SOLD TWO-PANT SUITS FINED $1,000
 These are stern days for Frank E. Rae, John Monkhouse, and all merchant tailors throughout Canada, should they fail to cut the cuffs off pants and throw them into the rag bag where they may remain until the war is over, or they may be sold to the rag man. There is no use asking why, for nobody hardly knows the reason for cutting the cuffs off pants and at the same time increasing the width of the rim of men's felt hats two inches.
 Tailors must also watch their step and not be tempted to sell two pairs of pants with a suit of clothes. Convicted of selling two-pant suits in violation of Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations, a Hamilton tailoring firm was fined a total of $1,000. The firm pleaded guilty of two charges of selling suits of clothing with two pants and was fined $500 on each charge.

Stroke Proves Fatal for Mrs. Quibell

The sudden passing of Mrs. John Quibell at the home in Stouffville on Monday of this week followed a stroke suffered by her on Saturday evening, and it was evident from the severity of the seizure that the end was near.

She married John Quibell and the couple spent many years at Gilert, where he was employed as a section-man. Members of the United Church, the funeral services on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. D. Davis was held in the local church, and interment was in Stouffville cemetery.

SUPPORTS RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION IN SCHOOLS

There are men and women, born in Canada and educated here, who know nothing of religion or the Bible (Rev. A. I. Heinonen, Timmins, told members of Toronto Conference, United Church of Canada last week. Mr. Heinonen was speaking during a discussion of "Christian Education". He is a native of Sweden and made a strong plea for Christian education in the public and high schools, especially for New Canadians.
 "I have married men and women who could proudly boast that they were born in Canada and educated here, but who knew nothing of the church, religion or the Bible", Mr. Heinonen told conference.

A recommendation of the Christian Education Committee, which was adopted, proposes that a system be worked out whereby local clergy seek the co-operation of their school boards, so that "systematic training be started in the autumn." A clause in the report recommended that "careful study be made of existing conditions and recommended books, that all engaged in this work be asked to realize that only with adequate preparation and diligence in the whole situation can those standards be maintained which will commend the respect of the school inspectors, teachers, students and the community at large."
