MANITOBA FARMER COMES EAST WITH HORSES

Mr. Archie Stewart of Isabella, Man., is in town for a few days. This old Uxbridge township boy who is visiting his sister, Miss Sadie Stewart, can count many intimate friends in the home district here, although he has been in Western Canada for a considerable number of years. He is a well-established farmer in Manitoba and reports excellent crops getting ready for the harvest in his district there. Archie came east with a car of horses that were unloaded at Pickering village.

WHO SAW MUSSelman's FIRST?

Of all the living people born in the Musselman Lake district still living, we venture to say that Leonard Staley is the oldest. Mr. Staley reaches his 96th birthday on July 18, and lives with his son at Streetsville.

We do not know whether he has been around the lake the past ten years, or so, but if he hasn't there is a big surprise awaiting him. One can only imagine the rugged spot it must have been 96 years ago or 90 years ago when he was becoming of school age. Live stock was very scarce, and the odd team of oxen was used by the few settlers. They were particularly good at stumping time which was mostly all the time in those early days when the uppermost desire in the settler's mind was to get rid of the trees and stumps.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Wideman had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover and family.

Misses Norma and Alice Barkey, Betty Wideman and Margaret Eby from our local Sunday School attended the Youth's Conference in connection with the Stayner M.B.C. camp meeting last week. A number of others motored up for the weekend services.

The younger members of our Young People's Society provided an interesting program of song, recitations, readings, etc. at the service on Monday evening. We expect these promising children will be a great asset to the Young People's work in the future.

The community extends sympathy to Mrs. Wm. Burkholder and family of Stouffville, in this time of bereavement. The Burkholder family were residents here a number of years ago.

The funeral on Wednesday afternoon proceeded from the old home at lot 5, con. 5, Scarborough, to the Reesor Church and cemetery for services and burial. She was a member of the old faith Mennonites.

The death of Mrs. Albert Reesor at the advanced age of 79 years removes a resident of the Markham Scarboro townline district that was well and favorably known throughout the locality. Mrs. Reesor was the former Barbara Rittenhouse, who took up residence in this district after her marriage to Albert B. Reesor who survives her, together with two daughters, (Emma) Mrs. Mino Drudge, 9th concession, Markham; and (Sarah) Mrs. Jos. Smith on the home place where the mother died. There are ten grandchildren, and one great grandchild.

Retired Butcher

Geo. Kemp Dies in 88th Year

Last week we published a four-generation group of the Kemp family of which George H. Kemp was the eldest, he being 88 years, and a former resident of Stouffville, whose shop was in the building now occupied as part of the printing office.

This week we have to chronicle the sudden passing of this veteran former resident whose death occurred Thursday at the Toronto General Hospital. The funeral took place on Sunday with interment at Stouffville cemetery.

It is said that during the great London plague all the men died but the butchers, and Mr. Kemp used to say that he was a descendant of that hardy group of survivors. For generations the Kemps have been butchers. Mr. Kemp who continued the butchering business here 40 years ago was born at Jackson's Point. His father was a butcher in Sutton. George located in Stouffville in 1881, sixty-three years ago, and built the present residence and corner block now Schell's butcher shop and dwelling place. Two years later he bought the adjoining building the old Wheeler office and made it into a butcher shop. It is now remodelled into a printing office. He did a wholesale and retail butchering business. Geo. Kemp was honored by his fellow citizens by being returned for two terms as a member of the municipal council.

He married Annie Johnson, sister of Mrs. Lyman Dougherty, and to them three daughters and four sons were born, all in Stouffville: (Maud) Mrs. W. Haystead; (Nellie) Mrs. W. Harris; (Greta) Mrs. W. Elliott, also George W.; Charles, Stanley and Clarence M., the latter being in the R.C.A.F.

Mr. Kemp died in 1916 and was laid to rest in the family plot here, so once again the family gathered at the sacred spot to lay away a father. Six of the seven sons and daughters were present, the absent one being the son overseas.

Newlyweds to Farm in Whitchurch Twp.

Gormley Mennonite Church decked with delphiniums, white lilies and roses, made a lovely setting for the wedding of Olive Frances Farmer and Mr. Andrew Martin Hutchinson on Saturday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Farmer, Gormley, and the groom is a son of Mrs. Hutchinson and the late Martin Hutchinson of Whitchurch.

Given-in marriage by her father the bride was gowned in white sheer organdy with headress of the same material. She wore a shoulder veil and carried red roses.

The bride's only sister Betty was bridesmaid. She wore light blue sheer and head dress of matching flowers caught with veiling. She carried pink roses.

The best man was Mr. Elgin Hastings with Mr. Frank Harvey and Keith Hutchinson as ushers. Miss Helen Dener was soloist.

For the reception afterwards Mrs.

Farmer, mother of the bride, wore navy blue, her corsage was red roses, while Mrs. Hutchinson, mother of the groom was also in navy with white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

The couple left for Muskoka on their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a white Jersey two-piece ensemble, with matching accessories and mink furs. Her top coat was navy blue. They will take up residence on the 6th concession of Whitchurch.
