

TORONTO Goodwood FLASHES

Walter Davey
8 Stanton Ave
Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, Toronto, were in Aurora Saturday on a visit.

Miss Lee has moved into the Middleton house in Goodwood.

The Victory Group are presenting their play "Mama's Baby Boy" in Udera on November 20th.

Stouffville War Workers Bazaar, Saturday, December 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harrison from Zephyr were recent guests with Mr. David Elson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Redman were recent guests with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Maye.

Callers on Mr. and Mrs. George Brown a few days ago were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Anderson from Uxbridge.

Collectors are making their rounds in behalf of the Bible Society. Goodwood always does well for this worthy effort.

For our sick friends Miss Audrey Feasby and Mrs. Bert Stewart, we hope for an early recovery.

Yes, you may get extra copies of The Tribune at Watson's Store.

We understand that William Henderson has sold his 17 acres of land adjoining Goodwood.

With Goodwood hunters all returned the village may feel safer against any invasion. The deer in the north will feel better too.

Mrs. Reg. Clark and Mrs. Walter Todd called on Mrs. Middleton last Friday.

Mrs. Heys and Mildred are leaving their home on the fourth concession to reside in Toronto for the winter.

Morley Symes and party also Walter Todd and party have returned from the north country with their supply of venison, at least we hope they got their deer.

We are sorry to know that Miss Maude Clarke is still confined to the Western Hospital, Toronto. We hope that she will soon be feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Evans and Kay from Glasgow also Mr. and Mrs. E. Evans and boys spent Sunday at the home of E. W. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Pilkey of Claremont drove up to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. Norton on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Jones were guests with Mr. George Jones on Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley Slack of Eckardt's Corners has been spending a week at Pine Grove at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Johnston.

Mrs. Howard Harper and Mrs. J. Todd visited Mrs. John Rae this week while in the hospital. Glad to note she will be able to be brought home to Goodwood this week.

Frank Judd of Baysview with his family visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Alsop on the third line, Uxbridge.

The Correspondent attended the S.O.E. Albion Lodge a few evenings ago when a wreath was placed at the cenotaph, College and University.

Chas. Nolan and Wilbert Gower of Stouffville were sitting close to The Correspondent at the Maple Leaf Gardens last Thursday watching the Maple Leafs and Canadiens.

Visitors at the home village of Goodwood on Sunday included Rev. Mr. Holmes, George Dowdwell and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, the latter from Toronto.

J. F. Reid, D. McDonald, Morley Symes and probably others were in Stouffville one evening last week. We suppose it was their night to feed the goat.

This Friday Mrs. J. Middleton will celebrate her 76th birthday. Will your card be among the 76 to congratulate this fine old mother of Goodwood. She is staying at 766 Pape Avenue.

Margaret Jane Davey, daughter of the Correspondent, was the guest of Margaret Freel at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Freel in Stouffville on Sunday.

Harold Norton distinguished himself by winning first prize in the potato field crop competition recently judged. That is some honor, and shows that Harold knows his murrphes.

Many attending the United anniversary in Goodwood on Sunday regretted to hear that Bert Stewart had just passed away. We too pondered over the news as we were boys together.

We are sorry to lose the Middleton family from our village. The Baptist Young People's presented Mrs. Middleton with a box of gifts from young people members and friends after the B.Y.P.U. meeting on Thursday night.

Birthday greetings to Wellington Smalley, Sandford, George Robinson, Forrest Stiner, Roseville; J. Haynes, Milliken; Joyce Anthony, Locust

GASOLINE RATIONING

Car Owners to Receive Cards Some Time In The New Year.

Distribution of gasoline rationing coupons by the provincial highways departments concurrently with the sale of vehicular licenses at the New Year is the system likely to be adopted for compulsory gas conservation in Canada.

The announcement in the House of Commons by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Supply, on Friday, confirms previous reports that the government is committed to gasoline rationing, but the details of enforcement have not yet been completed.

Date of the commencement of rationing is likely to be at the New Year, and not later than the middle of January, which is the deadline in most provinces for the purchase of the vehicle licenses. When the motorist buys his license he will also receive a book of gasoline ration coupons which will entitle him to purchase a specified number of gallons per month. The individual gallonage per month may be varied from time to time by the Oil Controller, depending upon the supply of crude oil reaching Canada and the urgency of the military forces for high-test gasoline and oils.

Hill; Joan Wilson, Brougham; Hugh Pugh, Whitevale; E. Smalley, Mount Albert; Ross Shier, Sunderland; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hardy, Claremont.

Well, well, on Monday we received a poster announcing the United church anniversary and supper which you have all attended by now. How often we see a poster plastered up with hand work or made on a typewriter. Congratulations Goodwood, for doing the thing in proper style with a neatly printed poster, with colored paper.

Tax collector D. McDonald is handing out those annual bills from which no man escapes if he has property. Since the days of William the Conqueror taxes have been collected. He was the chap who thought up the bright idea of the "Doomsday Book" which registered every animal a farmer owned, presumable for the purpose of levying taxes. In those days the taxes were paid in stock or what ever you dealt in.

The Victory Troupe from Goodwood were responsible last week for helping to bring the sum of $77 into the Tely War Chest by putting on a three-act-play for the Pine Grove School. The kiddies of the school, numbering 15, had worked a quilt under the guidance of their teacher Miss Johnson, and what's more they had sold 500 tickets on their draw for the quilt. With local talent at a premium, they appealed to the Goodwood Troupe to help them out, and the War Victims' Fund is $77.07 richer by the combined effort.

Our Junior Plow Boys are Honored at Farmers Banquet

Trophies and Cheques Go to Bob and Murray Timbers

The annual Junior Farmers' Banquet for those participating in the Home Plowing Competition was held in the Presbyterian Church at Agincourt last Friday evening. Close to one hundred guests were present, a large number of them being Junior plowmen.

J. A. Carroll, secretary manager of the International Plowing Match was the guest speaker of the evening.

Winners included Mr. Bruce Keffler, of Maple; Mr. Bert Tapscott, Milliken; Herbert Jarvis, Agincourt; Robert Timbers, Stouffville; high scorer in the boys' Tractor Class, Norman Tyndall, Richmond Hill, won the James McLean Memorial Trophy and an International Plow donated by Floyd Perkins, of Richmond Hill. In the Beginners Class Maurice Tapscott was high boy and this year again Miss Betty Brown, Markham, was the only girl plowing in the Competition. The Simpson Special was won by Carmen Tapscott.

During the evening honour was paid to York County's championship team in the Intercounty Tractor Competition at the International at Peterborough in the persons of Bobbie Timbers, Stouffville and Murray Timbers, Locust Hill. Mr. Carroll presented the trophy to W.M. Cockburn, representing the county and miniatures and cheques to the boys.

The youngest plowman in the Competition was Grant Wells, of Lemonville, age 13.

ONE FIGURE MAKES ITSELF A MONSTER

One figure misplaced or added can make itself a monster, it can transform a story from the single truth to a gigantic lie, it may even transform the law into a monstrosity. We proved it ourselves only last week in this paper, when under the council report for Whitchurch, the township was made to be holding a hundred miles of snow fence, whereas it should have been ten miles.

Officials must have had a good laugh, but the great majority of our readers we venture to say, never realized that the figure quoted was ninety per cent wrong. The largest stock of snow fence ever held by the Township of Whitchurch is now being put up for use this winter, and in length will stretch ten miles—not a hundred.

FEED for FLAVOR and QUALITY

MARMILL TURKEY FATTENER . . .

As the food the turkey consumes is converted into meat, naturally the composition of the growing and fattening ration is reflected in the quality and texture of meat on the finished bird. Marmill Turkey Rations are continually being improved not only in the better growth factor with corresponding lower mortality, but also with improved fleshing and flavor of meat.

Marmill Turkey Fattener (Mash or Pellets) will develop those large, well-fleshed turkeys, put on that beautiful finish with fat evenly distributed throughout the meat tissue instead of just under the skin as ordinary fattening mashes do.

GOING OVERSEAS

Through a shift in the overseas command which sends Air Vice-Marshal Harold "Gus" Edwards (Above), to the United Kingdom, the R.C.A.F. is making available for defence duties on the Pacific coast, a senior officer with more than a year's operational experience in the war zone. Air Vice-Marshal Edwards, now air member for personnel at air force headquarters at Ottawa, will become air officer commanding the R.C.A.F. in Britain. He succeeds Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson, who is returning to Canada to take over command at the growing air establishment in Western Canada, with headquarters at Victoria.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LATE DR. D. NORMAN

A few weeks ago, one of the great missionaries of the United Church, Rev. Dr. D. Norman, passed away in London, Ontario. Dr. and Mrs. Norman had spent over 40 years in Japan, and had been the means of leading many Japanese to Christianity.

As a boy and youth, the late Dr. Norman had lived on a farm on Yonge Street, near C.F.R.B. station, and had attended the Sunday School and Church at Temperanceville.

On Sunday, November 23rd, at 7:45 p.m. standard time a memorial service is to be held at Temperanceville. A life-long friend and fellow worker of Dr. Norman in Japan, Rev. Dr. Bates, will give the memorial address. The Aurora United Church Choir will supply appropriate special numbers. All are invited to this service—but especially any who may have known Dr. Norman in the old days.

IS NINETY-SIX YEARS OLD TODAY

A host of friends will step out of their way to congratulate their old friend Mr. James Ley of Markham village who will celebrate his 96th birthday today, Thursday. The village smithy who plied his trade for three quarters of a century is still a well remembered man, although he has dropped from the limelight of the business life of Scarboro and Markham. While suffering some impairment of memory, Mr. Ley is physically quite active.

WOULD HANG HITLER

Hitler should be hanged "on one count alone with complete justice," Col. Henry Breckinridge, eminent New York attorney, who once was counsel for Charles Lindbergh, said in a speech at Toronto. "Hitler should never be permitted to retire and chop wood at Doorn."

RED CROSS NOTES

Bloomington unit is thanked for their work in making three quilts, and Mrs. T. Gostick for making a beautiful rug from our work-room materials.

We have received many fine donations which we hereby gratefully acknowledge: A quilt from the W.M.S. of St. James Presbyterian Church, quantity of buttons from Mr. J. Monkhouse, quantity of deerskin and a new ladies' sweater from the Misses Lemon, quilt from Miss B. Mitchell, $1.00 from the Misses Rose, a blanket from an Eastend friend.

Other cash donations which were definitely given in response to the special appeal for bedding were transferred directly to our president, Mr. F. L. Button, who is personally handling the "Blankets for Britain" fund.

—Mrs. Roy Grove

Hitler Hideout

Hitler has ordered the renovation of the ancient Castle of Poznan (Posen), where he intends to spend in future part of the year regularly. Repairs and improvements on the castle are being carried out at enormous cost even now in war-time. This optimistic order by Fuhrer is due to the fact that the castle lies on a hill, in lovely surroundings.

WHAT! NO KITCHEN DOOR?

If you have built your own home you must certainly have experienced the thrill of a life-time. Not only is it a thrill to the builder, but there is something about building a house that somehow interests your friends, too. We know that ever since we turned the first shovelful of earth, someone has been asking us—What plan are you building under? Is it the Colonial type or the Cape Cod? Will it be brick or frame? How many rooms are you having? What! No kitchen door?

We believe the last one has caused the most interest. You see in our new home we have no door to the outside from the kitchen, except through the way to the cellar from the side entrance. It would seem that most people prefer a door to the rear of the house from the kitchen; but I guess we wanted to be different. We read an article once where it was suggested that architects are already planning just one door for a house—the front! However, we had planned our building before reading this item. They claim it will be more economical, save on the heating bill, and do away with class distinctions. And the Christian Science Monitor comments thus:—

"Yes, the grocery boy can come in along with the dinner guests, the meter-reader with the parson, the furnace man with the bridge party. And the cook can pop her head in the drawing-room door on the way out and tell the lady what she did with the left-overs.

But what will a small boy do? Will he always wipe his boots and never touch the front hall walls with play-dirty hands? Then, too, when Mother was in the living room and there was definite need of two or three or four doughnuts or cookies, or a slice of bread and Jam, a fellow had a sporting chance—with a kitchen door. We view the proposition with some nostalgic misgiving."
