Ballantrae

The Bingham boys are good marksmen. Last week one of them shot a fox believed to have killed several turkeys.

R. W. Andrew says the $40.00 paid by the township for the services of the fire truck last Saturday will be spent on new equipment. The generator burned out rushing to the fire, but the chief kept right on until he had finished his job.

Now for that meat supper and concert. Have you seen the handbills?

Our fire-fighting equipment had its first call last week when it was summoned to the Hall farm on the 7th concession, north of the Ballantrae sideroad, where the barn and the season's crop was destroyed. It is believed the blaze started in the mow. Fortunately the live stock was all out, but the crop, not yet threshed, went up in a few minutes. There was no insurance on the contents. Andrew's fire truck rushed over and started in just as all other water supply was gone. The truck carried 300 gallons, and poured its contribution on the small buildings. The pig pen and pump were both saved, although the blaze was so hot one could not get very near the small buildings.
