It is hinted in a report in Ottawa that changed conditions may bring a number of orderly transfers of men and women from work presently connected with war undertakings to peacetime enterprises, though there is a stern warning that these changes will not be made in the coming weeks or months in any quick or sudden moves but in rather slow or careful actions as the nation's economy is gradually transferred to a peacetime basis from a wartime foundation.

EIGHTY-FOUR YEARS IN SAME HOUSE J. B. WILSON REACHES GREAT AGE

One of the best known spots in Pickering Township is Wilson's Park on the highway where stands the fine old home that was built there nearly a century ago. J. B. Wilson, who still lives there celebrated his 84th birthday on Saturday, May 26, and an interesting fact about him is that he was born in the very place where he now lies an invalid. Mr. Wilson could tell a fascinating story about the changes in his district that have come about since he was a small boy, and the road to Toronto was rough and hard going.

ering, also four daughters Mrs. Barfoot, Mrs. MacLeod, Mrs. Draper, and Miss Margo Wilson, the latter two living at home with the father.

Federal Election June 11th

Vote for Sinclair

TO THE ELECTORS OF ONTARIO RIDING

Realizing that prosperity for farmers is essential for the prosperity of all other classes, the Federal Government has made plans for the improvements of agricultural conditions and the opportunity for greater returns in the industry. Seeing the necessity of a greater market for farm products the Government has set as its goal a sixty per cent increase in Canada's export trade. This will ensure markets for surplus farm products at more favourable prices. To protect the exporters the Government has passed the Export Credit Insurance Act to do two things (1) to insure exporters against loss and (2) to make loans to foreign Governments to enable them to buy.

In addition the Government has extended many of the contracts for the export of farm commodities for periods after the war, which will maintain markets at good prices. To protect farmers and to maintain prices for them the Government has provided floor prices for their products. Further provision has been made for loans with low interest rates for building and re-modelling farm homes and for improvement and development of farms with the Agricultural Prices Support Act of 1944 in force the prosperity of the farmers is secured after the war, under the management of the Agricultural Prices Support Board. By the removal of import duties and war exchange taxes from farm implements and repairs, twine and cream separators a saving to purchasers of these articles has been secured.

Thus the Government has aided the farmers and will aid them when returned to power. A completed programme is worked out for the reconstruction years that lie ahead. The Liberal Government which has handled our affairs during the war years, is the only Government capable of continuing and carrying out the plans now made. The C.C.F. Socialists should not be given a chance to upset all the plans now made. Mr. Bracken with his inexperience in Federal matters should not be considered. A continuation of prosperity and well being for all can only be secured by the return to office on June 11th of the Government which has so well managed affairs during the war for the farmers as well as all other classes in the country.
