

TOWN TOPICS

Poppy Day, Saturday, November 10th. Wear a poppy in memory of the dead in the last war, and in honour of those who are dying in this one.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Dennis, Miss Lou Harvey, Toronto, and Mr. Murray Dennis, Sudbury, were dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hastings, on Tuesday, in honor of their aunt, Miss E. Morrison who was observing her 33rd birthday.

Veterans and Service-men are invited to attend the annual placing of the wreath at the Memorial gates, and also the decorating of the graves of Veterans in the Stouffville Cemetery. Meet at the firehall on Sunday, Nov. 10, at 10 a.m. Dress Berets, arm bands and medals.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jarvis who recently took up residence in their newly acquired home next the Mennonite church, were in Markham on Friday attending the funeral of his brother Robert who until recently farmed on the tenth, but retired only last spring and took up residence in Markham village.

Miss Helen Hastings, dietitian at Faton's College street, has been chosen from her graduating class in Household Economics to conduct a series of lectures on "dietetics," sponsored by the Health League of Canada. Both Misses Helen and Marion Hastings were home from Toronto for the weekend visiting their parents.

Householders are doing an excellent job in raking up the abundance of leaves fallen the last week or ten days. Co-operation in this task is appreciated, and only here and there do we see the job neglected so that the neighboring properties have a double task to perform. This is also the time to get ditches cleaned out before the freezeup, so they will be ready for the spring freshets. So far the public waterways of this kind usually looked after by the council have not been attended to. Hired help is a problem to secure this fall.

Sergt. Richards and his young wife (Elda Hisey) spent Sunday in town the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Watts.

The Stouffville Junior Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Trimmer on Thursday, Nov. 14, at 3.30 p.m. Mr. W. M. Cockburn will give an address. Special music by Miss Thelma Atkinson.

Messrs. Harry Paisley, Eldon Fairles, Ormsby Lehman, William Griffiths, and J. F. Reid (Goodwood) motored to Lindsay on Friday evening to attend a hot fowl supper and meeting of the Masonic Lodge. There. Our local hardware merchant Frank Riches, was one of the officers for the evening, it being his home town lodge.

All veterans are asked to meet at the Fire Hall on Sunday, Nov. 10, at 1 p.m. (s.t.) for the purpose of proceeding to Richmond Hill to join with the Richmond Hill council in their annual Remembrance Day Service. Dress Berets, arm bands and medals. B. Lickorish, Secretary Stouffville Veterans.

We are pleased to note that Mrs. Allen Closson is showing some improvement since she suffered a break-down several weeks ago leaving her partially paralysed and quite helpless. If her condition continues to improve, Mr. and Mrs. Closson intend to spend the winter in a southern climate for which all arrangements for crossing the border had been completed some time ago.

Mr. Isaac Barkey has just made delivery of a seam welding machine built in his foundry from patterns and blue prints. The new machine rests on a heavy iron base, and is of brass construction with the exception of the transformer and motor which are part of the machine, the first of its kind made in Canada. The construction is a fine piece of work, and the builder may feel justly proud of it.

The local banks and the post office started this week to remain open on Wednesday afternoon, for the winter season.

Doc. Bailey of Uxbridge was in town on Monday distributing advertising for the Ladies Soft Ball team dance on November 11, in the Uxbridge music Hall. The Uxbridge Veterinary is a strong and incessant booster for the girls team.

Uxbridge town and Township Councils are submitting the two-year term for councillors to the ratepayers, according to the Uxbridge Times-Journal. This is the only opportunity the ratepayers have of voting on the 2-year term and reserving to the ratepayers the privilege to say whether or not they want any particular council for the second term. If they are a good council an acclamation is usually accorded them.

Miss Edith Borinsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Borinsky who is attending Toronto University had the misfortune one day last week to slip on the steps of the University Library, falling down the flight and striking one of the corner posts. Though no bones were broken, the severe shake-up necessitated medical attention and a lay-off from school for a few days.

We had heard quite a few people protesting against the manner in which hallowe'en pranks are carried on by the older boys. The innocent amusement during the early part of the evening should be relished by everybody, but the destruction that is carried out around midnight is inexcusable. One of the common objectives of the hallowe'en squad seems to be destruction or movable front door steps, an act which led to a law suit in Bruce County a few years ago, when an elderly person came out of their home and not knowing the steps had been removed by pranksters fell and broke a limb. The parents of the boy who removed the steps had to forfeit $400. Last Thursday night numerous steps were removed, buildings overturned, and a bit of other damage was done. Some of it was not funny, and caused expense to people who could not afford to spend unnecessary money.

"Mickey" O'Connor, a familiar figure to "the boys" who made up Stouffville's famous lacrosse team of forty years ago was in town on Thursday renewing old acquaintances. He is now living on a small acreage at Utica. When Stouffville won the Ontario championship in 1898, Mickey was one of the players, but he was just a lad then. Last week when he stepped into Frank Rae's tailoring shop, the needle pusher recognized him right off. Likewise, when he called on Edw. Pennock, at his home, the former liveryman said without any hesitation, "hello, Mickey." Since this old lacrosse player returned we had a look at the picture taken of the champions, and here is the line-up: Joe Coxworth, Edw. Pennock, Jno. McDonald, Dan Tudhope, Grant Cooper, Frank Clendenning, Herb. James, Frank Beatty, Bill Sanders, Mickey O'Connor, Jack Campbell, Goff Churchill, Bob. Minns, Thom. Graham, Jack Woodgate and A. C. Burkholder. Six of the group are dead, but only three of them, Sanders, Burkholder and Pennock are still residents of Stouffville.

Mrs. Robert Leslie has left Stouffville for Toronto where she will spend the winter. Her fine big residence, furnished on Church Street, is for rent.

Mr. Frank Riches, hardware merchant, accompanied by his sister Mrs. A. E. Weldon were in Lindsay last Friday where Mr. Riches attended the funeral of the late W. J. Moore, and Mrs. Weldon visited her mother who is not in very good health.

There is an unusually large number of houses available for rent in Stouffville at this particular time. Business is humming, and no one wanting employment is without it, hence this situation is the more remarkable. Probably the attractive wages being paid by manufacturing plants in larger places, and the fact that few, if any farmers are retiring in town, accounts for the surplus. There are some attractive places available.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil. Willows were presented with a chest of silver on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary by the folks of the community in which they reside. This indicates that the Victoria Square merchant is very popular, which with his winning smile makes him one of the citizens most appreciated. Mr. and Mrs. Willows commenced married life at Uxbridge where they spent their school days and where they had many friends, many of whom are now scattered over the province.

The Canadian School Journal published in Toronto as the official organ of the Ontario Educational Association, carries a back cover display advertisement in a recent issue for the Aikenhead Hardware Co., showing a picture layout of a corner of the shop room in Stouffville school. This firm which supplied much of the machinery, styles the local set-up as a well planned shop, incidentally recommending it over the province. Principal L. C. Murphy and staff, also the school board are naturally pleased with such recognition given this department of our school.

Old and respected residents of Stouffville and district for many years, Mr. and Mrs. Dan. Gibner have moved to Temperanceville where Mr. Gibner will be employed with William Hare, also well known to many of our readers. Mr. Hare conducts an extensive poultry ranch having some 15,000 chickens. Three men are employed in looking after this business. Since they have vacated their house on 10th street, the Gibner place is available for rent. The house is compact, while a very fine garden goes with the place.

The regular monthly meeting of the Stouffville Women's Baptist Mission Circle will be held on Friday evening, November 8th, at 8 p.m. in the Sunday School room of the United Church, Stouffville. The guest speaker will be Mr. Frank Inrig, President of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. He will illustrate his lecture with moving pictures of life as he recently saw it in India. Any friends who are interested in mission work, will be cordially welcome to attend this meeting. Mrs. Isaac Boadway is the local president.

Mr. K.R. (Shiner) Davis has opened a store for the sale of tobacco, soft drinks, etc., in the former harness shop premises conducted by Mr. Albert Lehman. Mr. Davis will do cleaning and pressing in the rear of the premises, all of which have been splendidly fitted up for his needs. Coat maker for Mr. Frank Rae, tailor, Mr. Davis will be able to do this work as he has done for many years. He solicits a call from his many friends whom he will be pleased to welcome at the new stand one door west of Lehman's shoe store. The tobacco store will fill the gap for such a business formerly carried by the cafe which went out of business in the Silvester block last summer.

Mr. John Ratcliff returned last week from an extended trip to Western Canada, during which time he visited with his daughter at Midnapore, near Calgary, and from which point he made many side trips to the mountains and other scenic sections of that great Western land. Going out by aeroplane, and home by the railroad, this veteran traveller much prefers the speedy mode of going. At the time this is being written Mr. Ratcliff has not called around at the newspaper office to receive our greetings, and welcome home, but we hear from all sides that he is looking his best, and is feeling the benefits of the holiday.

Quaker 34 p.c. Hog Feed Concentrate

If you have a big grain crop and want to market your grain through your hogs, we have just the feed you are looking for in Quaker 34% Protein Hog Feed Concentrate to balance up your home grown grains. It makes a very low cost ration for the man with plenty of home grown grains. You can mix one bag of Quaker 34% Protein Hog Feed Concentrate with three to six bags of your own mixed chop and have a very well balanced feed.

Using Quaker 34% Protein Hog Concentrate with your own home-grown grains, you will market your hogs from four to six weeks earlier than you would by feeding them your own grains only.

Stiver Bros.

Mr. Don Fraser of the Bank of Commerce staff, Belleville, and a frequent visitor to Stouffville is relieving at present in the branch at Colbourne.

Included in the recent sales of farm machinery in this area were two new Cockshutt tractors, an 18-28 to Dave Boyd, 9th con., Markham, and 18-28 to Henry Miller, 7th con., Markham. Sales made by Bell & Son, local agents.

Mrs. S. B. Hoover is closing her Church street home for the winter season, and has been her custom will spend the winter with her daughters at East Orange, New Jersey. Mrs. Hoover leaves town today, Thursday.

The open season for rabbit hunting in this territory is from Nov. 1, to February 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rowbotham and Donald visited in Orangeville on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Still.

107th ANNIVERSARY SERVICES
The anniversary services of Bloomington Christian Church will be held on November 10th, at 11 a.m. Dr. Thomas Mitchell will preach—Music by Forsythe Quartette.

At 7 p.m. The Kinsmen Quartette will sing and Mr. Oliver Raymer will preach. A thank-offering will be received at both services. The public are cordially invited to these meetings.

Hear Mr. and Mrs. Lacey

of the Cleveland Colored Quintette who will take part in special services on Tuesday and Wednesday evening

Nov. 12th & 13th

They need no introduction having sung to thousands here this summer.

Come early and secure a seat. Meetings every evening at 7:45 until November 17. Evangelist, W. J. Williamson. Stanley Medhurst, pastor.
