TORONTO- Goodwood FLASHES

Headley Hill of Newmarket is spending a few days with his aunt Miss Davey at her cottage, Alderby Wood, Lake Simcoe.

Misses Pearl, Florence and Beatrice Davey of Palmerston were all in Toronto last week on a visit to the correspondent.

Reuben Gray has again taken up his job as watchman at the Ex. a position he has held for some years.

Mr. Ed. Stover, another of those old Goodwood boys, called on friends in the village last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Risebrough visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson on Wednesday last.

Cucumbers! Yes siree, Mrs. Annie Johnston of Roseville sent a bag full to a Muskoka friend.

Mrs. Reta Brethour of Bloomington is assisting Mrs. Hutchinson while the threshers are there.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal motored to Caledonia one day, and on to the Muskoka district the next day.

Walter Brown is repairing the home verandah of their house. How nice to be a carpenter, and do your own repairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Paxton visited the old home town over Sunday. We are glad to hear that Mrs. Paxton's health is some improved.

Happy birthday to both Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McNeley of Musselman Lake, who celebrated their birthdays on Monday, August 28. Best wishes from the correspondent.

Our friend Miss Leggate is very busy these days entertaining her very many friends. However, she took time off to spend an hour or so in, Goodwood.

Our friend Robert Feasby was off duty a couple of days last week owing to injury to his back and foot but pleased to report he is back at work and feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lee have been holidaying at Port Bolster while their son Oswald and his wife were at Georgian Bay for a holiday.

We hear that Will Todd is busy over the county doing road work, well, when it comes to this job Bill Todds the man to engage. Of course being an old school chum we have an especial warm spot for him in our heart.

Mrs. Bert Sharpe will spend a week or two at the home of her brother in Allandale who is a prominent member of the Barrie Lions Club. In fact he's what they call a governor or a tail twister, or something like that.

Miss Dora Todd returned from Muskoka on Friday afternoon after three weeks away. Her next trip no doubt will be back home to see mother and dad. You know Dora, like some others, delights going back to the old village to see her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Pugh visited the Dixon home in Woodville on Sunday, August 20, and last Sunday intended to take a trip around Lake Simcoe. I wonder some time if the driver will ever turn the steering wheel south, and head for Toronto. Well, they say everything comes to those who wait.

Our friend Dan. Baker returned to Goodwood on Friday night last after a holiday up on Manitoulin Island, visiting his friends Mr. and Mrs. John Wagg. He enjoyed every minute of his trip. Seemed like old times calling on our friend Dan so well known to the Scribe.

Threshing began with rye on the farm of Walter James when 600 or 700 bushels ran into the baskets of a good sample. Some of the stooks, we are told, had as many as 40 sheaves, very dry and a lot of grain was spilled on the ground in handling.

We extend sincere birthday greetings to the following folks whose natal day comes between August 26 and 30—John Maye, Mrs. Freeman Slack, Goodwood; Mrs. George Lee Mrs. Charles Bewell and Mrs. Walter Davey, Toronto; Miss Blanche Bacon, Edward Norton and Marion Carroll (Roseville) all of Uxbridge township.

Have you noticed the neat little box on the show case at Watson's Store? Well the Correspondent like a lot more was dry, very dry and went in and asked the young lady clerk for a bottle of ginger beer. And right before the Correspondent's eyes stood the fancy box with a few words on the top. Yes for a good cause. If you have not seen this just go in and if possible drop in a coin or two.

Well, we hear the wedding is set for Sept. 4 in Broadview United Church of one of Goodwood's young men now living in the city in the person of Mr. Harvey Maye. Best wishes to him and his intended. No doubt the church will be the assembly place of many Goodwood people on this occasion. Mr. and Mrs. John Maye, Goodwood, will be taking in the wedding, also the parents of the groom. There are still some others in Goodwood who are reported eligible for the great plunge, but whose to say what they will do.

You will have read our request last week for news to be sent to us for use in this column. So many people would really like to see this or that item of news published, but they will not go to the trouble of getting it over to us in some form. In case you are shy, your identity will not be made known unless at your request. Folks in Toronto, once resident of Uxbridge township, get on the phone and call us. It sure will be appreciated and this Flash column will increase in size and interest. We write our final each Sunday for the following Thursday's paper. Now the Ex. is on there will be many visitors, some from long distances so be sure and call us up.

The new Rae Garage certainly will put Goodwood on the map. All under one roof, garage, office, rest rooms and toilets, and last but not least are fire proof. Yes siree, nothing but the best for our friend Jack and

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for September 3
ISAIAH: A LIFE DEDICATED TO GOD

Golden Text: 'Here am I, send me.' —Isa. 6:8

The Lesson As a Whole

It is always of interest when one is privileged to get a personal and intimate account of the revelation of God to a human soul. In this chapter Isaiah lets us into the secret of his wonderful power and equipment for service. He takes us into the sanctuary, shows us how the Lord was revealed to him, and lets us know the circumstances of his call to the prophetic office. This was the real starting point of his effective ministry. We know from chapter 1, verse 1, that he began to witness for God in the days of King Uzziah. As the events recorded in chapter 6 took place in the year that ruler died, we conclude that these exercises were subsequent to his earlier prophetic testimony. Many another servant of God has preached to others before learning to know the Lord himself in a definite way and before being brought into the full consciousness of cleansing and endowment for service. Yet we need not think of this as Isaiah's "second blessing." It was rather a part of God's dealing with him in order that he might be better prepared to give out the Word to others because of knowing the reality of having to do with God, himself.

The Historical Setting

Uzziah died 758 B.C. and it was in this same year that Isaiah had the experiences here recorded. Just how much earlier he began his prophetic ministry we are not told.

Verse by Verse

Isaiah 6:1—"I saw also the Lord." That word "also" is significant. Was it a sight of God that brought the leprosy out on Uzziah's forehead? The same God revealed himself to Isaiah while he was attending a service in the Temple at Jerusalem; however, it was not in judgment but in grace that he showed himself as the infinitely holy one.

Verse 2—"The seraphim." We may drop the "s." The Hebrew plural is indicated by the "im." (These glorious beings seem to be messengers of grace, as distinguished from the cherubim, who speak rather of righteous and judgment.)

Verse 3—"Holy, holy, holy!" It is an ascription of praise and adoration to the trine God, whose glory is manifested in all creation.

Verse 4—"The posts of the door moved." Strange that inanimate pillars should be easier to move than the hard hearts of sinful men!

Verse 5—"Woe is me!" The effect of beholding God is to make one realize his own unworthiness and the corruption of his own heart. Isaiah saw himself in the light of Jehovah's infinite holiness.

Verse 6—"A live coal . . . from off the altar." It was the altar of sacrifice, which prefigured the cross. That live coal told of the fire of judgment having burned itself upon the offering.

Verse 7—"Thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged." The divinely-sent messenger proclaimed the good news of redemption and purification from sin through him whose one offering was pictured in the sacrifice of the altar.

Verse 8—"Whom shall I send . . . ?" To the cleansed soul comes the call for service: the vision of a needy world. Isaiah responds, "Here am I; send me!"

Verse 9—"And he said, Go!" This was the prophet's commission. He was to be God's messenger even though the people refused to hear.

Verse 10—"Lest they see . . . hear . . . and understand." Even though the Word seemed to have no other effect than to harden them in their sins and rebellion, Isaiah was to proclaim the message faithfully.

Verse 11—"Lord, how long?" It takes faith to continue to witness to an unheeding people. The prophet was to preach until there were none left to hear.

Verse 12—"A great forsaking." Because they had forsaken God he would give them up to the power of their cruel enemies, in retributive justice.

Verse 13—"Yet in it shall he a tenth." God always has his remnant—the election of grace—who hear his Word and turn to him in repentance. These constitute a "holy seed," who are the real "substance" of the nation or people to whom the message of the Lord is carried.

The Heart of the Lesson

The servant of God is responsible to the Lord himself. Having received his commission, he is to go forth in the name of the One who sends him, declaring the message committed to him. The results must be left with God. Whether men hear or whether they forbear (Ezek. 2: 3-5), he who proclaims the Word faithfully has delivered his soul. The apostle Paul entered into this when he spoke of being a sweet savor of Christ unto God both in them that are saved and in them that perish (2 Cor. 2:15). God is honored when his truth is preached no matter what attitude the hearers take toward it, and that Word will not return void, but will accomplish the divine purpose. —(Isa. 55:11).
