Seed Grain

The situation with respect to Seed Oats and Barley for 1944 is not very bright at the present time. A heavy feeding program is in progress on our farms and will continue until new grain comes again. Therefore it is going to be impossible for the dealers to handle all the seed grain in the three or four weeks of seeding time.

We advise all farmers who will need seed grain to obtain their requirements as soon as possible.

WANT COUNTY HEALTH NURSES

A large delegation of men and women from the Huron County Federation of Agriculture waited on Huron County Council last week at Goderich in support of the proposed institution of a system of school nursing in county schools. Council was told that the project, which calls for the employment of at least four travelling nurses, making four inspections of each school in the county each year, would cost about 11,000 per year, of which the province would pay one third. The experience of Oxford and other counties which have adopted the scheme was cited by speakers. Some alarming figures of health surveys in rural schools were given.

Cpl. George Saunders of Stouffville has been in the hospital, now at Gravenhurst, suffering with a severe attack of the Flu, contracted while on duty at his prison camp post in the north country.

Flu Lays Council Low

General Flu ruled the course of the town's municipal business last Thursday night. It was the occasion for a regular meeting of the council. Reeve Weldon rapped the oval topped mahogany and called the members to order. There wasn't a quorum. The clerk got on the phone to learn that Councillor Walter Brilinger and Councillor A. V. Nolan were both knocked out and in bed, victims of General Flu. "Meeting adjourned," said the Reeve "until our line-up is repaired."

Parents Present Props and Stripes

Several fathers, including Dr. S.S. Hall, Harry Bridges and Del. Jennings were called upon to participate in the presentation of props and stripes to their sons at an "open house" ceremony of the Stouffville Air Cadet Squadron No. 94, held at the school on Friday evening. Due principally to the Flu epidemic which has been sweeping the town and district, the attendance was not as large as hoped for, and additional parents who might have participated were unable to be present. The ceremony conducted by M. E. Watts, commanding officer of the local unit, assisted by Flying Officer Taylor and Flt. Lieut. Lamb of Oshawa, presented stripes to four cadets; fourteen were reclassified LAC and nine promoted from AC 2 to AC 1. In addition the C.O. administered the Cadet Oath to ten new cadets. Sound films brought up from No. 20 S.F.T.S. at Oshawa were enjoyed by the gathering. In addition to a close-up of a real Brownie machine gun a parachute demonstration.

Local and Personal Happenings

E. A. Grubin, R.O., Optometrist, will be at his office in Stouffville on Monday, Dec. 13th.

Miss Isobel Collard, formerly of Stouffville, entered the Wellesley Hospital, Toronto, this week, where she will undergo a surgical operation. Her friends here will watch with interest for her speedy recuperation.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall, Blake Street, were, Walter Hall from Camp Borden and Murray Hall (son of P.C. Hall) Toronto. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook of Kettleby who took Uncle Dan and Aunt Mary Ann over to William Swain's.

Foot Injured

Stepping across the pit at the Roadway Service Station on Saturday, Les. Wilson, local garageman slipped and fell to the cement floor below, breaking a bone in his foot. It may be remembered that just about a year ago, Les. had the misfortune to seriously injure his hand which kept him from work for some time.

Spend Winter in Toronto

Mrs. Jos. H. Hoover has closed the home on Rupert avenue for the winter and will live in Toronto at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Steckley. Mr. Hoover is still very ill there, and the doctor advised against moving him back home, hence the decision was reached to spend the winter in the city.

Probably one of the oldest people in town to fall for the Flu was Mr. John Hare who occupies part of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hoover, one door west of the "East End Store." Mr. Hare spent most of last week in bed but is now up and going again. In spare time he tends a flock of chickens, but is giving that up, and offers his brooder for sale.

Cedar Grove Service Men's Club realized $100 in a dance held last week. These funds will be used to send Christmas boxes to the men from Cedar Grove and community, serving in the armed forces overseas. Lucky draws were won by Frank Sewell, Cedar Grove, a leather hassock; Chas. Wittaker, Pickering, Irish linen tablecloth; Mrs. Aubrey Lapp, Markham, a bushel of apples, donated by Tyrell Maplewood orchards. Molly Secrett of Willowdale, won a bushel of potatoes, donated by Arthur Reesor.

A Vast Audience

The Times-Gazette of Oshawa claims that it has 30,000 readers. The circulation of actual copies is 7,467, but advertising agencies estimate that a single copy is read by four people. Using the same measuring stick The Tribune is read by more than 8,000 people each week, which is probably true, since we believe that the weekly paper is more thoroughly read in the home than is the daily or tri-weekly paper that come so often the average person cannot possibly read them before another paper arrives.

Hard to Get a Meal

Owing to the restaurant shortage in Stouffville the Brown Betty has come to the rescue and is serving the visitors to town. Not long ago we had the Village Inn, the Brown Betty and the Leola Food Shoppe. The Inn closed up, and more recently Miss Rose of the Leola fell ill, and her premises are temporarily closed. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson at the Brown Betty are doing their best to fill the gap, although they are desperately in need of help. Till other shops closed, Simpson's were only looking after their weekly boarders which they felt was all they could handle. However, they are serving the general public again as they once used to do.

Mrs. Marjorie Cook, Toronto, had tea on Sunday at Harmon Hoover's home on Baker avenue.

The attention of this paper was called this week to the need of a home adjacent to town where a few chairs, a table, curtains, would bring great cheer and happiness. The mother lost one son in this war, and is sending a daughter to school. We have no doubt but that the need will be attended to when it becomes known by the organizations who have always stood ready to help worthy cases of this kind. If town or Whitechurch organizations are interested information may be obtained at the office of this paper.

General Flu licked the teaching staff as well as the scholars this time. Principal Murphy was smitten hard, went down protesting, and when he attempted to escape part of the sentence meted out to him, he was forced back to his home for a further period. However, we believe that the worst is over, and that both teachers and scholars are recovering and returning to their duties in increased attendance at Stouffville "knowledge works" at least.

One More Home Accident

Working about in the home of her son Harvey Schell, butcher, Mrs. Friscilla Schell slipped and fell on the floor sustaining a fractured bone just above the ankle that will force her off her feet for some weeks during the healing process. Anybody will tell you that the home is the safest place to be, yet records show that with women more accidents happen in the homes than anywhere else. Mrs. Schell is doing quite well although the incident gave her quite a shock.

Balsam Farmer Calls on Us

Visitor in town on Monday was Mr. William Parrot, Reach Township farmer living due east of Claremont at Balsam. Twenty years ago or more he lived in Uxbridge and was active in the hog and cattle business with Doble & Hillson. Mr. Parrot is now 75 but seems much younger. He had a large family, ten children, one son being Lieut. Dean Parrot serving in His Majesty's forces. Mr. Parrot was telling The Tribune that when he bought at Balsam, property was very expensive, but he got in right because the place had no water, although ideal rolling lands. A man of great ingenuity he bored for water and not only has an abundant supply, but actually created a pond on the place near the highway.

You Must Read It

In this issue we print a story written by James B. McClinton of Timmins for the Farmer's Magazine entitled, "Farmers Get Hurt." It is well worth reading no matter if you run a Five to a Dollar Store, a grocery or butcher shop, because it contains interesting data, told with that sense of humor that makes you read on to the end. It even makes statistics interesting. The article was sent on to The Tribune by the author because he says some of his information was based on news items appearing in our paper. If it never occurred to you that Workmen's Compensation should be available to the farmer, it surely will after reading this article.

Watch the Christmas advs. They will help you to decide.

Collingwood citizens know when they are well off, and they know it very definitely. Recently the northern place voted four to one to keep out the beer parlors from Collingwood.

Gunner D. W. Hamm, stationed at St. John, N.B., has been home visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hamm north of town. During his furlough Gunner Hamm and his lady friend Miss Branda Clifton of Toronto were on a visit to friends in New York city.

Christmas Fair Day

Owing to the shortage of restaurant accommodation, the Women's Institute will serve light lunches on Christmas Market Day. Arrangements are now being made to render this service which will be badly needed since restaurant service is now scarcely adequate for a normal day in Stouffville. It is expected that Ratcliff's Hall will be placed at the disposal of the Institute.

To Hear History of Institute

The Stouffville Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. G.R.W. Thomas on Thursday, Dec. 16 at 2.30 p.m. Molto for the meeting is, "Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth, peace and goodwill toward men." Roll call answered by a substitute for Christmas candy. Mrs. E. J. Davey will give the history of the Stouffville Institute and a Christmas message will be given by Mrs. Tranmer. The convention report will be given and Christmas carols and a social half hour enjoyed. You are invited to enjoy the afternoon at the Institute. Mrs. G. Kelington, president, and Miss Sadie Stewart, secretary.

An Open Winter

There's been many a sign of an open winter brought to our attention this fall, and a new one popped up again this weekend. Jack Pennock, local boy who operates a hair-clipping establishment in Aurora, picked several fresh dandelion blooms below Memorial Park in town here during the weekend. Berries have been reported along the C.N.R. right-of-way by section men here, and all in all, we shouldn't be in for anything very severe in the next few months.

Don't Forget the Comfort Fund at Christmas Time

Demands are many these days and especially at Christmas, but there's one demand you should not overlook—the Comfort Fund. This is the one Fund which brings to our boys overseas a regular monthly parcel from home. Nearly fifty parcels are sent out each month by Bert Lichorish, energetic secretary of the local Veterans, and you can see what donations this requires. A constant flow of acknowledgments coming back bear testimony to the gratefulness with which these boys and girls from Stouffville receive these regular parcels. Latest donations are as follows:
 Stanley Theatre $10.00
 Masonic Lodge 10.00
 Mrs. Fred Johnston 1.00
 Frank Rae 1.00
 K. R. Davis, bottle 5.45

Druggist J. M. Storey is back at the store after an enforced holiday through illness.

Miss Luella Holden stenographer at Button's Law Office was ordered to bed on Tuesday by the doctor.

Another dance is being held at Claremont next Wednesday, Dec. 15, with Grayden Sheldon's Orchestra. You'll want to be there.

The keen demand for lockers has exhausted the supply available at the Stouffville Creamery for the present at least, so that a waiting list is likely to be set up. This situation has prevailed in the summer season but not in the winter.

Fire Agent Says We're All Wrong

Our congenial insurance agent, Mr. Thos. Burkett, dropped in the other day to say that when The Tribune states that fire insurance rates in Stouffville are high, he can almost feel anger rising in his hair. This veteran insurance man who enjoys a larger patronage than any two agents in Ontario and York counties, may be right, but notwithstanding, we believe lower rates could be applied in Stouffville and still leave a handsome profit. Mr. Burkett says we enjoy rates as low as many places with a better fire equipment. We know that Stouffville is favorably rated, but we contend that rates throughout Ontario could be scaled down and that would lower Stouffville below the present tariff. If Mr. Burkett wasn't so good natured we would not even suggest lower rates at all, but he's congenial and we mean it.
