WE ALL MUST SHARE

The grain has all been harvested.

The fields are turning brown. For the farmers they are busy.

Working up the ground.

To get the soil worked nice and fine so that the seeds will grow.

It may be just for seeds next year or some have wheat to sow.

And after that there is corn to cut.

The roots to gather in.

The potatoes have to all be dug and stored out in the bin.

We are very thankful for this food for man and beast alike.

To have no food to feed us all would be a sorry plight.

Yet there are many thousands in lands across the sea.

If only we will listen

We can hear their earnest plea.

For they have nothing much to wear or anything to eat.

And many have no home at all but are turned out on the street.

So let us each one do our part, To help our suffering brother,

For we are all one family With one God for a Father.

Some may feel they can't give money or give them of their time.

But we all can share with them our prayer

In your quiet corner and mine
