The evening church service in the Stouffville United will be withdrawn for the next four weeks while the pastor of the congregation is on holidays. Dr. Thomas Mitchell will preach next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and it is anticipated there will be a large congregation to hear this able speaker coupled with the fact that evening service will not be held in this church.

Last Saturday Mr. Thomas Williamson completed another mile stone in his long life when he reached his 87th birthday. He is seen about town almost every day, and while not so active as we have known him in the days of long ago, Mr. Williamson runs up and down street with quite an alert step. While there are few women in town whose ages exceeds his Mr. Williamson is the oldest living man with perhaps the exception of L. C. Wideman who is a couple of months his senior. We see them both almost daily at the post office.

Drunken Drivers

Are a public menace to safe motoring, and so is the mechanically defective car. Most of your trouble is probably developed through poor lubrication, and bad gasoline.

He was the bell ringer before the clock was installed and he had charge of the new pavement from 1930 until three years ago and was always a faithful worker. He enjoys getting down town occasionally where for so many years he was a familiar figure on Main street.

Thirteen rinks from Newmarket, Markham, Agincourt, Whitby, Uxbridge and Stouffville played in the ladies' trebles tournament, which was held on the Stouffville greens last Friday. Mr. Sandy Jones lost his watch while cultivating in a field for William Griffith, and hunt as he could, the time piece was not located and the farmer wended his way home no doubt feeling that he had lost his best friend. However, Jonathan Morganson strolled over a couple of hours later and came upon the time piece which was lying in the dirt ticking off the time as if nothing had happened, and so owner and watch were reunited. To say the least, it was an unusual piece of luck to locate so small an article in a large field.

The frame residence and lot adjoining the Mennonite Church to the west was sold by auction on Saturday to Mrs. Jacob Boadway. Bidding was very good for the property which Auctioneer Farmer finally disposed of to our Church street resident who is offering her present home for sale. ## CLOSE GAME WITH WHOLESALE GROCERS

Coming from behind a six run deficit Stouffville were just nosed out 6-5 in an exhibition twilight game with Toronto Miracles on Monday evening. Jack Pennock who was the opening moundsman for the locals was pounded considerably for four innings, loading the bases on several occasions, although four of the six runs were scored on errors. Stouffville went into the last half of the game with the score stacked 6-0 against them, but that was where things began to happen. The Toronto Club changed their tricky right-hander for a southpaw whose offerings were given a real ride by the town sluggers, Pennock, Lehman and Holden, and Wideman each collecting some real smashes. The tying run was nearly brought over in the last of the seventh when Cook attempted to make home from second on a double by Wideman. "Dinty" Hodgins turned in a nice pitching effort in the last four innings, holding the Torontonians, scoreless. Toronto Miracles are a team sponsored by the Miracle Wholesale Marketer of Toronto. They play in the North Toronto O.B.A. Intermediate league and stand third in their group. Stouffville lineup was as follows: Steve Amey, p Jack Pennock, Dinty Hodgins, 1b H. Cook, 2b Reg. ## WHEAT CUTTING ON!

Wheat cutting will be going on among quite a number of local farmers this weekend, while a few fields in the neighborhood were cut early in the week. Victor Wagg whose farm adjoins the village of Markham to the east cut a nice stand of wheat last week, which stood in shock over Sunday. This must have been one of the first fields in the neighborhood to hear the click of the binder this season, and it fairly makes us stand still to think that grain cutting time is upon us for we usually associate it with the beginning of fall. However, cutting will be two weeks earlier this year.
