enjoy a wonderful meal. Oh yes, we miss a lot in the big centres.

We note that single copies of this paper are on sale in Brougham and stores in Claremont, and the number sold each one is amazing.

That was quite a novelty staged at the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bunker at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryan by their Baptist friends. When it came time for the eats, the hostess assisted by Miss Jean Slack brought in an immense pie just like the one told of in the story of Jack the Giant Killer which the little boy hid himself in. This one at the Bryan party, when opened, was filled with the most lovely things for the young married couple.

Stn. daylight saving starts the end of the week. You may see the Scribe and George Lee wending their way to work when the clocks in Goodwood point to 5.30 in the morning. The editor says their is no rest for the wicked, and so what can we do.

Miss Lena McDonald was home for the weekend. She has recently changed her city address, but this paper finds her every week.

Work was started on grading the second concession last week by Charles Lee while the Departmental heavy grader got at the tenth from north of Stouffville on Saturday morning. It was the high spot of bad road conditions, but boys it was smoothed up in great style.

Walter Hope makes more noise than a colony of bees, as the hum of his buzz saw is heard here and there. Another buzzer is Mose Morton on the 4th, who has a very snappy outfit.

Mrs. S. Ottewill is just about the home again, and was able to converse with us on the telephone. She hopes to return to Goodwood in the good old summer time.

The other day we were given a start when a car drove up to our door and we thought sure the banker was calling on us. However, it was our friend Howard Harper in his new bus.

Exactly fifty years ago in company with a number of boys of the village at that time, the writer went by raft to the grist mill which stood where Charlie Lee now grows onions. Boy, oh boy, those were the days for action. Wet feet were in order, but if you didn't get more than your feet wet on one of the pesky trips around town, you were lucky.

The other day we accompanied Mrs. Davey over to Nain Avenue to visit her sister Mrs. Blizzard.

Well, well, congratulations to Will Hackney and Bert Stewart our progressive farmers. Old experienced men, they still keep up-to-date.

Congratulations to V. Smith who keeps the village supplied with fresh green things. Nothing like it for the health, at this time of year when Greens are not to be found in every garden.

We hasten to correct an error which the revising editor must have made last week, when he referred to our friend Wm. Whittleton "and the misses." Everybody knew that was wrong of course, so it was overlooked. Bill is the right sort to enjoy the joke unintentionally made.

That program put on by Robert Rawson at the recent meeting of the B.Y.P.U. still lingers, the subject of which was false propaganda. The house formerly known as the Bowden property has been sold to Murray Stewart; Frank Wagg was the recent owner.
