The auction sale of McCracken Bros. on the outskirts of Pickering village was one of the largest of the year, and totalled over $7,000. The high spot of the selling was reached when a farmer bid $1325 cash for a Ford-Ferguson tractor.

The hay loader realized $295 and a power mower $275, while the cultivator for a Ford-Ferguson went at $265, all very stiff prices.

The sale coming as it did right in the busy season drew a good crowd nevertheless, many being attracted by the unusually fine line of implements.

Hillbilly Songs Bring Red Cross Donation

Torrance Farr and a number of his associates, members of the Mill Valley Lumber staff from the Brock Rd. north, were in the village one evening last week, and the little show they rendered on the Four Corners netted a nice donation for the local Red Cross. Prizes of pyrex, towels and vases, were awarded.

Aged Horses at Record High Prices

Pronounced the best sale of horses in a year was the approval placed by Auctioneer A. S. Farmer on the public auction sale held for John Beeby, Claremont, last week. An aged team, 14 years old sold for $118 each, while another pair of stagers 11 and 10 years of age realized $213 for the pair. These prices are certainly high for this time of year, especially when it might be expected that farmers are not wanting more horse power. The high priced cow went at $140, and good beef cattle at $90 each. The whole sale in round figures reached $2,800. Mr. Beeby who has been in ill health was very much pleased with the general results of the sale.

Last week a complete set of awnings were placed over the windows. The management of the industry are to be congratulated on the well-kept appearance of their grounds.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line . . .

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales . . . with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher.

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money . . . and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

THEN... THANK GOODNESS - I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable . . . where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm . . . and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.
