Flag at Half Mast
Reeve Weldon ordered the town flag over the municipal building at half mast for three days in honor of the Sgt. Pilot George Davis who paid the supreme sacrifice. This is the first time a local family has suffered a casualty, unless it be the case of Billy Castle who is feared lost, at sea, but on whom there is still no official report.

Tribune Brings Old Stouffville Boys Together

Below is a letter received from Fred "Curly" Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson of Newmarket and formerly of Stouffville, who is in the R.C.A.F. and stationed at Dafoe, Sask.

Dafoe, Sask.,
February 8, 1942
Dear Mr. Nolan,
Just a few lines to say "Hello" to all the folks at home and to describe an incident which occurred through the widespread circulation of The Tribune.

I was surprised and greatly pleased a couple of weeks ago to get a letter from Ace Davis at Nalcam, Sask., inviting me up to his place for a visit on one of my leaves. Now I didn't remember Ace, as he left Stouffville while I was a rather young fellow about 7 years old, but you can be sure I accepted the invitation at once. I had a two days leave about a week later and I headed north. You can well imagine how I felt to meet and talk to someone from home. Ace farms 1 1/2 sections of good land and I certainly had a real time of it. I was to get a real show of Western hospitality as we Easterners call it.

So of course I met Mr. Davis and family and then the talk started. We talked for hours of people we both knew and it did both of us a lot of good. Even though I left Stouffville some 17 years ago, it is still home to me and it was great to meet someone to talk over old times with.

You may be sure Ace lost no time in making me acquainted with some of his countless friends. To say that he is popular and well-known is putting it mildly. To my knowledge he is favorably known all over this part of the province. But this is what took me down so much. All the people I met through Ace invited me for meals and you know there is a limit as to how much one can eat. At any rate I had three turkey dinners in two days and after living on rations you can well imagine how I enjoyed myself.

But it wasn't only the eats I enjoyed. To think that I have been here nine months and then find that Ace lives only 40 miles from here. We have train and bus service so it is an easy matter to get to see him. You can be sure when the invitation was extended by Ace to go back again I went. We get a 48 hour leave every 10 days and it is well to have a place like Ace Davis' to go to.

It was through my picture which you published that I met another school chum Dave Galloway. Dave is at Saskatoon and when he saw the picture he flew here to see me. He and his wife and daughter are living in Saskatoon so I have an invitation in to see them. I am going to try and make it my next 48.

Please remember me to all my friends. Wishing you and your paper success. I remain,
A former Stouffvillite,
Curly.

Local & Personal News

Mr. Charlie Badgero was called to Toronto this week owing to the death of his brother Robert.

Miss Ruth Clarkson is in Toronto taking a secretarial course at the Canada Business College.

The evening train for Toronto each Sunday evening is due at Stouffville at 9.24.

Merchants and citizens in general certainly appreciate the prompt removal of huge piles of snow from along the business section of the village. A gang of men and several trucks made short work of it after the big storm of February 8th.

Flying Officer Harold Sanders and family of the R.C.A.F. were weekend visitors in town with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sanders.

Mrs. Agnes Forsyth, widow of the late Dr. Forsyth, south Markham veterinary who was found in his home near death one cold day this winter, and who died later in hospital, has been admitted as a patient at the Brierbush.

Mrs. Albert Lehman who has been in poor health for some months past, is gradually improving, and is now back in her own home in the west end of town. Mrs. Harry Gilroy of Newmarket, Mrs. Lehman's sister-in-law, has been staying with her for the past week.

Playing With DeLaSalle
Joey Cherry of Gormley who is attending Upper Canada College is playing hockey this year with Joe Primeau's second squad, the DeLaSalle outfit. He is reported to be doing well and is ready to join higher company.

Whitchurch Girl Fine Skier
Miss Elizabeth Snively of Whitchurch Township, is one of the top-ranking women skiers in Canada, and was a member of the Toronto ski club foursome who just recently completed in a big meet at the Seigniory Club, Quebec. The Toronto skiers were runners-up and Miss Snively marked up the fastest time of any competitor in the slalom run. She is a daughter of Col. and Mrs. S. Snively.

President Visits Ottawa
Mr. T. B. Rae who was recently elected president of the Canadian Independent Telephone Association was in Ottawa last week in reference to recent legislation affecting the telephone organizations throughout the country. Mr. Rae's recent elevation to the presidency of this organization, is certainly a very flattering manner in which to recognize his interest and knowledge in this line of enterprise. Such a position at this time carries with it great responsibilities, with changing laws and complications of all kinds.

Arena Packed for Lions Carnival
Approximately 500 people jammed onto the ice at the arena for the Lions Club carnival last Wednesday night, and a good financial return was made to help the Child Welfare Work. A parade of the Allied Nations and the Armed Forces, participants in the broom ball game, opened the show. The bugle call was given by Messrs. Ormsby Lehman and William Dougherty, while the entire gathering stood for The King which officially opened proceedings. Those in costume were fairly few. Prizes were awarded as follows: fancy dress, Dorothy Wilson, Helen Lehman; comic dress, Messrs. Raxlin and Nicholson, "Butch" Steckley. Clarion Baker was the lucky winner of the $5 war-saving certificate, and he very generously turned his prize back to the Red Cross.

This Sugar was not so Sweet
Three women of York County appeared before Magistrate Keith last week in police court charged with purchasing sugar beyond their legal allotment. In one case the plea put up claimed that the husband had ordered a bag before the regulations became effective, and it was not delivered for two weeks. In the other instance ignorance of the law was the excuse. The lady had a bag or part of a bag in the house, and then proceeded to buy in small lots. In both cases judgment was reserved. Magistrate Keith pointed out that a total fine could be imposed of $5,000 on guilty parties, but he wanted to make sure of every phase of the new Act before he passed judgment, and decided to take time to do this. The cases were brought into court by an Inspector for the Sugar Controller whose duty it is to drop around, calling on merchants and making investigations. After all there will be little sympathy shown on the part of the public, for those who refuse to be honest in this matter, persons who refuse to play the game squarely on sugar could not be looked upon as an ally in this war.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark and family of Toronto spent Sunday with Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. B. Doten, O'Brien Avenue.

Here is good news for men and women who have gray hair. "Angeli-que Gray Hair Restorer" restores gray hair to its natural color $1.00 at Storey's Drug Store.

Mr. Jim Lawson who is with the Bank of Nova Scotia in the Ottawa district has been home for a week visiting with his mother Mrs. Geo. Lawson.

Mr. Edw. Brownsberger of Ringwood who has been employed at Port Colborne and Niagara Falls on the construction of munition plants, was removed to Welland General Hospital last week suffering with appendicitis. Mr. Brownsberger has been away on construction work for nearly a year.

Mr. Dorian Woodburn, C.N.R. employee at Sarnia, Ontario, is home recovering from a seige of illness which sent him to the hospital in Toronto for a short duration.

Mrs. A. S. Collins is spending some time visiting at Malvern at the home of her daughter, and in Toronto with other relatives. During her absence the east end of Stouffville boasts an 80-year-old cook, and he's a good one too.

Friends were glad to learn over last weekend that Mr. Geo. Thomas, rural mail courier on route No. 1, is showing signs of improvement since his recent serious illness. After some days in the hospital he rallied noticeably and authorities say that his case may not prove as critical as was first feared.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bartholomew are moving to Toronto. He has been a truck driver with the Stouffville Creamery for ten years, but a couple of months ago took ill. Now after making a fair recovery Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew have decided to live in Toronto where her parents reside. "Buster" as he is always called, will no doubt follow his accustomed occupation of truck driving.

Over two hundred citizens partook of the plunkett dinner sponsored by the Senior Women's Institute in Ratcliff's Hall on Thursday evening. The meal was both bountiful and varied and everyone who served himself heartily to the four courses which came by, found their wants thoroughly satisfied. Following the dinner and an entertaining commercial motion picture, a number of prizes were presented, the winners answering to such embarrassing questions as, "what spinsters in the house would like to be married?" and "what bachelor here would like to take to himself a wife?" Those who received the lucky groceries were: Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Lud Hoover, Mrs. Chas. Nolan, Miss Sadie Stewart, Mrs. W. Lehman, Mrs. Percy Tarr, Mrs. Ida Kidd, Mrs. Salmon, and Mrs. Thomas Kinlock.

At the home of Misses Violet and Edna Hoover the February meeting of the Garrett Evening Auxiliary was held. The vice president, Miss Eva Hoover presided. The theme of the devotional "Talents" was in charge of Miss Gladys Brooks. Miss Myrtle Watson gave a reading, "The Story of St. Valentine." An interesting talk on the study book chapter, "The Canadians are Coming" was given by Miss Lillian Dowswell. A solo was rendered by Mrs. Robert Bone. A very interesting report was given by Miss Ann Lehman who was a delegate to the Toronto East Presbyterial Convention held in the Danforth Ave. United Church. Rev. D. G. Davis closed the meeting with prayer. A social half hour was enjoyed by all.

Discussion Through the Press, Ended
Since the recent convention of Markham Sunday School Association saw fit to pass a resolution against alleged evolutionary teachings in the schools, The Tribune has published three letters on the issue. One was in opposition to the action of the convention, and two were in support of what was done. This week Dr. Thomas Mitchell enters the discussion, as the final person to be heard on the issue through the columns of this paper. The editor hopes that the paper will not be asked to publish any more letters, because if all the paper in Canada was used up in writing letters on this issue, it is doubtful whether it would change the minds of any. We would prefer that our best efforts be spent on learning how to live our daily lives pleasing in the sight of God, for that is what will count on the judgment day. What opinions we hold about man's state millions of years back, will not likely be held against us so why not let the matter rest there.

These things may look trifling, but on 6,500,000 daily telephone calls, they are very important.
