CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Kester, Mrs. G. Brownberger, and Mrs. J. Thompson, wish to express their appreciation to the kind friends, neighbors and pall bearers for their kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral remembrances which proved so comforting in the loss of a good mother and sister.

• An idle hen not only isn't producing eggs—she's also eating feed a laying hen should have. Often hens are idle only because their egg capacity is not being utilized. For instance, hens on the Research Farm lay as many as 23 more eggs per bird per year when Dr. HESS POULTRY PAN-A-MIN is added to the ration. And there, in a nutshell, is the reason we strongly urge that you give PAN-A-MIN a fair trial.

It's tonics and minerals that a hen gets in PAN-A-MIN. Both are often needed for top production. Just ask us about PAN-A-MIN.

Milk Down 2c qt. Now in Effect

Fluid milk took an appreciated dip in price on Wednesday of this week when the Maple Leaf Dairy along with every other dairy across Canada, reduced the price of milk by two cents a quart. The prevailing price locally will now be ten cents a quart which price prevailed up to about one year ago.

The Women's Regional Advisory Committee for Ontario which was recently called to Toronto to discuss the proposal and make recommendations for the government is composed of Mrs. Ryland New for Central Ontario, Miss Grace Morgan, North Bay, Mrs. John Detwiler, London, Ontario, and Mrs. J. Y. Harcourt, Brockville, Mrs. New is the chairman.

In regard to the lowering of the price of fluid milk to the consumer on December 16, Mrs. New explained that the milkman would refund 2c on every quart milk ticket the housewife had left over on that date. The milk had been selected for a reduction in price, Mrs. Harcourt said, because it is our most important food. "It is vital to the health of the people, particularly to children, that all families be able to get the milk they need," she said.

"That is true of milk and certainly we all need more oranges especially the children," Miss Morgan continued. "I am a school teacher at North Bay and I'd like to see an orange in every pocket if one has not been eaten at the breakfast table."

Oranges were getting pretty expensive in our part of the world, but now that taxes and duty are off, and seasonal decreases are coming down then naturally we'll be able to afford them at the 7 to 10c a dozen cheaper price.

Reduction in the price of tea and coffee have been made chiefly because they present a cash outlay to the farmer, Mrs. Harcourt explained, besides there could not be a run on these commodities because they are

Relief Officer Shows Indignation

There was a warm discussion at the Whitechurch council meeting Monday afternoon when the Relief Officer, Robert Windsor, accused members of the council with interference with his work in the capacity. Mr. Windsor brought along a couple of comfortable looking fellows from Ballantrae section as two reliefees who were supposed to have been neglected. It seemed that a load of wood sent to one of them turned out so wet it wouldn't burn, but the officer declared that he was unaware of wet wood being delivered, and had always been able to count on the supplier of fuel giving dry wood. Conciliators Baker and Logan who were delegated to investigate the situation gathered the impression that the officer just wasn't doing all he might. Mr. Logan gave one man wood from his own pile.

Reeve Toole explained that nobody was trying to over-ride the relief officer, but when complaints are received such as they were in another case over on Yonge street then this council had to act. In that case a child had died, he stated and neglect was being charged.

Mr. Windsor said the child might have died from neglect, but not neglect of this township. The mother of that child bought a car not many months ago, which news came as an eye opener. He said the case was before the provincial officer who was looking after and into the situation. Whitechurch has not neglected those people, he declared. At the height of the argument the officer said: "I object to you butting in, (presumably the two councillors.) I have looked after the reliefees at Ballantrae and they are here to tell you so. The two chaps in question thanked both the officer and the two councillors also for what had been done."

"I believe that when the two councillors visited these cases following complaints, they decided that there were irregularities," Reeve Toole declared. However, as matters got thoroughly discussed the troubled waters quieted, and the issue dropped.

"That's the most excitement we have had this year," said a smiling councillor after the flare-up.

IT WAS APPRECIATED

We have heard a number of very nice things said about the historical sketches on early Stouffville homes printed in this paper the last two weeks, one prepared by Mrs. Vera Tarr, and the other by Mrs. E. J. Davey, who wrote largely from memory of things she recalled in Stouffville from time of her girlhood. Miss Tarr's account of east end folk was said to be very accurate and served to revive the memories of the older people who could recall the homes when they were refreshed in their memories.

Mrs. Davey may be said to have been brought into active touch with the homes and the people because of her association with her late father who was the first municipal clerk and treasurer of Stouffville. In those days when the village was just incorporated there were no banking facilities here, the nearest bank being at Markham village. It was the duty of Mrs. Davey as a girl of probably 12 years to drive with horse and buggy to the southern neighborhood and bring back cash for the treasurer. At that time it was customary to pay for services in cash, immediately the accounts were passed at the council meeting. Everybody has enjoyed the write-ups of Miss Tarr and Mrs. Davey, and the editor on their behalf sincerely thanks the historians for their co-operation in having their reports published.

BORN AT LEMONVILLE EIGHTY-SEVEN YRS. AGO

Funeral services were held on Thursday last for Mrs. Mary Jane Irwin Gower Auburn, who died on Saturday at her late residence in Aurora, following a brief illness. She was in her 87th year.

Born in Lemonville, in Whitechurch Township, Mrs. Auburn was married at the age of 18. She and her husband who predeceased her some years ago, took up residence on the Fourth Concession of Whitechurch for 58 years, later moving to Richmond Hill. The couple spent their remaining years in Aurora. Mrs. Auburn was a member of the Baptist Church and was active in Red Cross work.

Surviving are five daughters, Lydia and Ethel of Aurora; Alice of Hamilton; Lodemia, of Detroit, and Ella, of Alliston. Interment was in Aurora Cemetery.

already rationed.

If the government had not decided to subsidize certain foods, a new cost-of-living bonus would have been added after the first of the year," she pointed out, "and it would benefit only one of three earners. Families of the armed forces do not get it. Farmers do not get it. Nor do pensioners. Nor many people on salaries. Moreover, industry has to absorb the bonus that is added to its payroll and a new bonus would put the cost of production up at a time when we can't afford it. Cost of things like planes, ships and tanks, as well as civilian goods, would be affected."
