BORN IN UXBRIDGE 90 YEARS AGO

Newmarket's latest nonagenarian, Mrs. Elijah Rose, who on Tuesday this week reached her 90th year, was born in Uxbridge and spent many years around Utica. She thinks it a disgrace for young girls to drink hard liquor or to be seen in a beverage room.

"I am against beverage rooms and girls who drink," she said. "When I was a young girl it was an awful disgrace for a girl to drink or even smoke. The young girls of to-day should be ashamed of themselves."

Born in Uxbridge, Mrs. Rose spent her childhood and early married life in the district, later moving to Queensville and finally to Newmarket. Active every day despite her advanced age, tending to her large flock of chickens, Mrs. Rose's recipe for a long life is the old adage, "early to bed and early to rise."

Mrs. Rose laughingly recalls the manner in which her husband asked her for her hand. "He proposed to me," she said, "when, after we had quarrelled, he accidentally knocked me into a ditch. We never had any quarrels after that."

Her daughter, Mrs. Garnet Boyd with whom she makes her home, added her bit by saying, "I've never seen such a happy couple as they were," she said. Mr. Rose died 11 years ago.

Although Mrs. Rose likes car riding, she believes the horse and buggy was much safer. "The horse never put you in a ditch," she said.

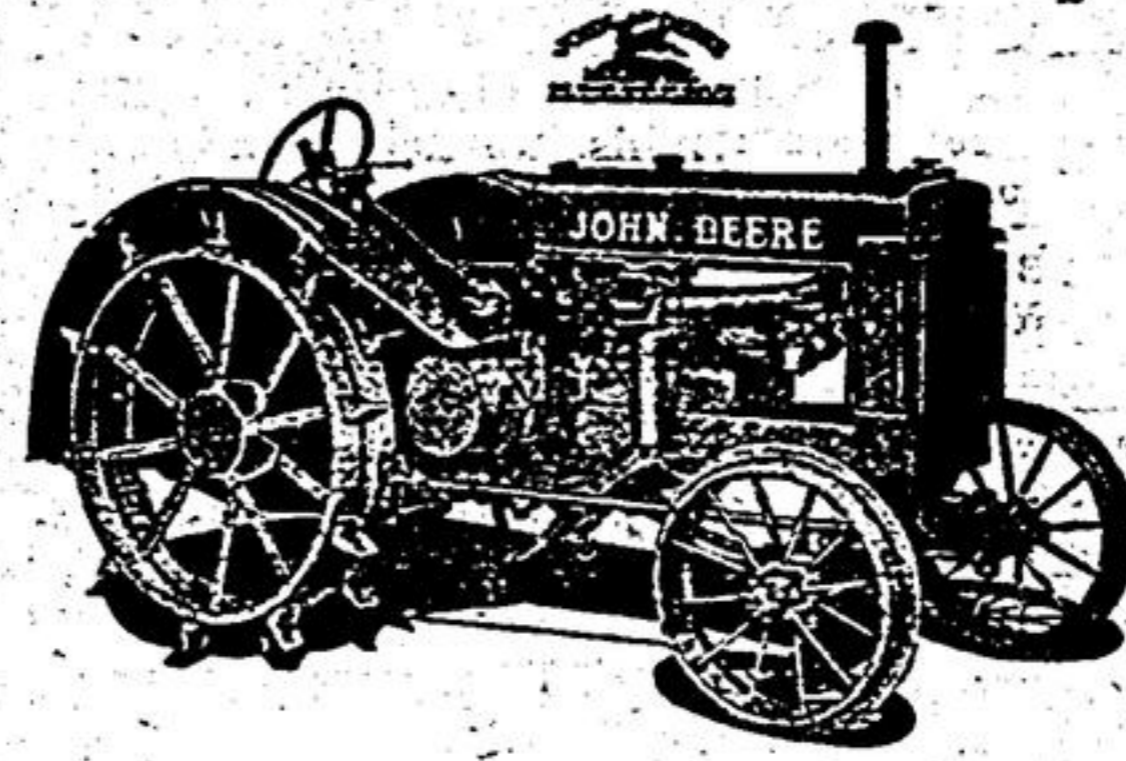

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

Editor, The Tribune: Who are Jehovah's Witnesses and what is their purpose? Jehovah's Witnesses and their mission are grossly misunderstood by most people. What is the purpose of their organization and why are they so diligent in carrying forward their work.

At the outset it should be stated that Jehovah's Witnesses place all their confidence in Jehovah the Creator of all things seen and unseen and in the Bible, his revealed purpose toward his creatures. The central theme of that purpose is His kingdom under Christ the King. Jehovah's Witnesses, who are Christians, are dedicated to the announcing of that kingdom. That kingdom is properly called a theocracy because it is a government under the direct supervision of God. It is now apparent to millions of thinking people that worldly leaders can bring no relief to suffering humanity, and in keeping with the Bible declaration men's hearts are fearful of some impending disaster.

What will be the outcome of present world turmoil? Where can honest and right minded people hope for relief? Will the present turbulent conditions continue indefinitely? How can those who desire peace and security attain such desire? These and many other questions will be answered to the satisfaction of the honest seeker after truth at the studies of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held at the Kingdom Hall, Main Street, Stouffville, which will be opened, Sunday, April 21, at 3 p.m.

Jehovah's Witnesses, Stouffville Company.

RINGWOOD FARMER BEREAVED BY SISTER'S DEATH AT AURORA

Mrs. Edgar Rose who died at Mount Albert was a sister of Mr. George Harman of Ringwood. Death followed a lingering illness, and was not unexpected. Her maiden name was Janey Harman, a native of East Gwillimbury township, although she spent practically all her life in Whitchurch near Pine Orchard. They did farm for five years in Scott township but returned to Boggartown. Last fall they sold out and moved to the townline near Mount Albert.

She married Edgar Rose 33 years ago, and he, with their family, Carman of Holt; Garnet of Aurora; and Irene (Mrs. Andrews) of Queensville; a sister, Mrs. Gordon Stevens of Pine Orchard and a brother, George Harman of Ringwood, survive.

The funeral took place from the home where a short service was taken by Rev. R. V. Wilson and then at Wesley church, Vandonf, where Rev. W. A. Westcott took the service. The burial was at Pine Orchard cemetery. Mrs. Rose was a member of Wesley church.
