The auction sale of farm stock etc., belonging to W. H. Wilson on the farm just north of the townline on the 4th was a splendid success. Horses of course, were not sought after at this time of year, and one old warrior was dropped off to a new owner at $14 while another sold for $46. However, cattle and hogs went skyward. One sow realizing $39, the best priced heifer $46 and still another at $45. The Wilsons who have resided here for around 30 years will continue to remain with us, but they will shortly move to a new residence around the village
