This district was deeply bereaved on Thursday, by the passing of Mrs. P. L. Jull of Brooklin, wife of Rev. Jull pastor of the United Church there and well known in Claremont. Mrs. Jull passed away on Thursday after a lengthy illness, and was buried at Grove Side Cemetery, Brooklin, on Saturday. Mrs. Jull, whose maiden name was Maud Playfair shared with her husband for 13 years the Brooklin charge. It is interesting to note that only two weeks ago, members of the congregation gathered to present the couple with a gift of flowers on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Besides a sorrowing husband she leaves to mourn her loss two sons, Kenneth and Gordon and one daughter Ruth. The service on Saturday was largely attended, and assisting pastors were Rev. J. E. Glover of Claremont, Rev. W. R. Tanton, Oshawa, Rev. W. P. Woodger, Cobourg, Rev. Robt Simpson of Brooklin and Rev. George Telford, Oshawa, former college friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Jull.

Ballantrae

Building is quite brisk for we are told that Robt. Windsor is to build a cottage right away for Mrs. Noakes of Toronto. This will be an addition to the sub-division on the east side of the lake.

We hear that Fred Cummings has secured the contract for building a new house for A. B. Sheffer at Bethesda. Fred is just completing a cottage built at Musselman's on the Windsor Drive for a Toronto man named Mackie.

Remember the anniversary services to be held in Ballantrae United Church, on Sunday, May 28, at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. The special preacher will be Rev. Thos. Mitchell, M.A., D.D., of Ringwood. Special music at both services.

Our school children will be taken to Toronto in trucks, we hear, in order to see the King and Queen next Monday. Their reservation is in Exhibition Park and whether the older people get a glimpse of their majesties or not, our kiddies are sure to see them.

Our summer church (United) has been all slicked up for the reception of the summer worshippers this season. The interior has been sheeted with fir, and varnished. About 40,000 feet of lumber was used, but the whole interior has been transposed into a most inviting place of worship.

Another "go ahead concern" of our village that is adding improvements, right now is the Roy Andrew Shell gasoline station, where the grocery store has been enlarged to provide table service for the ice cream patrons. A liberal addition has been added to the building which also improves the general appearance of the place. Meals are served here too, we understand.
