Amid flowers and decorated archway the graduation of Shirley Gee, Lillian Nichols, Marilyn Wallace, Donald and Ewart Avison and Wilbur Brumwell into the Mission Band was very impressive with Rev. McKay giving the address of welcome. There were solos by the junior members, and Mrs. Haig gave one of her instructive talks which was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served, bringing to a close a memberable afternoon, arranged by Mrs. R. Beatty.

The afternoons I spend visiting in the homes. Some can hardly be called such, but families live there. By teaching a little cooking, sewing, or first aid or even farming an avenue is often found by which to tell of Christ. Sometimes I read and write letters for those who are not familiar with the English language.

It is often a problem to find a place to stay. I wish sometimes I could sleep in a tree like a turkey but I always find somewhere (?) to spend the night. On of my schools was at Macdunnid, a little fishing village which, I understand, sends fish to one of our Stouffville merchants. The place looks fishy, smells fishy, and feels fishy. I lived alone in the teacher's room at the school. Over thirty children of all ages and sizes, white and Indian alike come each morning and we had a very interesting time—even dogs came to see what was going on.

Next week I expect to go to a little mining town near Geraldton. It will be different but I am hoping it will be worth while. Christ said "Suffer the little children to come unto Me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

DICKSON HILL

(Crowded Out Last Week) We are glad to include in our column a letter from Eleanor Moyer who has been working this summer under the Canadian Sunday School Mission in Thunder Bay district.

The Canadian Sunday School Mission was organized to take the gospel to villages and country places where there is no religious instruction. Our work is carried on mainly through the daily vacation Bible School, gathering the children together for Bible stories, singing and handwork.

The afternoons I spend visiting in the homes. Some can hardly be called such, but families live there. By teaching a little cooking, sewing, or first aid or even farming an avenue is often found by which to tell of Christ. Sometimes I read and write letters for those who are not familiar with the English language.

The heavy rain was welcomed in this district, as farmers found the land too hard to plow.

The frost we had last week froze all the corn on low lands badly, while that on higher land nearby is still green. One farmer had 3 acres of potatoes blackened.

In spite of the very heavy rain, just at Sunday School time our attendance was 50.

Once again the children file by on their way to school, another reminder that fall is here.
