Attending a skating party at Stouffville, Miss Marie Feren picked up a pocket book containing a sum of money. No doubt the owner will claim it as Miss Feren reported the matter.

We appreciate all news sent to us by Sunday afternoon so that it can be rushed into the issue for that week. If you write make sure your mail will reach us Saturday's mail, or if you phone do so by Sunday afternoon when we are preparing our budget.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lee of Stouffville were callers at the Correspondent's home the other day.

Many people are finding it handy to get extra copies of The Tribune at Watson's store in Goodwood. Often a person wishes to send an extra to a friend.

Wood by the car load is reaching George Todd at Goodwood from the north country.

We bid the following happy birthday greetings: Mrs. Dudley White, Stanley Van Wick, Altona; Alfred Pugh, Stouffville; Mrs. Stanley Norton, Sunderland; Mrs. Don Fraser, Stouffville; Mabel Weir, Uxbridge; Mrs. Hoyle Brethour, 2nd concession; Ellmore Anthony, Locust Hill; Mrs. Thos. Watson, Marsh Hill; Dorothy Harlock, Dorothy Hockley, Edmund Warden, Garry Evans, Jack Keller, Elmer Evans, all of Claremont district; Ella Symes, Reuben Mave, Goodwood; Leslie Reid, Valentyne.

Mrs. Bewell of Unionville is now in Toronto on a visit which we hope she will thoroughly enjoy.

When our phone tingled the other day we were pleased to hear the cheerio of Fred Middleton who rushed down from Whitby for a day. We hear that he cannot stay away from the blonde lassie too long, but Fred didn't tell us that, oh no.

We learn from Goodwood that everybody is taking to skating. Well, well, and that is fine. One of these days we'll get up a hockey team and issue a challenge to the Maple Leafs. On the line up how about training Dan Baker, Will Todd, Will Whittleton, Isaac Shaver, Distin McDonald, Andy Morgason, and for goalie John Reid. Everyone of them would be a hummer, and would show some of the young rookies how the game used to be played.

Mrs. Wilkinson has baked a lovely cake to be sent to her son overseas, and not only the looks but the ingredients, you bet are fine.

Fifth Line Woman's Association met at the home of Mrs. Walter Symes, when business of the organization was transacted.

Mrs. Harold Norton was a guest of Mrs. George Jones one day recently. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kennedy were also home with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norton visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Brown.

Pleased to hear in my correspondence of the kindly act done by Frank Wagg who while Mrs. Feren is ill, he just goes over and cleans the snow. Of course lots of people will tell you there isn't any to clean. Well, we wish Frank lived closer to No. 8 Stanton, when he's so good with the snow shovel.

Goodwood public school has an attendance of around 30 pupils. Fifty years ago when the farm boys all attended the number was around 90. There was no fear of large families in those days, and they were welcome just like high ceilings and big houses, none of which are wanted in this era.

We have been admiring the calendar issued by Rae's Garage, and will be able to make good use of our copy.

Just like in Stouffville, thieves are busy on Stanton avenue, breaking into garages and stealing tires and tools. Recent victim was ????

The local United Young People's Society met with the other societies of the district at a skating party on the Stouffville Arena. Later they were treated to a lunch by the Stouffville group.

The B.Y.P.U. met at Lloyd Wagg's on Thursday evening. Benny Jones had charge of the program for the Fellowship Group.

A number of new books have been received by the library. We would be glad to have more members. Come and look at the new books.

The War Workers wish to thank Miss Greta Hatley of Toronto for another grand contribution of patches for quilts. Several of the ladies are busy making quilts now, also cushions from some of the material.

Good News—Our friend Dr. Darling is on duty again looking after the sick.

Pleased to hear our friend Mrs. N. Wagg is improving. Mr. Harold Dowswell is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dowswell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wagg and family had dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hoover on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Findlay Thompson and family spent Sunday visiting friends at Goodwood.

Lesson for January 25th

THE TEMPTATION OF JESUS
Golden Text—For we have . . . an high priest which . . . was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.—Heb. 4:15

Verse by Verse, Matt. 4: 1-11

1 Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and saith, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord.

5 Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them.

9 And saith unto him, All these will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

The Lesson as a Whole
John Bunyon wrote: "In the Valley of Humiliation poor Christian was hard put to it; for he had gone but a little way before he espied a foul fiend coming over the field to meet him; his name is Apollyon. And Apollyon straddled quite over the whole breadth of the way, and a sore combat lasted for about half a day, even till Christian was quite spent." This is intended to impress upon us the thought of the reality of temptation, and the importance of overcoming it, rather than allowing ourselves to be overcome by it. Evil is not merely negative, not even good in the making. There is such a thing as an active, positive principle of evil. "We wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against world-rulers of this darkness," to use St. Paul's curious phrase, and we must resist as men fight against a crafty and malignant enemy, not as men who merely pick their way among inanimate obstacles.

In the baptism at Jordan, Jesus had passed through a spiritual crisis, and the call had come to him to rise and fulfil his God-given mission to mankind. Then he felt himself impelled to go away in solitude for a while, in order that, by prayer and meditation, apart altogether from human fellowship, he might arrive at a clear conception of the nature of his life-work. Then came what is here described as temptation.

It may be spiritually helpful to us to notice when Christ was tempted. It was after the uplift of his call and the consecration of his baptism. This is true to human experience. It means that he was tempted in two aspects of one great experience, on the one hand in its exaltation, on the other hand, in its reaction. In like manner there are no more dangerous moments for us than these, the moments of natural rebound and reaction. We must be on guard in the case of both moods of the soul, that of depression, both are danger signals.

The Historical Setting
The temptation of Jesus took place, if we may trust tradition, on Mt. Quarantania, west of the Jordan, across from Jericho, a very forbidding and desolate wilderness. It followed His baptism almost immediately, in the early part of A.D. 27, shortly before the Passover.

The Heart of the Lesson
God's King must reign in righteousness. The sinner's substitute must be as an unblemished lamb—with no defect outwardly or inwardly. Therefore the Lord as a man must be subjected to the most searching test, to demonstrate His fitness for the great work He came to do. Had the temptation brought to light any evidence of inbred sin or moral corruption of

There was a large attendance at the Baptist Sunday School on Sunday, January 11th. Mr. Taylor gave a talk to the children at the close of Sunday School.

Declaring that "we've got to spend all our money on the war," Sir William Mulock, who was 98 on Monday, decided that this year there will be no birthday party for him.

To the younger generation, on the eve of his 98th birthday, he says he has only one message to offer. It is a quotation credited to Etienne de Grellet, the Frenchman who fled France during the reign of terror and came to America where he became a any kind, it would have been the proof that Jesus was not the Holy One of God, destined to bring in everlasting righteousness and to make propitiation for iniquity. But nowhere was the perfection of Jesus demonstrated more clearly than when Satan made every effort to find some defect in His character, some form of self-seeking in His heart. The King was tested and proved to be all that God the Father had declared at His baptism—the One in whom He had found all His delight.

Quaker. The quotation has been placed on small plaques which Sir William is handing to close friends. It reads:

"I shall pass through this world but once. Any good thing, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer it or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

Among the salvable articles now needed by the Government are bottle caps, such as are now used on soft drink and beer bottles. These caps, which are called "Crown corks" by the trade, are needed for the materials in them. Both the cork linings and the metal can be used.

Highlights from the

95th Annual Report

of Canada's Oldest Life Assurance Company

"We believe that a life insurance company cannot stand on the sidelines in this supreme struggle."

During 1941, the Canada Life purchased $24,200,000 of government war and defense bonds. This amount is greater than the entire renewal premium income of the Company for the year:

- New paid-for life insurance placed with the Company in 1941 showed an increase of 23 per cent. over the comparable figure for the previous year.
- In addition, an increased volume of annuity business was completed during the year.
- Life insurance in force at the end of 1941 amounted to $815,470,716, an increase of almost $10,000,000 over the previous year. This figure does not include annuity business, which has also shown a substantial increase. To ensure payment of these contracts, the Company has assets of $284,617,288, which, combined with future premium payments, will be ample to meet the obligations involved as they fall due.
- Lapses and surrenders—policies which are discontinued before they mature—were at the lowest level in 17 years.
- In the last ten years, only twice has mortality experience been more favourable.
- Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries during the year amounted to $22,956,250—an average of $75,514 each working day.
- The security of policyholders has again been strengthened by a further increase in surplus.
- The rate of interest earned by the Company in 1941 was 4.21 per cent.
