The little range WITH THE BIG CAPACITY

This new Findlay Tortoise Cook is a modern cooking and heating stove with all the efficiency of larger and more expensive ranges—built to sell at a very low price. Small, compact (only 38 inches by 21 inches with reservoir), it requires little floor space to do its big job of heating and cooking—and the full size 14-inch oven will take care of the baking for the average family.

The oval firepot burns either wood or coal—a large feed door accommodating large pieces of wood.

The wood fire box is 18 inches long—a feature not often found in this type of range.

A single door covers fire box and ash pit doors and grate ends—oven thermometer is standard equipment—reservoir 4½-gallon capacity.

Melville

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Stouffer and family spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steckley of Toronto spent New Year's with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Steckley.

Ringwood

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph MacKenzie of Toronto spent the week with Miss Prascilla Pipher.

The snow plows were busy in this district the last few days clearing the highways following the recent snowfall. All county highways are in good condition for motoring.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Joseph Reesor and family in their sad bereavement in the loss of a loving wife and mother.

Miss Norma Peck of Toronto spent the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Peck.

At the Ringwood school meeting last week motions to install electric lights in the building and to introduce music on the curriculum were both defeated. The Tribune sought to find out if the farmers in the section were really against electric lights and the teaching of music. Every person interviewed agreed they liked electric lights and they thought the children ought to try and sing, but all were opposed to having the necessary cost tacked on to their tax bills.

"We pay $1,200 a year to maintain the Ringwood school and only have 13 pupils," was the way one farmer explained it. Another said, "we were at that school concert and say, the way those kids could sing when Miss Button was in charge made me think they didn't need any extra music teacher to come in teaching music." Still another farmer said he would vote for both improvements if the section could be enlarged to make it worth while fixing up. It was proposed to install electric fixtures but this was defeated. No cost was submitted by the trustees. A music teacher was estimated to cost around $80, half to be paid by the Department.

Goodwood

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Crapper and daughter Joy of Ottawa and Miss Jessie Reid, Toronto, were with their parents Mr. and Mrs. John F. Reid.

Miss Eva Latcham, Toronto, and friends from Highland Creek were New Year guests at the home of J. Latcham.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Baston, Toronto, were with their parents Mr. and Mrs. S. Byam, while other guests here were Mr. Robt Sellers of the 5th concession and Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott of Toronto who spent New Years with their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hall.

The Goodwood Siloam branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society report a splendid year just closed. At least it was one of progress for receipts were $59.08 as against $53.72 a year ago. Everybody who assisted in this worthy cause is congratulated, but especially the collectors deserve personal praise. They were Miss Mary Cooper, Miss Ethel White, Mrs. Bert Maye, Miss Edna Brignal, Miss Ruth Hope, Miss Jean Slack, and Mrs. W. Haynes. Rev W. Kendall's collectors gathered $14.16. They were Miss Dorothy Johnson, Miss Nora James.

We congratulate our new councillor John M. Rae for heading the poll in the township election on Monday. Also we think credit is due Walter Beach and Fred Middleton who were returned to office. Now Goodwood should blossom out. We like to put our order in necessities at once, and they include new sidewalks, basement under the town hall for concerts street pavement, and a few electric lights. Why not? haven't we got our hands on the township strong box? And the most able two councillors alive?

Walking on Fire Actually Occurs

(By Harry Worling)

Before coming to India I found it hard to believe that annually in this land thousands of people actually walk on fire—real, red-hot fire—in order to pay vows made to their gods. However, after being an eye-witness to several of these events, I must confess that my scepticism has gone; for the people do actually walk on fire—real, red-hot fire.

One evening before a recent fire-walking festival, I went down to the Hindu temple in a nearby village, and there I saw for myself the fire pit clearly marked out, on which the people would walk on the morrow. The pit would be about two and a half feet wide and about thirty feet long. Alongside the pit were a number of cart loads of good hardwood. The fire would be lit about midnight and kept going all night until the actual fire walking next morning.

On the day of the festival I again wended my way to the temple, and after considerable effort I succeeded in squeezing through the large crowd and arrived at an excellent vantage ground, right at the head of the fire.

Now as to the fire, it was a real fire, no question about that. There was a bed of glowing red coals some six inches or more deep. I had not long to wait to witness the real fire walking; for shortly the priests began their incantations, and the festival was on! The band plays and in an atmosphere which is tense the priests encircle the fire several times, sprinkling as they go some holy (?) water on the fire. Then the men—I have yet to see a woman take part in this ceremony—who are specially prepared for the fire walking by fasting and meditation, begin to walk on the fire. One by one they come, dressed only in a loin cloth and garlanded with flowers. Some walk the whole length in a devotional attitude; some walk half-way and get off to one side; others run; many carry children with them, one man carrying two. Occasionally some are quite severely burned at such festivals, but upon examination of the feet of a number after they had walked, I could see no ill-effects from the fire.

As one witnesses such an event, he cannot help but be moved by it, and wonders just how many Christians would literally walk on fire for their Lord. The prophet Micah speaks for our edification: "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." I covet your prayers as I seek to witness to the millions in this land who are treading the fiery path of a Christless life.

Pine Orchard

Happy New Year to one and all!

Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse and family spent New Year's with the Hood family at Ballantrae.

Miss Edna Roffey of Markham spent the weekend at the Reid home.

Little Caroline Galley spent the holidays with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lundy.

Rae McClure and Doug Hope are spending a time at Guelph, where they are taking a short course at the O.A.C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lundy were guests of their daughter Mrs. Brammer on Monday.

Howard Lehman spent a few days with Richard Hutchinson. Mrs. Armitage and Ruth were Newmarket visitors over the weekend.

The pupils of the Union Sunday School enjoyed an old fashioned sleigh ride last week. Mr. Starr and Mr. Harper each taking a team and giving the kiddies a five mile ride. Upon their return the ladies had a lovely hot supper waiting.

On Wednesday evening the Christ Church held their concert with a good crowd present.

We hear talk of hockey games again this year, how about a bit of practise boys?

TO RE-STOCK LAKE SIMCOE WITH BASS

As a result of a visit to the Department of Game and Fisheries, Toronto, by a deputation of Reeves, councillors, large property owners, and other interested persons from all around Lake Simcoe, a maskinonge hatchery will be established at Peterborough, while a rearing pond for bass and lunge will be created at Bradford, on the old Holland River bed south of the dam. In addition, Lake Simcoe is to be re-stocked with bass during the coming year.

The choice of the Holland bed as a rearing pond is said to be ideal, as, with abundance of feed, it is a natural ground for lunge. Over 2,000,000 lunge fry hatched in the different hatcheries of Ontario this year, were let go when three quarters of an inch in length.
