

Musselman's Lake is coming to be known as the family summer resort because of the hundreds of children who play along its shores. A family scene is the kiddies playing on the sandy beach enjoying themselves in such invigorating play they love so much.

BIBLE COLLEGE BRIDAL SCENE

Katharine Alice Ord Weds Russell Kenyon Vickers Popular Stouffville Pastor

The marriage took place on Saturday afternoon in the Toronto Bible College of Katharine Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

ing the signing of the register Mrs. William Nicholas of Hamilton, gillardia and baby's breath. Miss Jean Burrell played the wedding music and during the ceremony in a setting of ton sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white taffeta gown on princess lines, and an elbow length veil. She carried white lilies and fern. Her sisters, Misses Nancy and Christina Ord, were bridesmaids frocked in peach and pale green with bouquets of sweet peas and baby's breath. Little Marjorie Joyce Nicholas, flower girl, was in pink and carried sweet peas.

Mr. Norman Vickers was best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Lawrence Ord and Mr. Leonard Vickers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Later the couple left by motor for a trip north and on their return will live in Stouffville where the groom is minister of the Congregational Church. The bride travelled in a navy blue sheer dress trimmed with white and white hat and accessories.

Might Consider Life-Saving Equipment

The time is not far distant when life-saving apparatus will be compulsory part of the equipment around lakes and ponds according to a recent survey made, indicating the number of drownings in the area around Toronto. It is the opinion of one Toronto legal man that municipalities are obligated to provide equipment. Some places, like Mimico have provided a watcher charged with the duty of keeping an eye on the children. This of course, would be expensive, although usually someone on relief and a good swimmer is employed.

Dr. Walter Shier of Uxbridge coroner for Ontario County, gave his opinion in a recent interview that "there should be some protection." While life-savers are favored who are good swimmers, there are drownings just the same. Their duty is to watch the children, however, and few accidents are reported among this class. A watch for instance, would not likely have prevented a recent accident at Musselman's Lake where no children have lost their lives, and it can be truthfully said for this lake that fatal accidents are few and far between, considering the thousands who patronize this resort. Take the Credit River for instance, which is Dominion waters, there have been 600 saved from being drowned, and two life-savers have been employed at the mouth of the river at Port Credit who accomplished this feat. No such opportunity for good work like this would be occasioned at Musselman over a period of seven years, time reckoned on.

However, consideration might be given by the authorities to providing life belts and other equipment for emergency use such as is coming into vogue at many swimming places.

Tribune's small ads are cheap and profitable.

One of those little incidents which so often go unnoticed, occurred at the annual Sunday School picnic on Friday, when John Augustine, waded into Musselman's Lake over his depth and was just going beneath the surface, when his father, Rev. P. Augustine, rushed in fully clothed and rescued the little tot, whose plight had gone unnoticed by the other swimmers.

Between 30 and 40 acres of bushland were laid barren on Saturday afternoon, when some careless roadside campers on the 4th of Pickering left a smouldering fire, which caught into the fence and dry grass, and into the pine woods on the Gascoigne property. Some 200 men and three fire-fighting outfits answered the call and worked for several hours before the blaze was extinguished. The Claremont, Brougham and Pickering trucks turned out to the scene.

Stouffville Junior Softball nine carried the first prize money at the annual Field Day held at Unionville on Wednesday last. Wally Nicholson and Bob Fong formed the battery for the local club.
