Local Residents May Get Hospitalization on an Insurance Basis

Stouffville may soon be able to enter the scheme for combined hospital care for all its people who subscribe to the service at a very nominal sum. This is something this paper has strongly favored for years, and we are elated over the assurance coming from Toronto on Tuesday that this town in company with other municipalities are to be accorded the benefits of hospitalization on an insurance plan basis.

Following its policy of working in close co-operation with the medical profession, the Ontario Hospital Association has notified all physicians in the Province that a Plan for Hospital Care will probably be inaugurated here shortly, under the auspices of the O.H.A.

This is a development of the recent conference held by a committee of the Association with Dr. C. Itufus Reven, director of the commission on hospital care for the American Hospital Association.

According to tentative arrangements, the plan will be a non-profit community effort for the benefit of the low-wage earner. There will be no door-to-door canvassing and no paid agents; members of the board of administration will work without remuneration and there will be neither stockholders nor dividends. All benefits as the organization grows will accrue to its subscribers.

When he met his brother on the train, John Booth wore on his breast the medal which marks him as a winner of the Distinguished Flying Cross. He earned it over France in the early days of the spring blitzkrieg.

How Parcels Reach Germany From our Red Cross Depot

Approximately 28,000 Red Cross parcels of food for British including Canadian, prisoners of war in Germany have been shipped from the Toronto depot, and 18,000 of these are on their way overseas. Dr. Fred W. Routley, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross, reported yesterday.

The parcels are sent from New York on 'American expert liner' to Lisbon, where they are taken over by International Red Cross representatives who guarantee their safe delivery to the prisoners. The parcels go to Marseilles on a Red Cross ship which is permitted to pass through the British blockade. They are then put aboard a Red Cross train bound for Geneva, and their distribution to the prisoners is handled from this point.

About $5,000 of the food parcels which left Toronto recently are aboard a ship carrying American Red Cross supplies to Europe. The parcels of food, each of which contains a sufficiently balanced diet to last a prisoner a full week, are being packed in Toronto at the present time. The original output of the depot, which has been open four weeks, was 5,000 parcels a week, but the machinery has been speeded up to produce twice that number. The Canadian Red Cross is supplying the food at the direct request of the British Red Cross, whose work along these lines in Britain has been hampered by enemy air-raids.

Baptism Ordinance Observed for Babes

St. Phillips Anglican Church was the scene of two very interesting services during the past weekend.

On Saturday, January 25, Mr. and Mrs. A. Courtney Proctor of Cedarbrook Game Farm, presented Ann Barbara, their baby daughter for baptism, the service being private. Mr. A. H. C. Proctor and Mrs. Proctor, and Dr. Fletcher McPhedran and Mrs. Phedran, the babe's grandparents, and some of the close friends of the family were present.

On Sunday during morning service an unusual and very interesting event took place when two brothers, H. A. and Charles Maynard and their wives who are sisters, (daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denby, had their babies baptised. The little son of H. A. and Helen Maynard is named Charles Robert, and the baby daughter of Charles and Kay Maynard is Barbara Ann. Rev. F. Herman, rector of St. Phillips church was the officiating clergyman at both ceremonies.
