Barkey Bros., threshers, pulled into Mr. E. Ratcliff's one morning last week with their tractor, and cultivated 30 acres in just eight hours. They cultivated to about the depth of plowing. The cost per acre for this type of tractor work runs around 60 or 65c.

Ringwood readers will recall the C. E. Watson family who left here for Oshawa about 12 years ago. Mr. Watson conducted the paint and carriage shop here, and was a real artist with the brush and on upholstery work, and received many car jobs. We are pleased to note that one son Edgar A. Watson has met with good success in following up his father's handiwork. The Oshawa Times recently reported that Edgar has purchased the business and goodwill of the Perritt Paint Co., Oshawa, he having been an employee of this firm for years or since they started. It is a thriving business handling many cars for repairs, etc., to body tops over the year.
