

There was a young man from Peru,
Who found a big mouse in his stew.
Said the waiter, "Don't shout or wave it about,
Or the rest will be wanting one too."

Do not embarrass your grocer by asking for "short" goods when the store is crowded. If you are a regular customer he desires to take care of your needs, if and when he can, but remember there is usually a proper time to ask for these items.

The Quebec conference enhances Canada's standing in the eyes of the world. In this connection I find that in 1937 our capital city could boast only two legations, four consulates and one High Commissioner's office. Today there are representatives of 22 nations always in close touch with the Canadian government at Ottawa.

Children in the country, here's a war job for you. The National Research Council needs 100,000 lbs. or more of the common milkweed, for experiments in blending with certain types of synthetic rubber. It will be paid for. Farmers who have goodly stands of the weed can cut with a binder, leaving a long stubble of at least 8 inches and making small sheaves. Dried sheaves shipped collect to Ottawa will be worth $30 a ton. For further information write Dr. Harold A. Senn, Division of Botany, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Having a chat in his office one day recently with Fred McGregor, chief enforcement officer for Canada of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, had a look at some of the counterfeit gas ration coupons seized when Black-Marketeers of a ring were roped in. Pretty clever imitation they were, but eventually the law caught up with the racketeers. Enforcement in control legislation is a big job, taken on a nation-wide scale.

When you hear of abandoned farms, you think of former drought areas of western Canada. Therefore it might jolt far easterners and far westerners to know that an official release just out shows that in Eastern Canada there are between 12,000 and 13,000 farms, covering about a million and a half acres, abandoned lying idle for some time. Surveys show, paralleling the western causes much the same, they were abandoned because land was originally submarginal for agricultural purposes; some because of unsound farm practices, etc.

They say the cost of living in Ottawa is really high, but how does it compare with things out your way? Here are a few average prices listed by the Ottawa Citizen the day of this writing: sirloin steak 40.3 lb.; round steak 38.5 lb.; prime rib rolled roast 42.2 lb.; ham, boiled, 67.5 lb. and medium bacon 48.1 lb.; grade "A" eggs, 41.3 dozen, creamery butter 38.5; Canadian cheese 33.4 lb.; oranges 40.6 cents dozen. United States anthracite stove coal at $16.75/ton; vegetable shortening 19.1 lb. I do know restaurant eating, piece by piece, is high.

Next Monday is Labor Day and a Public Holiday. Stores will be closed.

OTTAWA LETTER

Talking with a newspaperman back from Washington the other day he told of trying out a meat shop right close to the main drag which advertises horse meat—choice stuff from "young wild western horses". He bought a roast and thought it quite tasty. Cost less than half the price of beef. He was afraid, however, that in time they would be bringing in "18-year old farm horses", or something.
