Just five days after the death a daughter on February 20. John Risebrough passed away at his late completely severed. home near Agincourt on February 25, and was laid to rest at the Hartman cemetery near Mount Albert on complications will set in. 'He was Monday of this week. The late Mr. employed by Alfred Pattenden Risebrough was in his 79th year.

The double bereavement is a great shock to the family. Mrs. E. O. (Grace) Moore, daughter, was resident of Scott Township until the time of her death which was followed so closely by that of her father. John Risebrough was born in Scott where he was well known and highly respected. Twenty-one years ago he located in Scarboro where he remained until the time of his death He is survived by his wife whose maiden name was Florence Neale and by one daughter Mrs. James Whitney of Scarboro, also four sons. John and William of Markham Stephen of Aurora, and Ernest at home.

A short service was held at the late home and public service in the Hartman church, followed by interment in the cemetery close by. Many old friends of the family still in Scott Twp. attended the funeral.

GORMLEY BIBLE

The owner of the large spacious dwelling in Gormley, Ontario, which has for the past five years been the home of the Ontario Bible School, will immediately upon the termination of the present Semister, take steps to convert this dwelling into a Benevolent Rest Home, the Lord willing. A short time will be re quired for redecorating, also for few necessary changes which wi have to be made. My interests have for a number of years been equally divided between these two enterprises, but my con victions are such that I have reason to believe the time has arrived to make this change, and I am fully convinced God makes no mistake in His leadings. It only remains for us to will, to do His will. I am wel aware, friends, that our govern ment has provided an institution for the unfortunate citizens of our land, but this Gormley undertaking is due to a revelation given me with regard to the need of a Church Home. Certainly we appreciate these efforts put forth by those in authority, but as I view the situa tion we as Christians who consti tute the true Church of God regardless of what denominational name we may be known by, have double obligation. Luke 20:25 commands that we render unto Caesar-the things that be Caesar's and unto God the things which be God's. We are not authorized to demand of the government, that which the Lord hath enjoined upon the church. Therefore we do well to consider such scriptures as Matt 25:34-46, Psa. 41:1-3; Luke 6:38 2nd Cor. 9:6 and .7; and many more

It has been a blessed privilege friends, for me to have been associated in a small measure at least, with the work of the Bible School and I feel the efforts pu forth by me, have been small in comparison to the blessings received in a spiritual way. I listen to the testimonies of many others who like wise have derived great benefits, I am made to feel; eternity alone will reveal the result.

Long Life Spent In This District

Resident of Stouffville for twentyfive years, and prior to that a resident of Whitchurch Township all her long life, Mrs. John Oxendale, passed away at the Brierbush Hospital here on Thursday, February 24. She would have celebrated -her $2nd

The late Mrs. Oxendale, whose maiden name was Manilla Dennie was born in Newmarket, her parents being farmers. After her marriage to John Oxendale in 1895 the couple farmed for many years in the township, spending most of their time on the Empringham farm at Bethesda the Hutchinson place near Stouffville, and for some years they retired on the Major Thompson place on the 5th just north of the Markham townline. It was while living here that their only child, John R. Oxen-dale, was born. The father died a couple of years after retiring in Stouffville where they had bought a house on Rupert Avenue from Mrs. Latchford. Mr. Oxendale's death is quite well remembered, he having died as a result of a fall in the yard of premises. Since that time the widow and her only son lived alone. that human kindness could do was provided in the home by a thoughtful son, but when it became evident that special nursing was required Mrs. Oxendale was removed to the hospital.

The funeral on Sunday was at ended by many old friends and neighbors, burial being made at the Heise Hill Cemetery. Rev. L. E Atkinson, whom the mother had known from his boyhood, preached the service. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Jos. H. Hoover, Lou Lownsborough, Robert McKinnon, Slack, Frank Williamson,
