is discovered. The adjacent marshes make good breeding ground. This was partly controlled at one time by airplanes spreading oil, but the cost is said to have been too much and the pests are having their own way.

Saturday is the day for crowds, just as it is in Stouffville, only the people are different. Here are the negro girls with their kinky hair waxed out straight, and white girls with calico apron and sun bonnet, white, stood out in the crowd. She was selling pralins (peccans and brown sugar syrup) a great delicacy and much appreciated by fat men. We see a turpentine nigger in rags, stick and rheumatism, all good natured and jostling one another in the crowds.

Any visitor to the Gulf is impressed with the sea wall. It runs 40 miles and is made up of sloping steps up from the water. This keeps the tide from washing away the picturesque highway. Our James with his farmer instinct, marvelled at the time they cut hay. On February 1st with trees in blossom and thus things to him seemed upside down.

The visitor is naturally interested in the Bellingsrath Gardens in the Isle Au Atec (El-o-Wa) River in Alabama. It is a veritable fairy region. Here are thousands of rose bushes, Japonica, white and red, in abundance, and other beautiful flowers in all their glory and profusion. One shrub is 110 years old and is still going strong. In fact one can scarcely describe the beauty of this place. Our party took more than two hours following the various trails, all bordered by brilliant flowers, and lined with trees. There is a fast rushing river to add to the beauty of this fairy land.

That news item in The Tribune about the likelihood of Ontario farmers starting banana plantations because of the warm weather this winter, no doubt started the Mississippi on the run.

Dr. Freil was hesitant about saying much about the nuisance taxes in the Mississippi district, as it might catch on in Ontario if the politicians got to hear of them. However he explained that you are forced to purchase "tokens," one cent buys ten, and you must put up one of these with each purchase of five cents, being equivalent to 2 per cent. A sample has been left at the office of The Tribune. Dr. Freil thought the token made a two-way grab added as it is to the regular taxes.

We have reserved for a future issue observations made by Dr. Freil on historic places of interest, and we will tell our readers just what he said on this and other things of interest at a later date.
