New Winter Garb for M.T. Drivers

The blue zippered grenville cloth flying jacket is fleeceline lined, complete with hood.

The slacks are of special design, made of heavy wool, they are of a type used by ski-minded girls. The hat is of the ski type, also the boots are something worth noting. They too, are zippered and fleeceline lined, an exact duplicate of those worn by the fliers themselves. Last but not least, the gauntlets are fleeceline lined, made of durable, good-looking leather.

Transport Drivers, better known as M.T. Drivers, are urgently required by the R.C.A.F. in order to let men who are doing this work, train for aircrew.

Transport driving is one of the most thrilling of all R.C.A.F. trades open to women between the ages of 18 and 45. They are trained to drive everything from the smart station wagons to the heavy duty trucks that zip to and from flying stations.

Those interested in learning more about "M.T." should visit the Mobile Recruiting Unit which will visit Stouffville, Monday-from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m.

110th Anniversary Celebrated by Country Church

The Christian - Congregational Church at Bloomington held its 110th anniversary on Sunday when the church was filled, both morning and evening. Six people were received into membership at the morning service, and the sermon for the occasion was preached by Mr. R. Lazell, former president of the Gideons. In the evening Mr. Oliver Rayermer of Toronto, preached. Special music for the day was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Shellgrove, and by the Kinsmen quartette.

Starting as a Sunday School in 1883 the congregation has been housed in three buildings during its long years of service in the district. The present building of brick construction was built 51 years ago by the late Elijah Johnston, a member of the congregation, and the organ, which is still in use, was the gift of Mr. Johnston's sister, Eunice. The present pastor is Rev. Gibson Brown who through his influence and determination is proving a bulwark in these days when there is such a noticeable falling-off in church attendance. Mr. Brown was present to officiate at the reception on Sunday morning.

Good Response to Bible Conference

The Bible Conference held in the Helse Hill Church last Sunday and Monday was marked by good sized audiences, climaxing Monday evening with the largest attendance.

The conference was addressed at the opening session on Sunday morning by Bishop L. Shoaltz of Wellandport, while the afternoon guest speaker was Elder T. S. Doner of Shremanown, Pa., a former local pastor. His theme was, "God's Mercy." Other speakers at this session were Elder J. R. Steckley and Bishop Shoaltz. The bishop again spoke in the evening on the subject of the "Parable of the Ten Virgins." Elder C. I. Cullen of Gormley was in charge of this service.

Three sessions were again held on Monday, when the addresses of B. E. J. Swaim of Duntrout were impressive and highly important. His farewell message at the evening gathering was entitled, "Fanning the Threshing Floor." Another outstanding speaker on Monday was Bishop Chas. Byers, who came from Chambersburg, Pa., to add his help to the work of the conference.

Announcement was made that a series of revival services will be held in the Helse Hill church beginning on Nov. 21st and the public is asked to lay special importance to this evangelistic effort.

Send The Tribune to absent friends.
