Here are the two sweet children of Bud Stephenson, formerly of Unionville, and his wife Helena, a daughter of Fred Gowland, former Markham baker, who were asleep when the father murdered his wife and took his own life in their home at Bradford. Marilyn, aged nine months and Joan, five years old, are described as lovely children. No motive has been ascribed for the terrible death, although jealousy is hinted at by Bradford people who claim to be close friends of the Stephensons.

Pine Orchard

Club was well attended on Thursday night at McClure's. We are sorry to report Mrs. Leslie Harper fell and broke her ankle.

Ice cutting is the style this week with ice at Cedar Valley pond 16 inches deep.

Several are suffering from colds and we all are remaining by warm fires as much as we can.

Wedding bells again pealed forth in our community last week when Ollie Kmet was married to Gordon Bone. Gordon has enlisted and is expected to leave for England any time now. —We congratulate the young couple.

(Too late last week) Herb Reid of Toronto spent the weekend with his mother.

Mrs. Wickes spent the weekend in Whitby.

The Juniors of the Mongolia Sunday School are looking forward to a sleighing party in near future under the guidance of their S. S. teacher Miss Margaret Booth.

We are sorry that Mr. R. Winn has not been in good health this last while back, having had an attack of lumbago. Nevertheless Charlie Kerswill has been efficiently taking his place, so 'It's an ill wind that blows nobody good!'

Last week's snow storms reminded us of some of the days of the old 1939 winter. Nevertheless we hope the weatherman sees fit not to block the roads to the extent of last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pugh were among a number of guests who were present at a supper given by Mrs. J. Reesor in honour of Mrs. H. Brethour on the occasion of her birthday.

Mrs. Charlie Brown had tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Obijah Brown on Tuesday evening.

The "sing-song" was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Fuller this week. The meeting opened with singing of a few selected hymns followed by a reading on the "Sinking of the Titanic" given by Jean Pugh. Again a short time was spent singing notes of praise, after which a twenty-minute discussion of the Sunday School lesson was ably taken by Fred Jackson. Following, everyone participated in a few more songs of Zion and the meeting was dismissed with prayer. Such is the order of these "sing-songs" and if you have any interest in this sort of a meeting, we heartily invite you to join us next week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Obijah Brown. Visitors are always welcome!

MERCHANTS

We would advise merchants to place orders for counter check books and guard against advanced prices. The Tribune is in a position to quote the lowest prices possible obtaining for any style of books required one of the ways used in our Sunday School for raising money to support our native African worker-in-training. Even the little boys and girls are sharing in this work by dropping their pennies into the barrels.
