O. LEHMAN

Stouffville

Ontario

We hear there is to be a big raffle in the neighborhood one night soon to dispose of twelve young porkers. In this manner it will be a novelty to say the least.

Today (Thursday) is Christmas market day in town, and with favorable weather a tremendous crowd is anticipated.

Buy your Marionette tickets now.

Green River

Mr. William Duncan has returned home from the hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Benson Draper of Toronto spent the weekend with his parents. J. D. Williams of Camp Borden spent the weekend leave at home. Don doesn't expect to be home for Christmas.

Next Prayer Meeting will be held on Dec. 26th, at the home of J. Nighswander.

The candle-light service will be held on Dec. 22nd at 7.30, standard time. Note change in time. Plan to come.

The Ladies' Aid meeting was held at the church this week. Rev. H. Wilson was guest speaker.

Dickson's Hill

Miss Helen Campbell visited with Miss Gene Hallman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Moyer and the boys had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Barkey.

Here's your last invitation to Dickson's Hill School Concert tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m.

Mr. Reg. Gibbins is taking an enforced holiday, spending part of his time in Toronto General Hospital, owing to a broken arm. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

The Junior Red Cross meeting was held at Mrs. Roy Moyer's last Saturday. The girls are to be complimented on the fine lot of work they have completed. There will be no more meetings until the new year.

The W.M.S. met at Mrs. William Barkey's last week and were busily engaged quilting. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Wes. Wideman's next year.

The Christmas program of the Young People's will be at Mount Joy Monday night. Come along everybody.

We take this opportunity of wishing everyone a Merry, Merry Christmas and lots of health and happiness for the coming 1941.

Two new graves in Dickson's Hill cemetery mark the resting place of two well-known and loved friends. Mrs. Henry Wideman was laid away in their family plot on Wednesday and Friday afternoon Mr. Isaac Pike of Bethesda was buried here. Mr. Pike's teaching and preaching career was remarkable and his characteristic sermons, when he frequently filled the pulpit here in former years will be remembered long.

Bethesda

Merry Christmas, Everybody!
Mr. Jack Botherill was a Monday visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brillinger.

Rev. A. J. and Mrs. Orr had tea on Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Empringham.

We are very sorry to report, Bruce Chapman in the Newmarket hospital. We hope he may soon be well again.

Mrs. Wellington Yake spent a few days with her parents in Stouffville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yake had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clare Bolender and family.

Miss Ruth Atkinson spent a day with her sister Mrs. Lorne Hiese last week.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Wm. Hunt who is in a Toronto hospital is improving as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yake, had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gordon at Queensville last Thursday.

Mrs. Fines of Vaudorf is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Atkinson.

The annual White Gift Service will be held in the church on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Mrs. Gale of Vaudorf will be the speaker and the S. S. pupils will provide the other numbers on the programme. The white gifts, which are to be labelled as to their contents, will be distributed among the needy. Visitors are always welcome at this Christmas service, so we invite you to attend.

Bethesda has lost a father, a neighbour, and a friend. We extend our sympathy to the family of the late Mr. Pike. On Dec. 10, Mr. Pike celebrated his 88th birthday. During the afternoon, among other things, he read with keen delight birthday greetings, some seventy-five in number, from former pupils. And then only a few minutes after the day had passed—in words spoken of another great man who walked with God—Mr. Pike "was not, for God had taken him." His presence with its "sprightly youth, fine intellect and strong spirit of loyalty and devotion, will move among us no more, but the contribution he made is as enduring as the everlasting hills. "Give me the day with its sun in the west,

And hear what it has to say:
Give me the year as it nearth its rest.

In the glow of the winter day;
Give me the life where the path is unrolled
To the shores of God's limitless sea—

For the end is the test and the tale that told.

Be it written in greyness of silver or gold,
Is the tale of Eternity."

Peaches

Miss Vida Gowland of Toronto was a Sunday visitor with her sister Mrs. A. Cleverdon.

Goodwood

Wedding bells will soon chime in our vicinity.

Miss Eva Latham was home for a day this week. Mr. Latham is able to be about a little after his illness.

Mrs. J. F. Reid is in Toronto for a few days. Of course the station agent hopes she is playing Santa Claus.

Why all the neglect in sanding the Carabaldi hill. Last week two trucks had an interesting time of it, and since then no sand has been put down, so it may be necessary to have a fatal accident to wake-up the authorities.

Twenty ladies attended the War Workers meeting at the home of Mrs. Feasby on Dec. 11. Interesting letters were read by Mrs. Rae from soldiers to whom the Branch sent gifts, socks and boxes. There was a dandy display of clothing and quilts, while boxes were packed for shipment to the Navy League. The display of goods represented many hours of hard and faithful work. On one occasion 40 ladies assembled to quilt seven quilts, another meeting quilted five and another four. Great work all this and very commendable.

Mrs. R. Storry and her class of girls quilted five quilts. In this connection several organizations or classes did good work and next week we may mention them individually as shown in the lengthy report of the secretary. The printer this week is too crowded with Christmas advs. to allow us more space.

Beginning next Sunday only two garages will remain open each Sunday during the winter season, and patrons are invited to read the adv. in this behalf elsewhere in this issue.
