

TORONTO Goodwood FLASHES

Walter Davey
8 Stanton Ave
Toronto.

Mr. Wilbert A. Irwin of Island Lake, was serving as jurymen at the Supreme Court in Whitby the past week.

Miss Marie Feren is visiting Miss Phillis Boen.

Sorry to hear little Kenneth Storey is laid up with tonsillitis.

Sorry to hear our friend Mrs. Lee had a fall on the ice.

Mrs. Cane is still staying up with her father, John Latchman. Pleased to know Mr. Latchman is feeling some better.

Miss Jean Slack, Miss Eva Latchman, and Winnie Stewart spent Sunday at their homes.

It is just about a year since a train load of Easter visitors were marooned just north of Goodwood on the Saturday night before Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Byer and family of Toronto, also Miss Annie Byer spent Sunday at their home on the Third concession.

Percy Baston and wife expect to move in Mr. Stafford's house on April 1st. Hope they will like our village.

On Wednesday evening our newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald returned to Goodwood and later in the evening were chivariated by twenty local boys.

Best of luck and good health to our friend Sam Bacon, who returned from the hospital in Toronto. We hear he is doing fine. May he soon be back to normal condition.

Mr. Clifford Morgason of Dickson Hill, spent Monday at his home on the Second line.

Miss Leggate visited Goodwood last Saturday. After being in the city all winter the snow banks must have been a revelation to her legal mind.

We hear that Audrey and Harvey Feasby are withstanding the accident they were in very well.

Sorry to hear Miss Alice Tindall is again on the sick list.

Scout Bill Wigmore, who accompanied the Scribe to the sports day last year called on the Scribe to say he had enlisted in the sea scouts, and had just received his uniform.

The Progressive Business Girls club seventh annual bridge and fashion show was held in the Crystal Ball Room of the King Edward Hotel on Saturday afternoon, March 22nd, the music was supplied by Miss Anne Davey.

Sorry our little friend Lois Reilly is again on the sick list.

Misses Eva, Anne and Jane Davey, and Miss Jefferson, visited Stouffville on Sunday with Mr. E. J. Davey. Sorry to hear our friend Miss Mary Todd is in the General Hospital.

Mr. Fred Middleton was in the city for the weekend. Very pleased to hear from Mrs. Thomson of Mrs. Middleton's recovery.

Best wishes to our little new arrival, a daughter to our friends Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parker of Mount Dennis. Mrs. Parker is a sister to our friend Miss Malyn Lickorish, whose parents reside in Stouffville.

HOME, SWEET HOME

Yes, that's the way our friend Mrs. S. Ottowell feels. Mrs. Ottowell is quite well, enjoying her visit in Detroit with her son, but is anxiously waiting for fine weather so she may come back to Toronto and to her home in Goodwood.

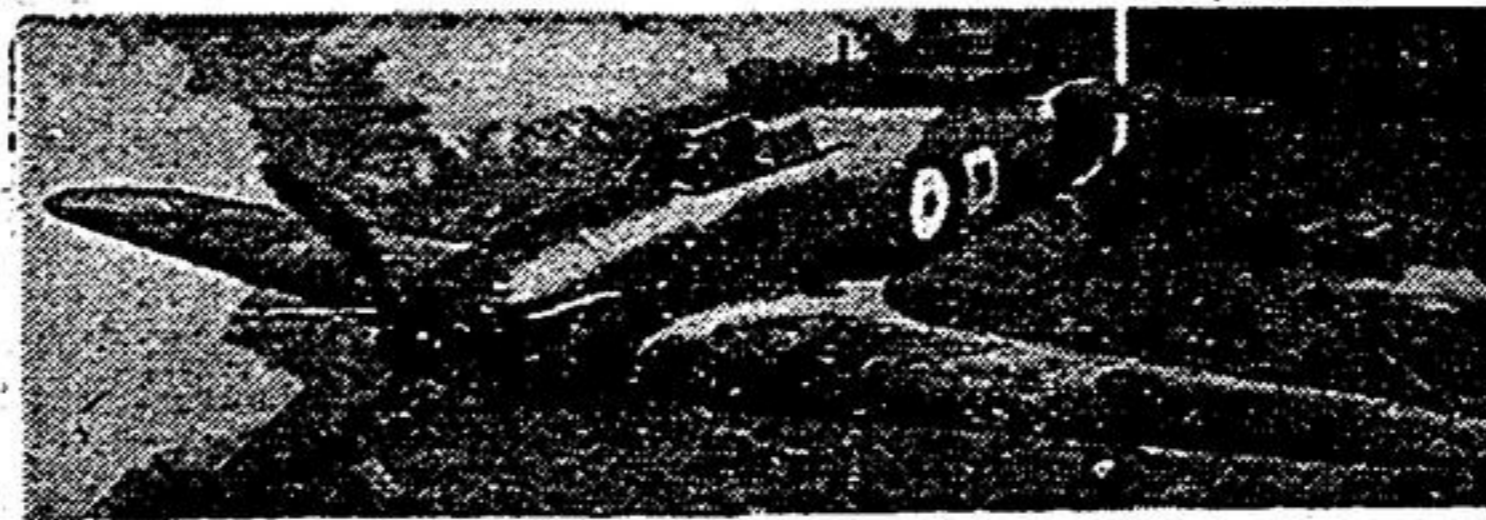

Our friend George Morgason is up and around each day and like a lot more waiting for spring, so he can get outside and sit in the sunshine.

How many of our readers tune in to Andy Clarke on Sunday mornings at ten o'clock. He gives all the news of the country newspapers. Hardly a Sunday broadcast but he refers to our Stouffville Tribune paper. Last Sunday he spoke on the squash pie prepared at the Fretz home, after the squash was two years old. Tune into C.B.L. Sunday a.m. ten o'clock.

Well, well, what would we do without the old iron horse that runs up and down the railway tracks. School students from Goodwood were glad to use this form of travel again last week, going to Uxbridge and Stouffville.

There are a lot of wonderful pictures being snapped of the beautiful snow drifts around Goodwood. The snow walls along the highway would provide something to look at next July too.

While the Scribe had the privilege

Fifteen Hurricanes a week are being turned out in one plant at the head of the lakes, Hon C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, told the House of Commons. Mr. Howe said the airplane plant employs one-third of the airplane industry employees in the country.

of extending the hand of fellowship to the newly weds from Goodwood, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald on their wedding trip, we wished we had been able to participate in that chivariade when some 20 pounced down on them on arrival in Goodwood. Generous treatment and entertainment was enjoyed, we hear.

While the snow plow was being repaired at Rae's garage for a couple of days, the operators boarded at Goodwood. Well folks this is a good place to be storm bound. Those home cooked meals are the ones which stick close to the ribs in cold weather. We can recommend them.

Twenty-six years ago Monday the 17th at Goodwood, one of our well known and beloved mothers was buried in the person of Mrs. Lee, mother of Chas., Geo., Cecil, Minnie and Agnes Lee. Speaking to our friend George he tells us the weather was somewhat milder and on the roads wheeling and sleighing was the way of transportation at that eventful date.

Our friend Benny Jones was elected reporter for the church meetings and he has been kind enough to send the news to the Flash column. The regular meeting of the Goodwood B.Y.P.U. was held on Thursday, March 13th at the church with a good attendance. An interesting programme was prepared by Mrs. Lloyd Wagg's group, led by Mrs. R. Middleton. The next meeting will be held on March 27th, with Muriel Jones' group in charge.

Birthday greetings to Isaac Foskitt, Calvin Stafford, Harry Woodland, Mrs. John Rae, Dean Watson, Arthur Brown, Bert Tindall, Dan Norton, Marilyn Slack (Altona), and Ken Patterson all of Goodwood and Uxbridge township; Stanley Paisley, Musselman's Lake; Mrs. Chappel, Toronto; Gorman Dixon, Pickering; Mrs. B. Degeer, Stouffville. R.R.;

Ross Smalley, Sandford; Miss Jean Anthony, Brougham. One of the most elderly people is best known to us, namely Calvin Stafford and then of course, we count many others as personal friends from Goodwood.

Well folks, get out the old sap buckets. Visiting another city on Thursday last week the Scribe noticed galvanized sap pails outside, a store selling at thirty-five cents each. When the Scribe was a boy in Goodwood people did not bother much about store buckets, so long as there was something to catch the sap in. How we used to like getting a good drink of this precious fluid. Oh no we never waited for the dribbles to fill the pail, we just helped ourselves from the night's running.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for March 30th

Golden Text—Behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you. Luke 24:49

The Lesson as a Whole

Christ's instructions to his apostles in regard to carrying his Gospel to the world were not given all at one time. Luke tells us in Acts 1 that during the forty days between his resurrection and ascension the Lord gave commandment regarding their future service, and spoke of many things "pertaining to the kingdom of God" (vs 2,3).

In the four Gospels and the Acts we read of four distinct commissions given, and we need to consider them all in order to get a complete picture of the program the risen Saviour put before his followers. In Matthew 28 we read that Jesus appeared to the eleven disciples on a mountain top in Galilee and bade them and disciple the nations. In Mark 16 he again addressed the eleven but "as they sat at meat", and commands them to go and preach the Gospel to every creature.

The commissions of Luke 24 and of John 20 are evidently one and the same, though various details are supplied by one writer which are omitted by the other. The instruction given on this occasion was supplemented by the final message in regard to world evangelization recorded in Acts 1, given on the Mount of Olives just before his ascension.

Verse by Verse
Luke 24:36—"As they thus spake," That is, while the two who came back from Emmaus were telling their remarkable experience with the risen Lord, Jesus suddenly appeared standing "in the midst", having entered the room without opening the closed doors. In his resurrection body he was no longer subject to the laws that he submitted to during his humiliation. He said, "Peace be unto you," for he had made peace by the blood of his cross.

Verse 37—"Terrified and affrighted the disciples could not credit the testimony of their own senses, so little did they understand about his rising from the dead. They thought they beheld a wrath and that it boded some evil rather than good.

Verse 38—"Why do thoughts arise in your hearts?" Jesus checked their disordered thoughts and rebuked them for their distress, which was caused by unbelief. Had they paid careful attention to his words before his arrest, they would not have been troubled now, but would have rejoiced that they were so gloriously fulfilled.

Verse 39—"A spirit hath not flesh, and bones, as ye see me have." He bade them grasp his arms firmly to feel for themselves that it was no phantom that had appeared to them, but one in a real body of flesh and bone. He did not say "flesh and blood." The life of the flesh is in the blood. The resurrection body is apparently bloodless. But it is a material body nevertheless—of flesh and bone—though of a character different from the present body.

Verse 40—"He showed them his hands and his feet." John mentions his hands and side and omits his feet. He directed attention to his wounds; for he bore in his resurrection body the scars that told of his suffering, and he will bear them forever as the supreme reminder of his love.

Verse 41—"They yet believed not for joy, and wondered." They were still incredulous, so he undertook to eat before them, so that they might know beyond all doubt that he stood there in a true human body.

Verse 43—"He ... did eat before them." The resurrection body does not require food, but is so constituted, that it can dispose of it.

Verse 44—"All things must be fulfilled, which were written." The risen Lord here authenticates the entire Old Testament by declaring without any equivocation that all things written in the law, the prophets, and the Psalms, concerning him must be fulfilled. This goes on to his second coming and Kingdom. Nothing is to be cancelled. All must take place as written.

Verse 45—"Opened he their understanding." He so explained the Scriptures that they could now comprehend what before had been dark and perplexing.

Verse 46—"Thus it is written." This is absolutely authoritative. What God has said he makes good. Jesus showed how his own death and resurrection had been predicted in the Scriptures, though they had not the true application of these prophecies.

Verse 47—"Repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name." He then declared that they were to go as his representatives out into the Gentile world among all nations, and call the people to repentance, offering in his name remission of sins to all who believe the message.

Verse 48—"Ye are witnesses of these things." They had seen and heard for themselves. They were to tell to others the things they were now assured of.

Verse 49—"Tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high." They were not to go at once, however. The promised Comforter must come first, whom the Father was to send in his name. He would empower them so to preach as to carry conviction to the hearts of their hearers. They were to wait in Jerusalem until this promise was fulfilled.

Verse 50—"He led them out far as Bethany." This was at the end of the forty days, as we learn from Luke's fuller account. Bethany was on the eastern slope of the Mount of Olives.

Verse 51—"He was ... carried up into heaven." With his hand lifted up in blessing, he ascended before their eyes, waited heavenward until a cloud received him and he was lost to sight.

Verse 52—"They worshipped him. All questions as to the mystery his person were now at an end. They adored him as the eternal Son of the Father and then, in obedience to his word, "returned to Jerusalem with great joy" to await the descent of the Holy Spirit.

Verse 53—"Continually in the temple." During the tarrying period together in one common home where they spent time in prayer, but during the greater part of the day they were found in the Temples courts, "praising and blessing God. It was not, as some have concluded without proper evidence, that prayer meeting went on continual for the ten-day period.

The Heart of the Lesson

The one great fact which is brought before us in this lesson is that you who know Christ as Saviour are responsible to carry the Gospel to all the people of the world. It is for us to enjoy the goodness of the Lord ourselves, while forgetting the need of lost souls all about and in distant lands who are still sitting in darkness and the shadow of death. Nor are we cast upon our own resources in the carrying of our commission. He who sends empowers. By the Holy Spirit fits his servants to go forth as heralds, to make known the riches of his grace to men of every nation. Increased blessing comes to the church at home as her members reach out into the regions beyond.

Every duty, well and honestly done, is a contribution to victory.

THE PRIME MINISTER OF CANADA.

"EVERYWHERE I GO ..."

We know a man who travels across Canada several times a year. He meets and talks with literally hundreds of people of all classes.

"The more people I meet," says he, "the clearer it becomes to me that folks in the main want to be kind and helpful. They're a pretty decent lot.

"But for unfeeling courtesy and helpfulness I would pick the men and women in the telephone service. I've yet to find one I wouldn't turn to with perfect confidence in an emergency. They seem to put courtesy first every time. That 'voice-with-the-smile' phrase is a matter of actual practice—not just a phrase."

Well, it's fine to hear anyone talk like that. It makes us try all the harder to deserve such praise, especially when telephone service is so vital to the nation at war.

On Active Service
Giving Wings to Words

They Rely on You

For the things that are not given to a fighting man with his uniform ... things that are not part of his military equipment ... things of the spirit ... Canada's fighting sons, wherever they may be, rely on you.

The Government provides them with uniforms, rifles, ammunition—but for comforts—recreations and wholesome opportunity to make their precious moments of leisure a genuine boon ... they rely on you.

Of course you help to buy airplanes, guns, ships, tanks—BUT for the things that express to the soldier the affection and thoughtfulness of the folks back home ... he relies on you.

Six great national organizations labour unceasingly to provide him with those things.

They can do it only with your money.

Your money started this work—your money is needed to carry it on.

The need is urgent. Be generous.

Let the volunteer helper who calls on you carry back your pledge of fullest support for our fighting men.
