Pranksters Cause Great Trouble both to Themselves and Others

It's dangerous to allow anybody to stop Halloween pranks with a loaded shotgun," commented Magistrate McIlveen in the case of Gordon Kent, 17, charged with inflicting bodily harm by discharging a shotgun at three persons. The case was remanded till today for judgment.

Jack Harper, 23, Harry Bartlett, 16, and Harvey Cox, 21 testified to being among a group of 18 boys who entered the Kent premises at Unionville.

"Gordon Kent shone a flashlight on us and then a shotgun sounded," said Harper. "I heard Harvey say: 'I've been hit,' and we climbed back over the fence. Another shot sounded as we reached the other side."

Bartlett said only six or seven of the group got into the Kent property before the first shot. He admitted the boys had bothered the Kents previously on the same night.

"I joined the fellows for the fun," Jack McCarty, 36, said. "It was Gordon Kent who fired the shot. I went up to the house and disarmed him."

Kent admitted firing two shots. He testified the youths had been throwing stones and rotten eggs and he and his mother were alone, his father having gone to get some police protection. He said he was worried that something would happen to the Kent horses and bee hives.

"I got a shotgun and two shells," he added. "I thought I would scare them with a couple of shots in the air." He said he shone the flashlight out the door but saw nobody. Evidence showed a wall of asparagus stood between the boys who were hit and the shotgun.

"As I fired the first shot my foot slipped on a framework lying on the ground which threw the gun down," said Kent. He said he had no knowledge anybody had been hit because there

Cabbage Market Is Very Poor

While there are hundreds of tons of cabbage still unsold in this district, the market is as dead as the proverbial door knob. Practically all the cabbage moving out last week was a few tons taken by Mr. Walter Brillinger, wholesale grower and dealer, to round out his commitments for the week. However, it is hoped there will be a cabbage market in a few weeks. In the meantime farmers have been forced to go to end of work to put their supplies in pits, and as one grower says, "who knows what kind of a pit to construct with the weather uncertainties."

Fourteen Hunters Down 14 Deer

Outstanding success attended the Stouffville-Sutton-Mt. Albert Hunt Club this season, since the 14 men in camp came home with 14 deer, including 8 bucks, 4 does, and 2 fawns. They had their ruit allotment two days before camp broke up. In one day the boys felled four deer and celebrated the event with a big roast turkey dinner that evening. Their cook Ralph Flint made dressing and all the trimmings, and the boys left nothing of the 14 pound fowl. Those in the party included Frank, Vincent and Arthur Baker, Sam and Christie Armstrong, Ralph Flint, Frank Culverwell, Freddie Wilmot, Reg. Sedore, Frank Burrows, Geo. Holborne, Stanley Cook, Percy Reid, Fred Epps.

Chris. Armstrong was the first man to shoot a deer in this party, but he also brought home a cracked rib inflicted in some manner in the bush.

Sergt. Wm. Whittleton is home from Vancouver Island for two weeks. He goes on to Halifax from here.

Of course nobody can tell about an election, but our guess is that Uxbridge Township will see an acclamation for 1945, and we say this because it seems to be general opinion that the present council should sit as they are now for another term at least.

First snow flurries came quite heavy Monday morning.

A Memorial Service will be held in Goodwood Baptist Church on Sunday, Nov. 26th at 4 p.m. for James Faulkner.

The death of Calvin Stafford in his 92nd year removes one of our very oldest residents. His passing was peaceful and very much as he would have wished it. An obituary notice is elsewhere in this issue.

We hope the editor of The Tribune won't blame it on our tea, or the fact that he left the big supper on Friday evening admitted "full," as the reason why his car ran into the ditch over here immediately after he and his party from Stouffville left the church. Glad no one was hurt, and that the unpleasant incident didn't prevent the pencil pusher from praising what he said was one excellent supper and despite the enormous crowd, there was more than enough. From Stouffville we also noticed Mr. and Mrs. H. Spofford, Mrs. D. Watson and Miss Myrtle, Mrs. B. Birkett, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds, the Woodlands, and still others. Everybody enjoyed that concert and play by our young people. A filled church greeted this performance too.
