labor in spiritual things." Verse 9—"Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence... receiveth us not." The name "Diotrephes" has become to mean one who endeavors to lord it over the church and to dictate as to who shall and who shall not be received. He was a self-willed, haughty man, who even refused to acknowledge the apostolic authority of John himself. He represents the type who will either rule or ruin.

Verse 10—"Neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would and casteth them out of the church." This self-appointed, spiritual dictator would have to be dealt with sternly when John should next visit the church where Galus had local responsibility, but over which Diotrephes tyrannized. He would not extend fellowship himself to reputable Christian workers not of his own set—and also forbade others to do so, even going so far as to insist on the excommunication of those who refused to obey.

Verse 11—"Follow not that which is evil, but that which is good." A Diotrephian spirit is in every way to be avoided. We are to have our hearts and hands open to all properly accredited servants of Christ and to show them all the fellowship possible as they labor on for the blessing of others.

Verse 12—"Demetrius hath good report... of the truth itself." This man was doubtless one of those to

Surplus Milk is Again the Problem

When both Federal and Ontario Provincial Governments are calling for an all-out farm production as a wartime measure, many York County farmers are being forced to feed their milk to livestock or dump it in their fields.

From Markham, King, Vaughan and Whitechurch Townships come complaints from farmers that large dairies are refusing to take their full milk supply. They charge these dairies have slashed milk shipments by 14 per cent or in other words one day's supply per week.

Dairy representatives—on the other hand—claim they are buying all the milk they can possibly sell or use during the month of June. They contend that milk productions have been abnormally high during the past two weeks, while the consumption has decreased.

The dairies claim they are buying surplus milk from their shippers at $1.25 per cwt. for butter, but farmers tell a different story. Admitting that some producers are getting rid whom Diotrephes refused fellowship. Yet he was a lover of the truth and well known to many as a faithful man of God. John himself endorsed him, but this did not change the attitude of Diotrephes.

of their surplus milk at a churning rate the farmers claim that many others have been left with the milk on their hands.

Farmers and municipal officials throughout the county are expressing the opinion that governments should provide for the purchase of their surplus milk as a wartime measure.

The municipal representatives have signified their intention of asking the York County Agricultural Committee to give immediate consideration to this vital problem of the farmer.

"The governments have advocated an all-out farm production," said one well-known Markham farmer. "We are complying with that order. I think it is the duty of the government to see that we get rid of our produce."

Dairy representatives feel this overabundance of milk will last only a few days. When the flies invade the farms—and they come in swarms in July—the milk production will be cut 25 percent, it was claimed.

"During the months of June and July people drink less milk and the supply is much greater," said one large distributor. "We are encouraging farmers to raise veal calves now to take care of some of the surplus."

To the farmers the calves would be pretty sick animals if they were vealed on one day's milk shipment and the shipments of the other six days went to the dairies.

"Many farmers are churning their surplus milk and feeding the skim milk to their livestock," it was said.
