Farm Forum

In these days of farm help scarcity, gas shortages and curtailment of unnecessary spending, it has been predicted that there will be a revival of old time neighborliness. One indication that this is taking place is shown by the amazing growth of community farm forums.

A family invites the neighbors in for Monday evening. If the children come, they probably go upstairs to play. The men congregate in the kitchen and ladies in the parlour for a social chat. At 8.30 all gather round the radio which is turned on and for one half hour they become part of the largest listening group in the world. Their program's "Farm Radio Forum," (sponsored by Canadian Federation of Agriculture, Canadian Association for Adult Education and C.B.C.

Following this, the group is divided into smaller groups, which scatter to corners of various rooms where they proceed to discuss three or four prepared questions based on the program theme of the evening which is always some subject pertinent to rural life. A discussion goes on for 15 or 20 minutes one member of each group jotting down the findings and then the chairman of the evening, (appointed weekly), calls altogether to hear the conclusion. Further discussion usually takes place and the final consensus of opinion is recorded by the secretary of the Forum who forwards this to Farm Forum headquarters.

A Farm Forum Group is meeting in the White Rose district with an average attendance of 20, for the third year. This is but one of nearly 400 in Ontario and they are all across Canada meeting regularly every Monday night from November to March.

The Whitchurch folks say its really interesting and urge other communities to try it. Much helpful information is obtained. Farmers are becoming more aware of the causes underlying their difficulties and their united voice will have a mighty influence on post-war plans of our nation as together they are discovering better ways of solving the problem of this great basic industry. Whether you can have 3 or 30 in number, the folks say, get-together and have a say in this fall series on Planning for Plenty.

BACK TO TORONTO

Toronto Maple Leaf Baseball Club have announced that two of this season's pitchers, Sullivan and Windsor, have gone to Portland, Oregon of the Pacific Coast League in a deal involving Earl Cook, local twirler, who as one of the mainstays of the west coast pitching staff this year, will be a welcome addition to the Toronto line-up. Earl was formerly with the Leafs in 1932.

FINED FOR SLAUGHTERING WITHOUT PERMIT

On a charge of slaughtering hogs without a permit, Frank Yorke was fined $25 or 10 days by Magistrate Prentice in "D" court, Toronto, on Tuesday.

"Evidence also disclosed the fact that accused sold hogs to Charles Slovak, a Toronto butcher at 21c. a pound when the ceiling was 19 1/2c," said Magistrate Prentice.

"I am in agreement with the crown counsel that this hits at the whole basis of the rationing system, and the welfare of the community must also be considered. With no record of hog slaughtering we are opening the door to the black market.

"However, in this case I am not imposing a heavy fine, believing that this conviction will be a fair warning to others."

GULLS RAID FARM, KILL 25 CHICKENS

Twice during the past week, gulls have raided the poultry flocks at Marshall's hatchery at Kettleby. More than 25 chickens were killed before the gulls could be driven off. "They were grey gulls," said Marshall, "and they came at two different periods. They attack in groups of about six gulls; they rip open the fowl with their strong sharp beaks. "With a flock of 2,000 chickens in the open, the marauders had plenty of scope for action. We have the fowl penned up now," he stated, "but that is a good example of closing the stable door after the horse has gone."

"We lost some of our poultry by gulls," said Mr. Henry Johnson of Claremont R.R. 2 to The Tribune this week, when discussing the case. He said they saw a number of gulls light, when a more bold one advanced toward the chickens and tackled a hen. They had found hens before picked bone clean, and are satisfied the gulls got them.
