Car Leaps Fence, Upside Down in Field

Leaving the road as they travelled south on the third of Whitchurch unable to make the turn at the townline in Gormley, two youths, presumably from the Lake Wilcox region, escaped with their lives, while the car after striking the ditch leaped into the air and completely jumped the fence into Clarence Hoover's field of grain upside down. The car was a wreck, but the lads were able to quickly disappear. It was later learned that the car was stolen from New Toronto, where the owner had parked it earlier in the day with the keys in the dash.

Before the boys left they reported the accident over at Delbert Baker's phone, and said their parents were at Wilcox. They were not suspected at this time of having stolen the car. The bus, badly wrecked, was comparatively new.
