How Newmarket Makes Grants

Some people may suggest that the council in Newmarket is too liberal with other peoples' money, when the list of grants for the year are learned. Here is how that body on Yonge street aided local enterprise this year. Grants were made to Tennis Club, $50; Boy Scouts $200; Soldiers Club $300; Lions Club aid to Russia fund $25; Horticultural Society $1200; town band $600; and York County Hospital $1000.

Memorial Park Guns, relics of the last war presented to Stouffville some years ago. At the Memorial Park Gates two wreaths were placed on Sunday in honor of our war dead.

If we all cut our telephone talks by just one Minute

War calls must come first . . .

which means that we should reduce our non-essential use of the telephone to the minimum. Present facilities cannot be increased; your co-operation is needed if war calls are to go through promptly. Please remember that the wasteful use of telephone time can hold up war business — and that every second you save counts.

Grandson of Late W. P. Hartney Lost Over French Sub. Base

The name of W. P. Hartney was familiar to the early residents of Stouffville, who will regret to learn that the grandson of this pioneer resident Sergt. "Bill" Hartney of Calgary, 21, is reported missing after a raid over St. Nazaire submarine base in France on February 23. First reported missing, he is now presumed dead, according to the R.C.A.F. casualty list. Sergt. Hartney was born in Calgary, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow M. Hartney, the father being an old Stouffville boy. Another brother Frank visited Stouffville last month to look up old school chums. The youthful airman enlisted in 1941 and after training at Edmonton and other places went overseas in March 1942. The sympathy of the people of Stouffville, native town of his forebears, is extended to the bereaved parents and relatives.

Lions Visit Markham

About fifteen members of the local Lions Club visited the newly constituted Markham-Unionville Lions Club on Monday evening when this organization held their initial meeting at the Tremont Hotel. Some forty prospective members along with local men enjoyed a fine chicken dinner following which the Stouffville group went ahead with their regular meeting to give the new organization some idea of "what it's all about." Lion Douglas Davis was the speaker, and took as his topic "Post War Planning." President J. Cattanch welcomed the visitors, and Ewart Stiver moved the vote of thanks to the speaker and the Stouffville members for their help in sponsoring the local club.

THE IDEA IS NOT FORGOTTEN

We are being bombarded by numerous people in town, a number of whom are women, as to what is being done toward providing for a municipal hall or community hall for this town after the war as suggested in this paper some time ago. The Women's Institute are calling for action, also private citizens, and to this we are able to report that the council is working on the scheme and are doing everything to provide a good building lot for use when the time comes to put up the hall in the days ahead of us. It is hoped that something definite may be announced within the very near future.

Marshal Badoglio Adopts Dr. Mitchell's "Cage Hitler" Idea

Several months ago Dr. Mitchell preaching in Stouffville United suggested that the Allies should put Hitler or Mussolini in a cage and exhibit them throughout the world after the war. "It would not only make them suffer on account of their pride, but the admissions to see them would pay off the war debt," said Dr. Mitchell. Now then after all these weeks since that story was reported in these columns, a depatch comes out of Naples by way of the British United Press, expressing the very same idea as being advanced by Marshal Badoglio. Whether he saw Dr. Mitchell's report in The Tribune or whether it is just a case of "great minds think alike," we are not sure, but are willing to give the second suggestion the preference.

E. A. Grubin, R.O., Optometrist, will be at his office in Stouffville on Monday, Nov. 15th.

Any Hockey This Winter?

The question is being raised as to the prospects of a hockey club in Stouffville or Markham this coming season. A canvas of the odd players of former years who are still available shows that up to date there has been no move to organize any club. It has been suggested by some members of the Markham-Unionville Lions Club that some organization of this sort sponsor a local league the cream of which could be entered in the Junior 'B' play-downs at the end of the winter. We await your views on the matter?

Truck Plunges Through Barn Floor

A heavy Marmill truck, loaded with several tons of barley for the Central Feed Store, crashed through the barn floor on the Jack O'Boyle farm just east of town on Thursday afternoon. Elmer Daniels, manager of the local store narrowly escaped injury when the heavy vehicle broke through and stood on its nose on the floor below. The load of grain was not bagged, considerable work was involved in cleaning up, and righting the truck.

What of the Band?

Members of the old Stouffville veteran band, the Claremont band and the Markham trumpeters held a practice in town one evening recently. The lads of the old brigade did a good act in getting together in this way in keeping themselves fit and ready for an engagement on special occasion. Brass bands are all too few these days, and that leads us to ask what has become of the Stouffville Junior Band of which we were so proud? Without making enquiries our guess is that the lack of a leader and the depleted ranks due to boys "outgrowing the band" or the school or that they have left town, has so completely disorganized things they are unable to get going this fall. It is a pity that a local leader either in town or close to town could not be found who would be able to keep the organization going. Such splendid instruments as the band gathered should not be allowed to come to rest. The community could well afford to make a liberal grant in aid of expenses, and new lads should be induced to take up this music. That was the idea of a junior or school band, one that could be adding on the bottom while older lads were stepping out at the top. Its not the easiest thing in the world to do, but it can be done. Perhaps the school board could give some thought to aiding and advising in this matter, since it was one of the finest branches of the school work in this town. The civilian committee did fine work, labored hard and deserve great credit for bringing the band to the stage it was at a year ago, and no doubt they can be counted in to still help this laudable undertaking. If you have any opinions to place before the citizens the press would welcome them.

Host Acknowledge Comfort Fund Gifts

Below are just a few of the many acknowledgments received from local boys in the armed forces overseas, expressing their appreciation for the boxes sent to them each month by the Veterans' Comfort Fund. Letters are addressed to Bert Lickorish, sec'y of the organization.

October 12, 1943

Dear Mr. Lickorish,
Just a few lines to thank you and all those who contributed to the Comfort Fund parcel which I received yesterday. Nearly all the articles you sent are unobtainable over here. I'm still in England, but expect to be on the move at any time. I've had a good time in this country, but am anxious to see more of the world while I have the chance. Had a letter from Wally Nicholson the other day. Thanks again.
John Gray.

Italy, Oct. 2, 1943

Dear Sir,
Another letter to thank you for the smokes I just received. I don't suppose you get many letters from this part of the world. There are only two boys here that I know of, Morley Pugh and Jack Sanders, and I haven't been able to see either of them yet. The natives are very friendly and seem to appreciate the fact that Britain is taking over the job of getting the Germans out. They claim the people here were never so helpless as when the Germans were in control. Hope to be home soon, thanks again.
Bert Clarkson.

October 7, 1943

Dear Bert,
Just a few lines to thank you for the parcel which arrived today. Gee, Bert, I'm glad to know you are still thinking about us over here. We are still waiting our chance to get at Hitler, which I think is coming very soon now. We are now stationed in the northern part of England. It is very nice here but gets very cold at night. I received six Tribunes last week, and see where more of the boys have joined up. I also see most of the young folks are getting married. Have not seen many of the local boys over here lately. Best regards.
Wally Nicholson.

October 10, 1943

Dear Friends,
Mail has finally arrived for me and in it was a package of 300 smokes from you. They are my favourite brand. I've had an awful lot of bad luck with my mail lately. I'm fine and anxious for the day when we can go into action. The war is proceeding quite favorably for us now.
Jim Smith.

England, Oct. 12, 1943

Dear Bert,
Thanks a million for the smokes. They are really appreciated here as we can't always get them. I haven't seen very much of this country yet, but what I have seen I think is lovely. I was down in Kent on 7 days leave, and spent it with Fred Crittle. I suppose you remember him. He worked for Cliff Lemon and Watson Fairies a few years ago. He's still working on a farm here, but I must say it's done differently over here. I learned how hops are picked and dried, so now when I take a pint of bitters, for my health, I can appreciate it as I know how many hard hours are spent on the hops alone. I had a lovely trip coming over and managed to keep from getting seasick. Thanks again.
Chuck Lintner.

Dear Bert,
You're getting to be quite a friend of mine. You certainly know how to vary the brands. Maybe you have some idea of what it means to a soldier's pocketbook over here. British cigarettes cost 1s 6d for 20. To civies they cost 2s 4d per 20. That's nearly 3c. each. They've got me on our rifle team now and pretty soon we'll be having some lively competition. I got 7 letters and your parcel in this mail.
Gordon Smith

Cards were received from Jack Sanders, Louie Morden, J. Pearson, Geo. Williams, Gordon Pipher, Oliver Larkin, and two from prisoners of war, Fred Castle and Bruce Lintner.

Lorne Kester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kester, who farm just east of Stouffville in Pickering Township, has recently been promoted to the rank of Corporal. Lorne went to England some months ago with a unit of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps.

THE TALE OF A HORSE

Even in a purely mechanized war poor old dobbie still plays an important role in supplying the sinews of war from his home stable, pasture or paddock. The hair of the tail and mane of the horse is very much in demand by the Munitions and Supplies Board for the manufacture of a great variety of products and unfortunately the sales of this commodity have dropped off a third during the past year.

Horse mane hair is used for war purposes as shock pads for the inside of army tanks, cushions for army vehicles and mattresses for the navy. It is used for making paint brushes.

It is very important that the farmers and horsemen keep the hair clean, also free of straw. This saves endless hours of labour in further preparation and permits a greater production because hair that is dirty can never be fully reclaimed. W.M. Cockburn Agricultural Representative suggested that farmers keep the mane and tail hair separate as this again saves labour, each kind being used for different purposes. Some tack up two labelled sacks in the stable for convenience and the hair is ready for the dealer when he calls.

The best quality comes from live horses either during the daily grooming or when thinning out the mane or tail but the hair should also be salvaged from all dead horses. In other words dead horses should carry no tails.
