Pickering Township Has New Village for War Workers

"Ajax, Ontario."

That's the name of Ontario's newest village—incorporated only two weeks ago as "a home away from home" for workers at the Pickering plant of Defense Industries Limited.

Rolling fields of some of Ontario's finest farms little more than a year ago, the site of Ajax, Ontario, is completely within the limits of the plant property which lies south and east of Toronto, in Pickering Township.

The picture has changed, and the green fields have given way to well-lighted and busy streets and scores of modern buildings which make up the model community in which live more than 1,200 war workers. There is nothing wanting in this little village on the shores of Lake Ontario, and the "villagers" are a happy lot in their new homes.

There's a post office, bank, hospital, general store, beauty parlor, community hall, cafeterias, tennis courts, baseball diamonds, football fields, staff house, dormitories, staff residences, apartment houses, fire hall, police department, modern street lighting board walks, water pressure system and sewage disposal plant.

Come From All Over

The Pickering plant is operated by Defense Industries Limited for the government and employs about 7,000 persons. These men and women engaged in making the materials of war are drawn from Toronto and Oshawa and practically all the provinces of the Dominion.

Of necessity, accommodation had to be found for the thousands of workers flocking to Pickering—and that is how "Ajax, Ontario," was born.

Turning south from No. 2 Highway at the traffic lights just west of Pickering Village, a visitor to Ajax enters the village under the watchful eyes of the plant guard stationed at the main gate.

He is greeted by a parking lot housing hundreds of private cars and several buses which daily transport the workers from their homes to the factory. Down Avenue A and turning onto King street, the first stop is made at the post office.

Bearing the proud nameplate Ajax, the post office is one of the busiest spots within the village limits. Each day hundreds of letters from points throughout Canada are sorted and distributed by the staff of three members, while the outgoing mail is addressed to cities, towns and villages across the Dominion.

Popular Spot

Along the board walks which line the wide streets of the village is the Ajax branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, where four tellers' wickets serve the workers. Pay day, and the bank is the most popular spot as the lines at the paying tellers' wickets extending down the street.

It isn't all just a matter of drawing their pay and getting away, however, as many of the "villagers" have deposit accounts, buy war savings certificates, and take advantage of the full banking facilities offered.

On the other side of King street is the main office of the plant, with the government inspection office located next door. Here is the brain centre of the plant, but it's just another office building on the streets of Ajax.

Located opposite the community hall is the hospital, where a trained staff of nurses and physicians are on duty 24 hours daily to attend to the health of the villagers and 5,000 other workers in the plant. At the present time there are 16 beds, but a new wing is planned to double that accommodation.

In addition to the surgery there are private wards, and a larger ward with eight beds. Some of the beds are occupied at the present time, and plans are being considered for a community medical plan.

Social Life Centre

The community hall, of course, is the heart of the village and the social life of the community. When the day's shift is done the workers are welcome to visit the hall and use the facilities for fun and exercise.

In addition to the main auditorium there is a bowling wing with four alleys; ping pong tables, basketball courts, badminton courts, card rooms, lounges, a "dry canteen" and smoking rooms.

Regular weekly programs are mapped out by the recreation staff, with every Monday set aside as amateur night. The hall resounds with the mournful strains of the songs of the prairie or hops with the lively rhythm of modern jive as the contestants go through their paces.

Weekly Hoop Down

Tuesday night is the time when the hall is really rocked and the windows rattle as 600 dancers "give" with gay abandon in a real old-fashioned hoop down. Most of the dancers are not strangers to the movements of the square dance, but many of the "city slickers" who have found he has been missing an entire chapter in his life.

Wednesdays the floor is reserved for badminton and basketball.

It's movie night on Thursday, when latest sound films shown on the finest equipment bring the current screen hits to the village. Seating

Markham Lose a Game to Paris But Win on The Round

Suffer first Defeat in Over a Dozen Starts—Paris Play Inspired Hockey and Hold Markham 3-0 in First Period

Going down to their first defeat in over a dozen starts, Markham were outplayed and outscored by Paris Blackhawks on Saturday afternoon at Maple Leaf Gardens in a game which ended 3-0. The Paris effort fell short of winning the series however, Markham having taken the first clash 12-3.

Showing a decided reversal of form from that displayed in the initial contest, Blackhawks unleashed a blistering offensive against their rugged opponents, and midway through the final session had cut their deficit on the round to four goals. They tired badly under the terrific pressure, though, as Markham rallied to fire two clinching tallies before the period ended.

Clare Easto sparked the Paris team in its all-out offensive, clicking for five goals and assisting in one more, while linemates Scotty Martin and Grant followed closely for scoring honors of the day. Martin rang up three goals and two assists, while Grant set the stage for three tallies.

Nick Bangay was top scoring hand for Markham with three counters, while Lawrie and Rowe notched one each.

First Game 12-3

Extending their winning streak to thirteen games, Markham won the first game against Paris by the score of 12-3. Despite the fact that the Western Ontario team teed off with a counter in the first two minutes of play they were no match for Markham and company when that crowd really turned it on. They out-scored Paris 6-2 in the first two periods, and while the home team stormed around Harper repeated in the final frame, the best they could notch was one, while Markham broke away on six separate occasions to add to their total.

Bob Bangay led the winners to victory with four counters while Parkinson and Austie Baker came through with a brace of goals each. Rowe, G. Scott, Bob Lawrie and A. Armstrong filled out the remainder of the dozen goals.

Grant and Easto showed to best advantage for the losers. Between them they scored their team's three goals, Grant counting two of them unassisted.

accommodation for 500 persons is usually taxed to capacity.

The modern dancers get their chance on Friday night which is reserved for round dancing.

Sunday is a day set aside for church service. The Anglican and Presbyterian ministers from Pickering conduct a non-denominational service as the workers re-dedicate their efforts to the cause of freedom. Following service is a fireside gathering with community singing.

Behind the community hall is the parking lot where the workers who commute from Toronto and Oshawa leave their cars. While more than 5,000 workers commute, the population of Ajax is increasing daily.

Prepare For Sports

Beyond the parking lot are the playing fields, where football diamonds will be laid out, baseball fields prepared and tennis and horseshoes played.

Next door to the community hall is the staff house, which is operated similar to a hotel and is a home for the office staff members who do not live in the houses or apartments. Its capacity of 54 rooms fully taxed, the staff house also has a dining room, lounge and recreation from.

The kitchen at the staff house is the modern chef's delight.

FARM INSURANCE RATES TOO HIGH IN TARIFF COMPANIES

Hon. Gordon Conant sounded a welcome note the other day when he warned the life insurance companies on tariff rates, that they must reduce the charges on farm property. It has been pointed out that present charges are exorbitant, and unless immediate action is taken, the government would step in. In part the reports says: "According to the last Dominion report, on 1940 business the average cost of Canadian insurance companies doing business amounted to 50.12 p.c. of the premium income. The comparative figures for Ontario farm mutuals were 20.29 p.c. In other words, while the farm mutuals in Ontario were expending a little less than 21 cents out of premium dollars to defray the cost of doing business, other insurance companies were expending over 50 cents out of every premium dollar.

"I cannot avoid the observation that the farm mutuals' cost of doing business is moderate and reasonable.

"I'LL BE BACK FOR MORE!"

It's just surprising, how many poultry raisers say that to us! On second thought, maybe not so surprising, either. It just stands to reason. . . . It stands to reason that when a hatchery organization like Brays really bears down, year after year, on the one job of producing the best chicks it knows how. . . . studies that job the year round. . . . keeps on plugging away at breeding, selecting, blood-testing, check-and-double-check — well, it ought to turn out mighty good chicks.

READ WHAT THESE PEOPLE SAY:

Mrs. W. Campbell, Nestleton, Ont.—"Best chicks I have had in years. Bray's for me from now on!"
Clare Haslam, Emerald, P.E.I.—"For 6 years I have been raising Bray. Extra-Profit Chicks. Have always found them the best obtainable."
Mrs. W. Nichol, Lennoxville, P.Q.—"Bought 100 from you last year, and made money, so thought I would take an extra 150 this year."
Bert McIntyre, Wardsville, Ont.—"Best chicks I ever had. Enclose order for 400."
J. P. Derkson, Plum Coulee, Man.—"From the first day these birds have done splendidly. . . . envied by all my friends."

Isn't that the kind of birds you want? Better buy Bray, this year. And better see about it right now, to make sure of getting what you want when you want it.
