The local rink which went to Oshawa to participate in the curling bonspiel there last week, although they failed to finish in the money, winning one game and losing two, ran up the big score of 18-5 on Will Burkett's rink from Clarendon. In the first round, the Stouffville foursome were pitted against F. R. Michael's Oshawa rink, and went down 16-7. In the second game they drew R. Cowie of Colbourne and lost again 12-5. 87 Last Saturday Congratulations were being extended to Mrs. Thos. Klinck last Saturday on the occasion of her 87th birthday. Mrs. Klinck may be seen up town any reasonably fine day doing her shopping and meeting friends in her accustomed way. Few people at the great age of Mrs. Klinck are capable of carrying on in this wonderful manner that she is known to do. She attends her own household duties and keeps abreast of world news and events.

Teachers Glasses Gone One of our local school teachers is puzzled over the whereabouts of her glasses. In case you or any of your friends found a pair it is just possible they belong to the school mistress. In any case Miss Ann Lindsay missed her glasses since the last day of school before the Christmas holiday. She recalls having them on that occasion, but on arrival at her home they were gone, and she surmised that they had been left in the school, and decided that they would be all right until her return. However, the glasses were not in the school, and anyone finding a pair that might belong to our school teacher, please report the matter and receive her blessing.

20 Below Zero After congratulating ourselves on the mild weather enjoyed all winter, the weather man fairly went on a spree last week and for six days dished out atmosphere hovering around zero without any respite. In fact one night it dipped to 20 below zero, but on Sunday there came a change for the better. There is not enough snow to cover the fields, consequently the "beautiful" that we have is very dirty and homes are treated to something like sand storms wherever the wind gets up. Business in town seemed to slow up as farmers did not come in unless it was absolutely necessary. However the usual callers were seen on the streets, but they too disappeared more promptly. We have in mind a few of the landmarks, meaning Tom Williamson, K. G. Tarr, Wm. Quantz, E. J. Davey, William Ball, and others that we are so accustomed to see down town around mail time. So far as we know none of them missed a mail, so they are not afraid of the weather man.

In answer to numerous enquiries we state that you have until January 31, to procure new motor license plates for your car or truck. They are obtainable in Uxbridge, Markham and Unionville, but not in Stouffville.

Mount Albert Telephone Co., was fined $25.00 in court at Newmarket last week, for neglecting to make necessary tax returns. Company plea of shortage of help was of no avail.

Now don't you wish you had listened more attentively to that garageman who pointed out that your tires were worn and needed to be replaced?

Service in the Presbyterian church was called off on Sunday owing to the illness that has kept the pastor at home for some days. Rev. Mr. Rayner was unable to participate in the week of prayer last week due to this illness, but we are glad to report that he is now improving and getting about again.

Mr. Jim Green, resident on Stouffer street for years, and who enlisted as a veteran of the last war, has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant. He is stationed at Angler near White River, and reports the weather as around 58 below at its worst. "Its very cold," says Sergt. Green.

The first visitors to the local curling rink this season was a rink from Malvern which edged out a local foursome by the score of 12-10 in a friendly match here on Saturday night. The game was very close, requiring an extra end to decide the issue. The Stouffville rink was composed of Orval Dewrey, Win. Timbers, John Timbers and Harvey Moyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lintner and family are new tenants in the north half of the house owned by Leslie Rowbotham at the foot of Mill St., south. His brother Ted and his father Edw., former blacksmith here are also working there.

Goodwood Men Lifetime Readers It has often been told us by Wm. Morgason of Goodwood that he has been a subscriber to The Tribune since the very first issue back in 1888, fifty-three years ago. Now comes our E. J. Davey with very tangible evidence that he first subscribed for this paper in 1889, and he's been on our mailing list continuously ever since. Mrs. Davey came across a notation to this effect, a few days ago as it was written back in those days. It was just two months after Mr. and Mrs. Davey commenced married life, hence with showing such good forethought right at the start, is it any wonder that our esteemed couple have paddled along meeting always with success and dealing altogether with life in a very sensible way. Both Mr. Davey and William Morgason are Goodwood boys and both enjoy life at this time, and we hail them as our longest subscribers.

Uxbridge Has Many Robberies Despite the fact that the Town of Uxbridge has both a day and a night constable there are frequent robberies in the northern town, that leads one to think the place is a target for the rough-necks that make their attacks under cover of darkness. Several break-ins last year are reported and to start the new year in the same way, one night last week while the night constable was off duty and a special cop was sworn in to replace him, thieves carried off $1,000 in goods from the store of Whitney Bros. They are still at large. Entrance was made by jimmying the door, and only the best stock was selected in the lines stolen. Only a few nights before the robbery, the night cop on duty chased away a couple of would-be thieves from the same store, but they apparently came back. Uxbridge is not the only town where robberies are being attempted for over at Alliston an attempt last week was made to enter the store of one of their large merchants when the police met up with the robbers, but they escaped in a car. As the cop sneaked up on the thief as he was getting into the car, he drew his gun and ordered the sneak to stop. Instead he put the car in gear and drove right into the cop, who fell when he jumped to one side. Before he could regain his composure to shoot, the car was away. The cop took the car number only to find it was a stolen machine. These break-ins come as a warning to other towns and business places to be prepared as best they can for a similar robbery.

Danger! Liver Trouble is Serious Are you nervous and irritable—can't sleep or eat—tired all the time? If you're like that, a faulty liver is poisoning your whole system! Lasting ill health may be the cost! Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If unhealthy, your body lacks this energy and becomes enfeebled—youthful vigor disappears. Again your liver pours out bile to digest food, get rid of waste and allow proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order proper digestion and nourishment stop—you're poisoned with the waste that decomposes in your intestines. Nervous troubles and rheumatic pains arise from this poison. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. The whole system is affected and you feel "rotten," head-schy, backachy, dizzy, tired out—a ready prey for sickness and disease.
