Mariposa Farmer Married 68 Years

Lineage Linked With The Hoovers

Residing on the farm in Mariposa Township, on which he was born, and which has been owned by his family since 1835, Lyman E. Minthorne is celebrating his 88th birthday quietly with his wife, now 89 years of age, whom he married 68 years ago.

Mr. Minthorne, despite his advanced age, is still active and proud of the U.E.L. blood he inherits from his grandfather, who drew 200 acres from the Government. The past 103 years have seen the Minthorne family turn the land from a forest wilderness into one of the most successful farms in the fertile Township of Mariposa.

The lineage of the Minthorne family is linked with that of the Hoover family, of which Herbert Hoover, late President of the U.S.A. is a distinguished member.

"Herbert Hoover's mother married a Minthorne, a cousin of mine," explains Mr. Minthorne. "Several years ago a Minthorne from the South called on me seeking information regarding the Minthornes, believing that we were of the revolutionary branch of the family, but I had to tell him that they were 'United Empire Loyalists,' he added proudly.

Mr. Minthorne was associated with I. E. Weldon, K.C., of Toronto, then of Lindsay, in connection with the defunct Farmers' Bank in attempting to secure a settlement for the depositors. "We finally succeeded in getting a measure through the House of Commons, whereby depositors were to be reimbursed with some reasonable amount, but the Senate sent back the measure, asking what was meant by 'reasonable amount.' The war came on and the whole matter was pigeonholed, and remains the same today."

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. W. P. Johnson announces the engagement of his youngest daughter Franke Annetta to Murray James Lewis, son of Mrs. Lewis and the late Mr. George Lewis. The marriage to take place in November.
