There are several unsightly weed patches about town, owners of which should have enough pride to do their part in keeping the village beautiful. The co-operation of all is needed to maintain the best. It's a case of where the neglect of so few can spoil the labors of so many.

TELEPHONE TIPS FROM A FIGHTER PILOT

A fighter pilot must keep 48 basic factors in mind. These are technical flying matters, apart from battle tactics.

And he must also remember other things—for instance how to talk on his aircraft telephone; he always speaks clearly and concisely.

With telephone lines carrying an extra heavy load directly concerned with Canada's war effort, you can help telephone workers maintain good service by adopting fighter pilot telephone technique.

When your telephone rings, answer promptly, and don't waste time by saying "hello"—instead give your name immediately. Speak distinctly, directly into the mouthpiece, and be sure to replace the receiver on the hook when you have finished your conversation.

Your co-operation will help us to provide fast, accurate telephone service for a nation at war.
