

200 Turkeys Ready for Market

The Tribune had a call from a lady living in the vicinity of Zephyr who engages in the business of raising turkeys. This year she hatched 500 birds, but lost 100 at one time through allowing them to get chilled as she took them from the brooder to clean the machine. This turkey raiser intends to visit Stouffville this Friday and will bring along a liberal number of turkeys, of which she will have about 200 for the Christmas market. Not all of them will be offered at this market, however, as some are marked to be sold at one or two other Christmas markets.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nolan occupied their new home on Duchess street last week, which has been building this summer. They are speedily getting settled, and will just manage to get a good smudge on the chimney before Old Santa Claus gets around.

Local & Personal News

In view of the fact that the manufacture of skates is to be curbed, there ought to be ready sale for those used gliders advertised in this paper the last week or two.

We had quite a snow storm Saturday, coming as it did one week after summer-like weather, it hardly gave one time to become climatized.

Miss Isabel Collard has given up her position at Hodgins' Grocery, and intends to enter a branch of the war work industry at Claremont, with the Sarco Co., opening up in that village.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture expect to have Miss Agnes MacPhail address a public meeting in Markham village about the middle of January. The lady will be well worth hearing.

Floyd Tindall, well known about town, is back from Labrador, but this paper has been unable to contact him for his views on the far north. We understand that Floyd was engaged with a contracting firm in the building line, and their work having been completed, the workers returned to Canada.

The Town of Bracebridge would like to be relieved of the Order in Council requiring all places on daylight saving to remain on that time. They appealed to the Dominion Power Controller, who informed the council of Bracebridge that he had no authority to exempt any place, despite the fact that Bracebridge owns their own hydro and is not using any current from the Ontario Hydro Commission. Inasmuch as the demand made that all places on d.s.t. must not revert to standard time on the grounds of conserving current, it hardly seems reasonable to hold this law over Bracebridge.

War Branch Draw Saturday Evening
The War Branch Draw will be made next Saturday evening, Dec. 20th, at 8.30 in the Municipal Hall. Four draws will be made from the tickets sold: 1st lamb, 2nd rug, 3rd percolator, and 4th rug. Lucky ticket holders need not be present to obtain prizes. If you have not already bought tickets, buy at the Institute booth in Ratcliff's Hall, at the Christmas Market. Those selling tickets are asked to return stubs to Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Davey or Janet Brodie by Friday night.

Shadow Lake Farm is shipping waxed turnips to the Toronto market in considerable numbers.

Mr. Willis Davis has rented the Jos. Hoover farm at Altona, consisting of 75 acres. He has done his fall plowing and planted wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. Rae Reid and Mr. Gordon Kennedy of Toronto spent Sunday with the former's aunt Miss Sadie Stewart.

Mrs. Arthur Paisley received the pleasing notification on Sunday that she was the winner of a fine comfortable quilt made by the women of Leaskdale, Scott township, on which Mrs. Paisley bought a ticket last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett of Toronto motored to town on Saturday for the War Workers Bazaar. They brought with them Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davey and Miss Jane. The Bennett's returned the same evening but the Daveys remained over Sunday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Davey.

Mrs. Albert Lehman has closed her house for the winter months and will make her home with her niece, Mrs. F. W. Thompson. Mrs. Lehman has been in ill health since the passing of her husband some months ago, and will be forced to keep to her bed for some time yet.

According to word received by transport man, Telf. Rennie, his brother-in-law Capt. L. C. Parkinson has arrived in England. Capt. Parkinson is the catering adviser to the 5th Division. To be responsible for the food served to 30,000 men, as to quantity, quality and wastage is no small contract, but this officer is conceded to be well qualified for the position, since he has more or less engaged in work of this nature in the larger hotels for many years.

One of our eldest citizens living in the west end was taken to the Brierbush hospital last week suffering from a run down condition due, we understand to, his great age. Mr. Graham will reach his 87th birthday on the 23rd day of December. The great majority of people are called to the Great Beyond long before they reach the remarkable age. Mr. Graham has attained. However, we hope for his recovery and ability to trip about town occasionally, as his custom was for many years now.

Whether or not you have any preference for lamb chops, pork chops, or plain roast beef, buy a ticket on the Christmas lamb before Saturday night when the draw will be made at the Municipal Hall.

Mrs. Sophia Latchford has gone to Avy where she intends to spend the winter at the home of her daughter Mrs. Urquhart. Mrs. Frank Miller who has been residing with Mrs. Latchford has taken rooms with Mrs. Will Yake.

The next issue of The Tribune will be published on Tuesday, Dec. 23rd. Advertisers must step smartly, just as we will have to do to issue the paper at that time. Correspondents, also will please send in their news not later than Tuesday morning, but preferably on Monday.

Farm Hands Enjoyed Oyster Supper
Mr. and Mrs. Ross Winterstein entertained between 30 and 40 people to an oyster supper at their farm home one evening last week. The guests represented the men folk who worked on the Winterstein farm this past summer handling vegetable crops. A number of lady guests were present, and all enjoyed the social time and evening. This is the spirit that makes life worth-while.

The Christmas meeting of the Garret Evening Auxiliary of the United Church was held at the home of Miss Eva Hoover. The president Mrs. J. M. Storey presided. Miss Gertrude Todd lead the devotional service, assisted by several auxiliary members, and a solo was rendered by Mrs. G. Kellington. Miss Edna Hoover reviewed the study book chapter "Surgeon of the Skeena life of Dr. Wrinnick." A reading was given by Miss Gladys Brooks. The meeting closed by a brief talk given by the pastor, Rev. D. Davis. A social half hour was enjoyed.

Hundreds of people who attended the Markham Fair will recall that quilt offered at "three tickets for 25c" in the main building. Well, it was won by Mrs. Wm. Simpson of the Brown Betty Tea Rooms, and she was apprized of her good fortune on Saturday when a gentleman from Markham village brought the goods to town and handed it over to the lucky winner. The quilt was a lovely piece of work and was made by Miss Ethel Davidson for the Markham Red Cross. It occupied a prominent position on exhibition at the fair. Perhaps you recall it.

December Lawn Bowlers
Markham Bowlers inform us they really have something that makes local history. As late as December 5, the kitty chasers in the southern village actually were out on the greens, and some of them were in their shirt sleeves. There was Fred Reesor, Archie Millen, Dr. Brown and Ed. Wurm, all going at it just as though it was mid-July. It certainly established a record for late bowling, for here in Stouffville the club folded up a month before that.

Markham Rink Still Idle
Although considerable time has elapsed since the Markham Agricultural Society received tenders from those interested in operating the local arena there, no bid has yet been accepted. We understand that only one tender was received and that from the previous operator. In past years the Fair Board has received the sum of $300 for the use of the building for skating and hockey. Last season and again this year, repairs are being made which would leave little profit if the same rent were accepted again. The management of Markham hockey teams are anxious that ice be provided as soon as possible, as the way matters stand the players are forced to pay for practise on Toronto ice. The Fair Board will hold their annual meeting early in the new year, but profitable time may be lost if the rink is not put in operation before then.

WAR BRANCH BAZAAR TOPPED OVER $100.

Despite all the elements could do on Saturday afternoon by way of extreme cold and a blinding snow storm (worse of the winter) there was a good attendance at Ratcliff's Hall, for the War Workers Bazaar. When the receipts were totalled in the evening there was a snug sum over $100 to place in the coffers of the Branch.

Mr. Walter Davey, Flash Correspondent for this paper from Toronto, was really the man of the hour, and besides bringing along some 35 prizes which were partly responsible for raising the splendid sum obtained, he assisted effectively in conducting the proceedings. There was no musical program and in its absence Mrs. Charles Nolan played the piano as the folk strolled about the bazaar, or enjoyed their cup of tea.

A coffee percolator, an outstanding prize, was won by a young miss from Goodwood, while Miss A. Robb, O'Brien'aven, had the lucky ticket for the blanket. She was tied with Mrs. Walsh and Eleanor Goudie, who were given consolation prizes after the tie was broken.

STIVER BROS.

Band concert of Christmas music at the Stanley Theatre next Sunday evening at 8.30. Silver collection.

Mrs. Don Fraser of Belleville who has been suffering from ill health the past few weeks, is here at the home of her aunt, Miss Jane Burkitt, for a time.

Ye editor was speaking to Mr. Andy Williams, manager of Eaton's Shadow Lake Farm last week, and we expressed our amazement that he should be about so soon after a major operation. However, Mr. Williams, while making good recovery, is not yet out of bed. He was speaking over the telephone from the bedside and from this vantage point is carrying on the business of the farm, or at least directing it in his successful way. Mr. Williams anticipates an early recovery that will enable him to mingle among his friends once more.

Stores open every evening next week until Christmas, and of course there will be no Wednesday half-holiday on Dec. 24.

A small boy picked up a big string of pearls on the sidewalk last Saturday and left them at The Tribune where the owner may claim them.

Stouffville War Branch request those who have knitted articles to send them in by Saturday as packing will be done on Dec. 22.

Reeve and Mrs. Weldon and family, also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riches and family were in Cambray on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Riches, parents of Frank Riches and Mrs. Weldon. The elder folks were marking up their diamond wedding anniversary, 60 years married.

Send The Tribune to absent friends.
